SAD ACCIDENTS RECALLED

Valuable Found in a Railroad Wreck Returned to Relatives.

County Physician Lord, of Somerset county, New Jersey, is traveling through this region on a pathetic mission. After the Lehigh Valley Railroad wreck at Dunellen, N. J., and the victims were removed, the railway officials caused a search to be made in the debris and cars for personal effects of the passengers. Many valuables were found and Mr. Lord became official custodian of them. He is now visiting the families of the respective victims in this region and returning the valuables. He was in town yesterday and called upon the families of Mrs. May Parrish and Patrick O'Donnell, who were killed in the wreck. He left town last evening for Mt. Carmel and Shamokin.

HOLDING THEIR MEN!

Both Sides Keep Their Followers Well in Line.

QUAY NEEDED THIRTEEN TO-DAY.

The Knowing Ones Say a Break Will be Made Soon, Probably To-morrow or Tuesday—But This is the Same Old Story.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

Harrisburg, Jan. 27.—Apart from the determination of the anti-Quay men to go into Lebanon county and make a fight for the election of a man of their own as the successor to General Gobin as Senator, nothing more than the usual confident attitude of the opposing leaders was developed this morning. Contrary to the general belief of the Judiciary General Committee failed to act upon the bill usually known as the McCarrell bill. The bill has passed the Senate on second reading, but will meet with much opposition in the House, with the Democrats as usual holding the balance of power. There is no doubt that the majority of the members of that party have no objections to the bill, but the question with them is one of political expediency. It was rumored to-day that the bill would be withdrawn or amended so as to not apply to pending indictments, and thus make a grand-stand play.

DEMOCRATIC MEMBER DEAD.

Harry Manning, a member of the House from Cumberland county, died here to-day from pneumonia. His home is at Newcastle. Mr. Manning was one of the two Democratic members from that county and supported Jenks in the Senatorial contest. His death was unexpected.

The committee appointed by the Democratic caucus to inquire into Gen. Gobin's eligibility to preside reported that, after a cursory examination, that they had arrived at the conclusion that he has no right to preside over the joint convention.

MANY ABSENT TO-DAY.

When to-day's joint ballot was announced it was found that eighty members were paired and absent. The result was as follows:

| Today's Yesterday's | Vote. | Vote. |
|---------------------|-------|-------|
| Quay.....           | 71    | 103   |
| Jenks.....          | 25    | 81    |
| Dabell.....         | 18    | 15    |
| C. W. Stone.....    | 7     | 7     |
| Stewart.....        | 6     | 6     |
| Huff.....           | 6     | 6     |
| Scattering.....     | 12    | 14    |
| Total.....          | 171   | 207   |

Senator Quay's name was again connected with that hoodlum number, he having just thirteen votes short of enough to secure his election. The indications are that the House will find itself to-morrow without a quorum, if all those members who express a desire to go to their homes avail themselves of the opportunity.

Senator Flinn last night stated that anti-Quay Republicans would offer rewards aggregating $10,000 for proofs of corruption, actual or attempted, to influence members of the Legislature for or against any proposed legislation. This morning public announcement was made to that effect in the shape of flaming posters.

There is a good deal of local politics in the bill to appoint an additional judge in counties of over 100,000 population. It would apply to Schuylkill and create a court between the Justices and the Common Pleas.

Miss Inspector Williams, of Wilkesbarre, is a candidate to succeed Mr. Brownlee as Chief of the Mining Bureau. When his friends called on Governor Stone, they met with little satisfaction. There isn't a member from that county voting for Senator. It is said the appointment will go to the bituminous region again. Miss Inspector Stein, of Schuylkill, is not a candidate.

SOMETHING GOING ON.
There is a growing suspicion that Senator Quay's friends are meditating some coup that will work to his advantage before many hours, although they deny that there is any practical change in the situation. "Things remain just as they were," said Mr. Durham this morning, and this was the vague character of the information vouchsafed by others of the Lehigh coterie. But there is obviously increased activity and energy among them, and apparently increased confidence in their ultimate victory.

