is Sent Out From Chlengo to Different States- Le rislation Needed to Prevent Oleomargarine Being Forced on the Traveling Public at Hotels, Etc.

Albany, Jan. 7 .- Deputy Commission-Flanders, of the state department of agriculture, who introduced at the national farmers' congress in Texas two resolutions favoring the passage of a national law providing that no dairy or food products should be falsely branded as to the state in which they are made, today made the following statement rotative to the necessity for such legislation:

Our attention has been called to the fact that certain cheese sent out from the city of Chicago to different states bearing the New York state full crean brand were not manufactured in New York state, and in some in stances were cheese of inferior quality If this is allowed to continue the full cheese industry in the state of New York will be ruined and the con-suming public defrauded. This law should be a national law, on account of the interstate commerce question that will always arise in these cases.

'Another law that should be passed by the national government is a law provi ing that whenever dairy or food prod icts are shipped from one state to another in the original importer's package they should, upon entry into the state, immediately become subject to the state laws, icrespective of the form n which they are put up. They would thus be on an equal footing with like als manufactured within the state This law would have a tendency to stop the sale in original packages of oleomargarine in certain states of the Union where it could not be sold if it were not so done up. These sales per-mit placing the goods where they can be used in hotels and restaurants, so that the traveling consuming put may be to a great extent forced to eat margarine whether they desire it or not.

"If congress would pass such an ac it would be simply placing in the hands of the state the right to legislate for its own people upon the purity of its dairy and food products. There are those who advocate the idea of taxing yellow oleomargarine ten cents per pound This is not a wise move, because in the first place oleomargarine is colored fo the sole purpose of making it a counter feit of butter and thus deceive the con suming public. In thus taxing it the national government would legitimatize that fraud by recognizing it as an article of commerce. This would very much interfere in successfully stopping the sale of these goods."

Washington, Jan. 7 .- The correspond-ence published officially in connection lem presented is most grave. It ad-Washington, Jan. 7 .- The correspondwith the peace treaty contains much of interest from Consul Williams, who was stationed at Manila prior to the war. He was in constant communication with Aguinaido for some time after the battle of Manila bay, and his letters throw much light upon the re-lations with the Philippine chieftain. As early as Feb. 22 last Mr. Williams

"The governor general, who is amiable and popular, having resigned, wishes credit for pacification, and certain rebel leaders were given a cash brille of $1,650,000 to consent to public deportation to China. This bribe and deportation," he adds, "only multiplied claimants and fanned the fires of discontent." On March 19 hs complained that letters and telegrams were tampered with, and he then found it nee sary to keep open house constantly for benefit of American citizens there He dwells at this time much on the movement of the natives, showing the disloyalty of the native troops to Spain and the growth of the rebellion, and he also relates many atrocities on the part of the Spaniards. One of these oc curred on March 25, when a meeting of natives was broken up by fore many being wantonly shot to death and 62 taken prisoners. The next day the 62 prisoners were marched in a body to the cemetery and shot down in a body. Many of these, Mr. Williams adds, were not participants in the meet-ing. He also adds that such horrors though on a smaller scale, were of almost daily occurrence. He also reports that several hundred native prison were disposed of by being placed in low dungeons in the city walls, where they were drowned by the rise of tides Mr. Williams left Manila on April 23 He was a witness of Dewey's victory, and on May 12 resumed his reports from Cavite. "Aguinaldo told me today," he writes on June 16. "that his friends all hoped that the Philippines would be held as a colony of the Uni-ted States." This was only four days after the first formation of a provincial government by the natives.

On Aug. 4 he wrote: "It has been my study to keep on pleasant terms with Aguinaldo for ultimate objects. Admiral Dewey says I have planted the seeds of cordial co-operation." On Sept. 5 Mr. Williams cabled: "Today delegations from 4,000 Visayan soldiers, also representing southern bust ness interests, came to me pledging loyalty to annexation. Several insurgent leaders likewise. Spain cannot control. If we evacuate anarchy rules.

On July 18 Consul Wlidman wrote to the secretary of state expressing his views on the then reported policy of the United States government to allow the Philippine Islands to return to Spain. Among other things he said "I consider the 40 or 50 Philippine leaders with whose fortunes I have been very closely connected to be the superiors of the Malayas and the Cu-bans. Aguinaldo, Agonellio and Sandico are all men who would be leaders in their separate departments in any country, while among the wealthy Manila men who live in Hong Kong. and who are spending their money lib erally for the overthrow of the Span lards and annexation to the United States, men like the Cortez family and the Paza family would hold their own among bankers and lawyers anywhere In spite of statements to the contrary I know they are fighting for annexa-tion to the United States first, and for 6 ndependence secondly. In fact I have had the most prominent leaders call on me and say they would not raise one finger unless I could assure them that the United States Intended to give them United States citizenship if they wished It. There has been a systematic at-tempt to blacken the name of Aguinaldo and his cabinet on account of the questionable terms of their surrender to Spanish forces a year ago this month. It has been said that they sold their country for gold, but this has been conclusively disproved."

Mr. Wildman says that on the break-ing out of the war he received a delegation from the insurgent junta and they bound themselves to obey all laws of civilized warfare and to place them-Admiral Dewey if they were permitted to return to Manila.

He says that on April 27, after an-other conference, he agreed, on behalf of Dewey, to allow two of the insurgent delegations to accompany the fleet b Manila, he going with them. It was only later that he prevailed on Ad-miral Dewey to allow Aguinaldo to go. Referring to Aguinaldo's organization of a government he says it was an ab solutely necessary step to maintair control of the natives.

In conclusion Mr. Wildman says: "I wish to put myself on record as stating that the insurgent government of the Philippine Islands cannot be dealt with reservation to another at the whim of their masters. If the United States decides not to retain the Philippine Islands its 10.000.000 people will demand independence, and the attempt of any foreign nation to obtain territory or coaling stations will be resisted with the same spirit with which they fought the Spanlards."

Included in General Merritt's testimony was a statement from Admira Dewey in which he speaks of the natives of Luzon as gentile and docils, and says of them that "under just laws and with the benefits of popular edu cation they would make good citizens. He adds that they are more intelligent and better capable of self government than the Cubans.

On July 23 Aguinaldo wrote to General Anderson, saying that he had come from Hong Kong to make common cause with the Americans against the Spanlards, but asking that the American troops should commun in writing to him before disembarking
