QUAY FALLS SHORT.

He Needs Thirteen Votes to Secure His Re-election.

Special to EVENING HERALD.
Harrisburg, Jan. 24.—Contrary to expectations in certain quarters, the looked for break in the Senatorial contest did not materialize at the joint session at noon today. It had been given out on Sunday that Senator Quay's friends would make a supreme effort to break the deadlock, but the result of the vote shows that these rumors were either idle gossip or else the friends of Senator Quay had deferred their onslaught until some future time.

The vote to-day resulted as follows, with a number absent:

	Today's Vote	Yesterday's Vote
Quay	105	65
Jenks	80	49
Dalzell	15	11
Irwin	3	3
Stewart	3	3
Hoff	3	3
C. W. Stone	3	3
Smith	1	1
Hubbs	1	1
Rice	2	2
Grow	1	1
Markle	2	1
Dowling	1	1
Welding	1	1
Hall	1	1
Total	208	150

There were twelve members paired and two absent without pairs. Senator Quay is thirteen short of an election, and the anti-Quayites polled their full strength, 35 votes. The two members from Philadelphia continued to vote for P. A. B. Waldener, and Senator Snyder, of Luzerne, also held on to Mr. Markle as his favorite, notwithstanding Quay enemies were in Halleat and induced a number of prominent Republicans to telegraph Senator Snyder requesting him to change his vote to Quay.

A BREAK EXPECTED.

That a break in the deadlock is expected soon seems apparent from the expressions of the leaders of both sides. Senator Quay has not yet arrived here, but the hurried departure of Chairman John P. Elkin for Washington at midnight is looked upon as significant. Just before his departure he remarked that the deadlock would be broken by Thursday.

AMONG THE DEMOCRATS.

It is well known that the Quay people are endeavoring to effect a break in the Democratic column, with the hope that a sufficient number will go to Quay to cause his election. The anti-Quay Democrats have called upon Congressmen and Congressmen-elect of their party to come to Harrisburg to stiffen up the backbones of the Democratic legislators. It is their opinion that some of the Democrats are the least bit too friendly with Mr. Quay. Candidate Jenks is urging his party members to stand by him to the finish or else fuse with the anti-Quay Republicans.

BETTING AGAINST QUAY.

The first bet of any magnitude on the outcome of the Senatorial struggle was made at the Commonwealth Hotel last evening. The bettors were former Senator Kaufman, representing the anti-Quay faction, and a Philadelphia, acting for the Quay men. At first it was suggested that the bet be $200 a side. Mr. Kaufman then offered to make the bet $500, and the Philadelphia man proposed raising the bet to $5000. The Lancaster cousin demurred but finally accepted. He wagered that Quay could not succeed himself.

The Quayites are somewhat worried over the illness of Senator Grady, the Quay leader in the Senate, and he may not be able to leave Philadelphia this week.

SENATORIAL RESOLUTION.

Senator S. A. Lynch, of Schuylkill, the anti-Quay member who has been voting for the senator Quay, gives out the following interview: "My course in the pending Senatorial contest has been entirely consistent with the principles of the Republican party. I did not attend the caucus which nominated Senator Quay because I was opposed to an early caucus. But when I learned that two-thirds of the Republican members of the Legislature participated in the caucus and unanimously agreed to support Senator Quay, I felt that I would be severing all the ties which bind me to my party, were I not to accept Senator Quay as my candidate. I have always been a Republican and believe that the majority should rule. In 1883, when I was a member of the House, I voted for John Dalzell for the United States Senate in the caucus, and when Senator Quay received the votes of the majority, I supported him when the official ballot was taken. In 1891 I represented my district in the Senate and voted for Mr. Wanamaker in the caucus for United States Senator, but when Senator Penrose was chosen by the majority of the Republicans, I acquiesced and gave him my vote in the Senate. So far as Senator Macee is concerned, he and I have been personal and political friends for a quarter of a century. I regard him as one of the most stalwart Republicans in the state and I am glad to look upon him as my friend. My course has not been dictated by Senator Macee in this matter or any one else. I simply followed my own judgment.

"THE EXTRA CAUCUS.

A statement by the anti-Quay steering committee vigorously protests against the unwarranted and unusual attempted interference of the chief executive of our state with the members of the legislature for the purpose of influencing their votes for the election of M. S. Quay as a senator in the next session. We regard the open letter of Governor Stone as an improper interference by the executive branch of the government with the rights and duties of the legislative department of the commonwealth. The statement proceeds at length to declare that Senator Quay has used every means to prevent a trial of the conspiracy charges against him.

