QUAY STILL SHORT.

No Results Were Expected and Some Happened To-day.

Special to EVENING HERALD. Harrisburg, Jan. 26.—The eighth ballot in the Senatorial contest was taken to-day, and no results were expected.

Table with 3 columns: Name, Today's Vote, Yesterday's Vote. Total: 222, 234.

Twenty members were absent and paired. Senator Higgins, of Schuylkill, who is confined to the hospital here, has secured a pair with a Quay supporter.

Representative Anderson, who is looked upon as one of Schuylkill's leading local advocates, has introduced a bill providing for the care and attention of employes injured in and about the anthracite mines.

The Quays people just now seem more interested in the passage of the McCullum bill, taking away from District Attorneys power to stand aside, rather than they are in the Senatorial contest.

Representative Anderson, who is looked upon as one of Schuylkill's leading local advocates, has introduced a bill providing for the care and attention of employes injured in and about the anthracite mines.

Representative O'Brien asks for an appropriation of $50,000 for the Pottsville hospital. Ex-Governor Hastings is hampered in a bill from Seal, of Dauphin, to appropriate to James Russ, proprietor of the Commonwealth Hotel, $50,000 for catering to the legislators of 1897 on their trip to the Grant Monument dedication in New York.

A measure of general interest is that introduced last evening, providing for the increase in the number of constables so that there shall be one elected in every voting district in a township.

CUBANS DENY CHARGES!

No Organized Band to Destroy the Sugar Cane.

INSURGENTS WORK FAITHFULLY

According to the Statements of Guantamo's Mayor and Some Planters, While Others Uphold the Statements of Lieutenant Colonel Ray.

Guantanamo, Cuba, Jan. 25.—The Cuban general, Pedro Perez, mayor of Guantanamo, denies absolutely the charges recently brought by Lieutenant Colonel Ray and others against the insurgents in this district—particularly the charges of incendiarism and brigandage.

"I am convinced that there is no band organized to burn the sugar cane, and I know that there is not an insurgent camp in the entire district under my supervision as a Cuban commander."

Among the planters opinions are about equally divided. Three whose plantations are in the immediate vicinity of Guantanamo assured the correspondents that they had had no trouble, and did not believe any one could do so.

Soledad plantation, which employs 400 ex-insurgents, has begun grinding, and Ernest Brooks, manager and part owner, denies that there has been any unusual activity at this time of the year for cane to burn, as an accident might set it on fire.

The United States soldiers who are guarding the plantations are equally divided in opinion as to this matter, some of them saying that they are always expecting trouble, while others can see no necessity for guarding the plantations.

FIVE MASKED MEN.

The Hazzledine Home in the Valley Entered by Them.

John Hazzledine, an aged farmer residing in the Catskill Valley, near the bottom of the Locust Mountain slope, and in a line almost directly north of this town.

Mrs. Hazzledine and her daughter were seated and reading at a table in the kitchen of their home, the booted door was suddenly forced open and five masked men rushed into the apartment.

"I am convinced that there is no band organized to burn the sugar cane, and I know that there is not an insurgent camp in the entire district under my supervision as a Cuban commander."

Meanwhile the three other robbers were standing guard over the women. Mrs. Hazzledine attempted to release her hands and was struck in the face with the handle of a revolver.

Satisfying themselves that the three victims were securely bound, and that no attempt would be made to give an alarm, the robbers proceeded to ransack the house from garret to cellar.

Mrs. Hazzledine says she got a good look at the robber from whose face she pulled the mask, and will know him should an opportunity for recognition present itself.

INQUEST VERDICT!

Investigation on Michael Brenza's Death Concluded Last Night.

JURY MAKES THREE CENSURES!

One Based on the Law Requiring That Timber Shall be Cut For and Carried to the Miners—The Other Refers to Safety.

The inquest in the case of Michael Brenza, who was killed at Packer No. 3 colliery about three weeks ago by falling down a manway, was continued and concluded last night by Deputy Coroner Burke and a jury.

The case has occasioned more than ordinary interest on account of the issues which arose between the Deputy Coroner and the Mine Inspector. The latter refused to order an inquest, on the ground that he had made an investigation and found that an inquest was not necessary and would only put needless expense upon the county.

The jury in the case were Messrs. J. J. Cardin, Thomas E. Reilly, Anthony Onaschuck, Hugh Devers, Frank Folmer and Thomas Mollaly. Anthony Sinta was a recalled witness last night. He testified that he was the botchy of the victims and worked with him on the day of the accident.

Witness called for help, lit his lamp, went down the manway and found Brenza's dead body about 240 feet below. At a previous sitting the witness testified that the boss had given him the mouth of the manway and made the covering of ice. He testified that he had seen the Mine Inspector at the place.