The anti-Quayites are puzzled as to what is going on, and are trying hard to find out. Senator Martin this morning admitted that he was entirely in the dark as to the mysterious operation radiating from the Lehigh, but it was his opinion that "something was going on."

"We haven't been idle ourselves, however," he said, "and we think we are a match for the other side and thoroughly able to meet and counteract every trick that they attempt."

One rumor is to the effect that the Quay managers threaten to attack certain anti-Quay members and leaders, sustained by affidavits and court records, and that a few will fall next Tuesday; another is that the Quay men paired with Democrats and "ants" will take advantage of the absence of the latter and elect the "old man." These are mere rumors; however, there is something in the wind, and a "coup" from either side may be expected at any time.

Ralph W. Schertzinger, of Mahanoy City, and Miss Mary C. Knobler, of Easton, were married at the residence of the bride's mother in the latter town on the 25th inst.

William Thomas and Miss Salina Thomas, both of Mahanoy City, were married last evening by Rev. Lloyd Roberts, pastor of the Welsh Congregational church of that town.

John Thomas, brother of the bridegroom, was the groomsmen, and Miss (twelve) Williams the bridesmaid. Seventy-five guests were present.

AN APPEAL.

The Rescue Hook and Ladder Company Asks Publicly For Aid.

To the People of Shenandoah:
We, the members of the Rescue Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, of the borough of Shenandoah, take this means of addressing the citizens to state our grievance. The truth is we are going in debt by keeping our chemical engine in use. We have asked the Borough Council on various occasions to increase our appropriation, but it refuses to do so.

We will therefore be compelled to sell one of our teams of horses and put the chemical engine into disuse. This is a sad state of affairs, but we cannot help it. Every thinking citizen knows the value of this engine in case of fire, and must acknowledge that our action is a step backward, and one that need not occur if Councilmen would only heed our appeal.

We have too soon forgotten the heartless of November 12, 1888, when a million dollars' worth of property was swept away in a few hours. The price of one of those buildings would supply our engine in chemicals for a lifetime. The plain question therefore presents itself, do our citizens intend to erect properties for the flames or do they intend to protect them from the fiery demon? We have the apparatus for defense, but we have not the encouragement for its use.

We make this plain announcement so that property owners can consult with the different Councilmen in their wards in regard to this important matter. We are unable to continue a team and a driver and chemicals unless our borough fathers offer assistance at their next meeting. As we said before, we will be compelled to set the engine aside and dispose of the team.

Thus submitting the matter to our citizens publicly we shall subscribe ourselves,
MEMBERS H. & L. COMPANY.

[Extract From Company's Minutes, Jan. 27, 1899.]
On motion that the Rescue Hook and Ladder Company's chemical engine be stood aside and the team of horses offered for sale on February 1, 1899. Carried.

GEORGE HOLVEY, President,
Attest—M. G. WURM,
Recording Secretary.

GENERAL GOBIN EXPLAINS.

He Is Not Drawing Pay as a Brigadier General of Volunteers.

Harrisburg, Jan. 27.—The appointment of a committee by the caucus of Democratic senators and members to inquire into General Gobin's right to preside at the joint assembly of the senate and house has excited much interest among the legislators and politicians at the state capital. General Gobin claims the office of brigadier general of volunteers is not incompatible with that of lieutenant governor. In an interview he said:

"The question of what constitutes an office in the contemplation of the constitution has been under consideration for some time. That section in our own state provides that no member of congress or person holding any office in the United States shall exercise the office of governor or lieutenant governor." It has been held that framers of the constitution had not in contemplation a prohibition as to officers commissioned in a volunteer army—which is not a permanent institution, and could not be provided for in a constitution. It is the result of an emergency. The prohibition was certainly intended to apply to permanent offices or positions, and in a military sense to commissioned officers of the regular army.