Senator Penrose arrived from Washington yesterday afternoon and joined the friends of Senator Quay at their headquarters. He said: "I left Senator Quay at Washington today in excellent spirits. He is busily engaged in appropriations committee work in matters requiring his personal attention. He may or may not be here this week. His friends have advised him that there is no necessity at this time for his presence here as the condition of the canvass is in excellent shape, and matters are being attended to by his friends satisfactorily. I have no reason to change my opinion that Senator Quay will be re-elected at the proper time."

Big Fire at Wilkes-Barre.

Special to EVENING HERALD.
Wilkes-Barre, Jan. 24.—Fire started this morning in the Coal Exchange Building, and the entire fire department was called out. The flames spread rapidly and extended to the Lohmar restaurant on Market street. The fire was gotten under control at noon. The loss is heavy.

CITIZENS PRIMARIES!

The arrangements for them completed last night.

ALL THE TICKETS ARE FILLED!

Candidates for Council and School Board will be run in all the wards except the first—four candidates for High Constable.

The tickets to be voted for at the primaries of the Citizens party of town next Thursday were completed last night. When the Standing Committee met on Saturday night it looked very much as if the party would have no ticket in one or two of the wards. Last night the committee again met to fill vacancies on the tickets and completed all of them. The meeting was attended by the following committeemen: Messrs. William Patterson, Thomas Dove, Jr., George W. Keiper and William M. Cannon.

Several people had interested themselves during the day in selecting material for the vacancies, and when the time for the committee to act arrived little difficulty was experienced in making up full tickets. In fact there were as many as four names presented for some of the vacancies. The committeemen were highly gratified with the result of the evening's work and feel confident that they have several winners on the list.

The old rules as to the make up of the tickets will remain in force this year. All the tickets will be printed and distributed under the supervision of the committee. Candidates having opposition will be supplied in time for a canvass before the primaries open and a supply will be left with the officers of each primary for the accommodation of voters.

The list of candidates for the borough and respective wards is as follows:

BOROUGH TICKETS.

HIGH CONSTABLE—Thomas Ramsler, John D. Hughes, Morgan Hopkins and John Mathews.

BOROUGH AUDITOR—W. J. Watkins.

WARD TICKETS.

FIRST WARD—Inspector Robert Anderson, Standing Committee—Robert Hughes. SECOND WARD—Council—John P. Boehm, School Director—Harry E. Keiper, Constable—Harvey L. Jacoby, Edward Kester and Talmage Phillips, Judge of Election—D. H. Llewellyn, Inspector of Election—Charles Derr, Standing Committee—D. Brooks Knolly.

THIRD WARD—Council—William Naisetter, School Director—George Holvey, Constable—Thomas Toth, Judge of Election—Harry Reese, Inspector of Election—James O. Sampson, Standing Committee—Thomas Dove, Jr.

FOURTH WARD—Council—John Fishburn, Joseph Baxter, James J. Lase, Judge of Election—George Knott, Jr., Inspector of Election—Michael Gurilla, Standing Committee—Wm. M. Cannon.

POLITICAL POINTS.

The spring election is just four weeks off. The Philadelphia Inquirer says Editor Zerby is sadly in need of a life-preserver, because of the Senatorial contest.

It is said Lin Bowman, Esq., will be the next postmaster at Schuylkill Haven.

The citizens primaries will be held on Thursday afternoon. There are very few contests to leave any bad feeling afterwards. This is well.

The Democratic party is badly divided. About the only wards in which there is a semblance of harmony is the First and Third.

Benjamin E. Severn, who had announced himself as a candidate for School Director in the Second ward, subject to the Citizens party rule, is decided to withdraw from the contest. Mr. Severn takes this step in the interest of party harmony and in the suggestion of several of his personal friends. School Director Keiper will therefore be re-nominated without opposition, and his election in February is assured.

The Second and Third wards, with the smallest Democratic vote in the town, practically dictated the Democratic ticket. That was hardly fair to the candidates from the Fourth and Fifth wards.

The only contests for nominations in the Citizens ranks is in the Fourth and Fifth wards.

One thing is sure. The Democrats cannot make their contest this year on reform lines. Their record is against them.

The use of voting machines was approved yesterday by the House Committee on the election of President and Vice President.

The Socialists are preparing to place tickets in the field in the five wards. Three party tickets will make things interesting.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Young Man Returning From a Social Event the Victim.

John Carroll, aged 29 years and son of William and Mary A. Carroll, of Rappahannock, was killed early this morning on the P. & R. Railway, near the Hammond colliery shaft.

The victim was discovered on the track by the crew of the passenger train that left this town at 3:25 a. m. Carroll was terribly mangled, but still alive when picked up. He expired half an hour later. The young man attended a supper at Girardville last night and was struck by a train while on his way home. He was a highly respected young man of strictly temperate habits and his family and friends are at a loss to account for the accident. Undertaker O'Neill, of town, took charge of the remains. Carroll was a nephew of Fred. H. Hopkins, Sr., a former resident of town now located at Mahanoy City and employed as a motorman on the Schuylkill Traction Company's line between Mahanoy City and Girardville.

SAMPSON AND SCHLEY

Their Promotion Discussed in Senate's Executive Session.

SENATORS CALL FOR THE RECORD

Maryland Admirals of Schley Denounce the Preference Shown Sampson Over Schley. While Others Declare Commodore Watson Unfairly Treated.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The executive session of the senate yesterday was devoted wholly to the discussion of the promotion of Admirals Sampson and Schley and other naval officers engaged in the Santiago campaign over the heads of officers who were their superiors in rank. The controversy was then postponed for 20 days, after a vote had been taken to call for the records of the navy department bearing upon the conduct of all affected by the advancement.

The discussion arose over the resolution, of which Senator Butler was the author, calling for these documents. An originally offered it asked for the reasons for the advancement, but the resolution was modified so as to request the record only. The first vote was on a motion made by Senator Hale to lay the resolution on the table, and on this the yeas and nays were taken, resulting in 17 yeas to 35 nays. The resolution was then allowed to pass without further division.

For three hours previous to this, however, the senate had been engaged in a very animated verbal battle, which involved many intricacies and was participated in by a large number of senators. The main contests were first over the general policy of promoting these officers over others who were charged as being as deserving though less fortunate. In that they were deprived of such active participation in the war, and second as to the relative merits of Sampson and Schley.

Senators Gorman and Wellington, of Maryland, one a Republican and the other a Democrat, united in a florid attack upon the navy department for favoring Sampson over Schley. While Senators Lindsay, Pettigrew, Perkins and Money attacked the whole system of promotion as "a species of favoritism which was not warranted by the facts." The method of the administration was defended by Messrs. Hale, Chandler and Lodge. Senator Wellington was especially zealous in his advocacy of the claims of Admiral Schley, and in his presentation of reasons why Admiral Sampson should not be preferred over him, and both he and his Democratic colleague, Mr. Gorman, made the statement that if the official papers were ordered they would demonstrate beyond a possible question the fact that Schley, and not Sampson, fought the battle of Santiago. They contended that with Sampson ten miles away he could not be accredited so constructively with having command of the fleet on the memorable day when the Spanish vessels were sent to the bottom. On the contrary they held that Schley was on the ground; he was the senior officer, and that he was engaged actively and most effectively in the conflict all the world knew, regardless of the favors of the government at Washington.

Senator Lindsay found much in the promotion of both Schley and Sampson over Commodore Watson, to condemn. He took occasion to praise Watson as a man who would undoubtedly have made a fine record in the war if given the opportunity he should have had as a senior officer, and said that to deprive him of his rightful rank because the other men were preferred to him was an unjust and unbecoming act in the eyes of the world. He also criticized the system as one liable to result in unfairness.

Senators Hale and Chandler, both members of the naval committee, defended the action of the navy department in giving preference to the men who took upon themselves the brunt of the battle in Atlantic waters, and in preferring the man who was in command of the fleet. They deprecated the opening up of a controversy, which Senator Chandler said might lead to a condition which might prove as unfavorable as that which the war investigating commission has developed in connection with the army beef contracts. Senator Lodge joined in exploring this policy, and owing to the fact that he had but recently, in the interest of private research, made an exhaustive investigation he was enabled to throw much light upon the controversy on behalf of the contention that the controversy should not be stirred.

During the presentation of this side much was said in upholding the claims of Sampson in preference to those of Schley, and the friends of the latter officer were warned that if they insisted upon pressing the investigation too closely some facts would be developed that would not be agreeable to them." The charge was made that Schley had voluntarily left Santiago after reaching the vicinity of that port and after Cervera had entered the harbor, and also the charge that when the Spanish fleet had sailed out through the narrow mouth of the channel Admiral (then commodore) Schley had made a reverse movement with the Brooklyn and had gone in a direction opposite to that taken by the Spanish Squadron, instead of boldly attacking the enemy in the beginning. It was asserted that these facts were among those which the archives would reveal.

The friends of Admiral Schley declared they had nothing to fear from having all the facts known. Explaining his start to leave Santiago and his refusal to obey department orders before Sampson's arrival, they said that it was because he had been unable to coal at sea. When they were asked how it had happened that they had been able to coal 36 hours afterward they replied that this was due to the fact that a storm had given place to a calm.