"A misapprehension evidently exists as to the pay of a volunteer officer on leave. An officer is entitled to a certain number of days leave in a year, and the year is computed from the 1st of June. I have already had 30 days' leave, and am not drawing any pay from the United States as a brigadier general, being absent on leave without pay. I would, if I returned to duty, accept pay from the state while drawing it from the government."

POLITICAL POINTS.

The New York Journal is authority for the statement that Representative Constein, of this county, will vote for Quay if the deadlock is not soon broken.

The coming spring election promises to be the most interesting held for years and our people should consider well before deciding for whom to cast their ballots.

The Republican very appropriately calls it Quaymania. The designation must have caused the editor to shed many bitter tears.

Paul W. Hoepke, of Shenandoah, expects to be appointed a member of the State Pharmaceutical Examining Board, by Governor Stone, and is now in Harrisburg laying his bids. He is well qualified for the place, and his friends all hope to see him get there.—Ashland Telegram.

There is a rumor to the effect that there will be two Democratic tickets in the Fifth ward.

Calling a man a fool does not necessarily make him one. Sometimes the shoe would fit the accused. See!

Delcote Toole has his eagle eye on the Legislature. The people of Turkey Run are happy. They have a candidate for Council among their number. And why shouldn't they? Local politicians are taking much interest in the Senatorial contest.

What has become of the Socialist ticket? If the frost nipped the enthusiasm of their leaders.

CITIZENS PRIMARIES

Nominations For Borough and Ward Tickets Made Yesterday.

THE VOTE POLLED VERY LIGHT!

Some of the Ward Contests Ran the Ballots up, But the Aggregate Vote Was the Lowest Cast in Several Years at the Party's Primaries.

The primaries of the Citizens party opened with a surprising lack of spirit yesterday afternoon and for more than an hour there were strong indications that the aggregate vote would not exceed more than 400. Towards six o'clock there was an active movement in the First, Second, Fourth and Fifth wards and at the closing hour a total of over 700 votes was polled. The Third ward, however, failed to develop. The voters in that district were surprisingly inactive and a total of only 65 votes were cast, or more than 400 less than were cast at last Spring's primary. This was due to there being no contests for Council and School Board.

It is shown by the figures below that a great many voters failed to take an interest in the contest for the High Constable nomination. Where large votes were polled in wards the interest was aroused by local contests. As in the Second ward, the ward constableness pulled out 171 votes, more than the total cast for High Constable. In the Fourth ward 282 votes were cast for Council and but 206 for High Constable. In the Fifth ward the total vote for the latter office was 47 short of that cast in the contest for School Director. In the Third ward, where there were no contests for ward offices, the vote for High Constable sank almost into oblivion.

According to the returns made by leaders in the respective wards the results are accepted with good grace by those who failed to secure nominations, and, if any sore spots have been made, they are not apparent to the general observer. Good feeling prevailed at each poll after the result was announced and the indications are that the Citizens party will line up fully united and strong for the impending battle for the opposition party.

As one of the results of the primaries the candidates selected for the Citizens borough ticket are Morgan Hopkins for High Constable, he having secured 91 votes more than John D. Hughes, his nearest opponent, and W. J. Watkins for Borough Auditor. The latter had no opposition.

The official returns on the former office were as follows:

|                 | WARDS |     |    |     |     | Tot. |
|-----------------|-------|-----|----|-----|-----|------|
|                 | 1     | 2   | 3  | 4   | 5   |      |
| Hopkins.....    | 25    | 48  | 28 | 108 | 99  | 308  |
| Hughes.....     | 17    | 99  | 22 | 39  | 24  | 211  |
| Ramsler.....    | 3     | 9   | 8  | 97  | 9   | 121  |
| Matthews.....   | 2     | 6   | 35 | 5   | 4   | 49   |
| Votes cast..... | 71    | 162 | 68 | 266 | 137 | 704  |

The results on the ward tickets were returned as follows:
