AUDACIOUS DEEM.

Reported That He Boldly Defies the Military Authorities.

A reliable party who claims to have seen and conversed with Frank Deem, the deserter who escaped from the detail while bound for Camp McKenzie, Georgia, says he has been there since last Sunday evening. He bears no marks or bruises as a result of his eventful and hazardous escape from the train and is apparently in the best of health. Deem is credited with saying that he is ready to give another detail trial. He refuses to talk of his escape and smiles when questioned as to how he got from the window of the moving train. It is rumored that Deem did not go through the engine had been replenished and before it had acquired much speed. The rumor also has it that he bolted through an open door. Deem, it is claimed, is more determined than ever not to go back to Camp McKenzie and it is said that on Tuesday afternoon, last, Louis Werner, the special officer at Kaiser's open house, had a specimen of his grit. Werner entered a 5th ward shop in Mahanoy City when Deem was seated behind the stove. As Werner made his appearance Deem jumped up, drew a revolver, and backed towards the door. After scrutinizing the officer Deem apologized for his action and told Werner he feared at first that the officer had visited the shop to arrest him.

Unfortunate Family.

Mrs. James Muller, now of Mahanoy City, was yesterday notified that her seven-year-old daughter died at the Soldiers' Orphan Home at Chester Springs. The father of the child was, until a year ago, a prosperous Locust Valley farmer. His mind became deranged and he was removed to the insane asylum at Schuylkill Haven. He was a veteran of the war. Severn Post, G. A. R., of Mahanoy City, secured the child's admission to the home and defrays the expense of the mother attending the funeral.

A Bold Thief.

About four months ago Wilson Hartman, living in the Catawissa valley, called at the shoe store of Martin Umbach, on West Coal street, and presented a pair of shoes to be repaired. Yesterday afternoon Hartman called for the shoes and when leaving snatched a pair of rubbers hanging on the awning. Umbach swore out a warrant for Hartman's arrest for larceny, but the prisoner is still at large.

SENATORIAL SITUATION!

No Material Change in the Result of To-day's Ballot.

BILLS EFFECTING THIS COUNTY!

Senator Loch Wants a County Solicitor and Representative Haag Thinks the People Should Elect Borough Supervisors—More Rumors of a Break.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

Harrisburg, Feb. 2.—The fourteenth joint ballot of the two branches of the Legislature to-day resulted with Senator Quay twice voted short of an election, a gain of one over that of yesterday. The vote was as follows: Quay, 104 votes; Jenks, 78; Dalzell, 15; scattering, 34; total, 231. Necessary to a choice, 116.

Arrangements have already been made for many pairs for Saturday and Sunday. There was considerable discussion to-day regarding Senator Martin's ability to control the vote of his Philadelphia friends who are now voting for Quay. It is claimed these men are controlled by ward leaders, and when they give the word the members in question will desert Quay.

There are vague rumors of a surprise likely to occur here very soon, in the nature of a Quay denouement. There have been rumors for several days that Quay had reached an agreement with certain Democratic statesmen at Harrisburg which will insure his election. The anti-Quay Republicans, however, are confident that there will be no break in their ranks, and that Quay can only win by the aid of Democrats.

There is no doubt Senator Quay, the most resourceful politician in the country, has got something up his sleeve. A great many messages have passed between Washington and Harrisburg. It is well to bear in mind that Senator Quay has very close and intimate relations with several Democratic leaders in the United States Senate. Quay, you know, helped to defeat the Force bill in the Senate. He made the motion to lay it aside and take up the Tariff bill. It is said, too, that Quay gave Gorman secret assistance in his fight in Maryland. He could not save him, but Mr. Gorman is not ungrateful. Events at Harrisburg within the next few days are likely to demonstrate that fact.

The hotel bills in a deadlock Senatorship contest are matters of real moment, both to the contestants and the hotel men. The "favorite sons" pay the expenses of themselves and the intimate friends who are detailed here to watch the corners and see that no surprises are sprung. Quay ranks first in the way of hotel bills, with the Business Men's League second. The Quay people have five rooms at the Lochiel with a dozen persons in attendance, and the landlord is said to tax them on an average of $200 a day for the privileges they enjoy. The 900 electric lights in front of the hotel cost $5.00 for each hour they are kept burning in declaring Quay to be Pennsylvania's favorite son for United States Senator. The anti-Quay people have three or four rooms at the Commonwealth, and their five or six representatives are charged an average of $50 per day. The Democrats hold forth at the Breton House, where the headquarters are maintained by Colonel Guffy on much less pretentious scale than the Republican factions. Senatorial contests, however, are the result of political systems, and hotel bills are incidents to such contests.

Senator Loch, of Schuylkill, has introduced a bill providing for the creation of the office of County Solicitor in counties containing 150,000 population and over; also another bill limiting the time within which testimony shall be taken in certain contested elections.

Representative Haag, of the same county, fathers a measure authorizing the election of Borough Supervisors to keep open and repair streets in boroughs. In a majority of cases these officials are now appointed by Town Councils.

The McCarrell bill, preventing the District Attorneys from setting aside jurors, is being pushed by the Quay people and opposed by the "antis." A batch of letters was presented to the Senate from about a dozen judges and as many lawyers throughout the state urging the passage of the bill. Among the former was one from Judge Savidge, of Shamokin, also one from George J. Wadlinger, the well known Pottsville attorney, another from the secretary of the State Editorial Association. The bill passed the Senate after three hours debate, all the Democrats save two voting against it. Senator Loch voted for the bill.

THE MCCARRELL BILL

Passed the Pennsylvania Senate by a Vote of 27 to 17.

Harrisburg, Feb. 2.—There was a long debate in the senate yesterday on the McCarrell bill preventing district attorneys from setting aside jurors, which was on third reading. Mr. Flinn vigorously denounced the measure and Mr. McCarrell as vigorously defended it. The bill passed the senate by a vote of 28 to 17. Analysis of the vote showed that the senators lined up on the bill according to their factional affiliations. All but two Democrats, Messrs. Boyd and Stiles, voted in the negative with the anti-Quayites. The gubernatorial appointments sent to the senate were confirmed.

Senator Henry, of Philadelphia, speaking for the anti-Quay Republicans, in discussing the passage of the McCarrell bill in the senate, said:

"The McCarrell bill is purely in the interest of Senator Quay, and it was to be expected that those who are voting to return him to the senate would favor its passage. It was hastily drawn by Senator McCarrell and referred to the Judiciary special committee, of which Senator McCarrell is chairman. That committee is composed of 11 members, nine of whom are now voting for Mr. Quay's re-election, notwithstanding the five original indictments pending against him. Should this bill become a law it will revolutionize the trial of criminal cases in our state. There is little possibility of its being enacted into a law, as it will surely meet defeat in the house of representatives."

A VETERAN'S SUIT.

His Pension Money Seized by Trustees of the Soldiers' Home, Erie, Pa., Feb. 2.—The case of Andrew H. Brooks against the trustees of the Soldiers' Home in this city was called yesterday for trial before Judge Walling. Brooks claims he was compelled to surrender all of his pension money a month. He alleged he had a wife nearly 50 years old residing in Scranton, and said that pension money taken from him by the trustees should go to her. He testified and proved he sent her the $4 of his pension allowed him, that she was poor and supporting herself going out working by the day when able. He produced a letter written to her by the commander of the home refusing her any portion of her husband's pension. Messrs. Baker & Oids represent the old veteran, and contend that the rule requiring payment of pension money to trustees is without authority of state law, and that the money taken is not expended for their maintenance or paid over to the commonwealth, but is held by Treasurer General Wagner. Captain Whittlesey and Ramsey, of Philadelphia, for the trustees, contend that they take it as a disciplinary measure, and at some future time intend applying to the legislature for permission to build a hospital for the home hospital, and if Brooks does not want to pay his pension money he can leave the home and support his wife the best way he can. Judgment is promised before the next pension day. Judge Walling intimated strongly that the legislature should take up the matter.

Martin Indictments Quashed.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 2.—District Attorney Martin, who prosecuted the case against Sheriff James Martin for the killing of 21 miners and the wounding of over 50 others by the sheriff's deputies at Lattimer in September, 1897, yesterday announced that the remaining indictments against the sheriff and his deputies had been nolle prossed. The nolle prosequi were entered last September, but owing to the fear of the effect of publicity on the miners it was deemed advisable to withhold the announcement until all danger of an outbreak had passed.

Lebanon Brings Home Her Dead.

Lebanon, Pa., Feb. 2.—The bodies of Sergeant Reuben H. Michael and Privates George E. Harpel, Fred Fuhrman and Austin C. Sharon, all of the Fourth Pennsylvania regiment, reached this city last night in charge of a committee of local citizens who went to Porto Rico for the remains. Michael and Harpel both lived in this city, and their funerals will take place from the homes of their parents. The bodies of Fuhrman and Sharon will be taken to Steelton for interment.

Teachers Institute.

The teachers of Union, East and North Union townships have completed arrangements for a teachers institute. It will be held in the new Odd Fellows theatre, at Kingstown, on February 10 and 11th. The institute will be opened by an entertainment on the 10th inst. The services of Prof. Bishop, of Millersville, have been secured for the occasion, at which he will deliver his lecture on "Venus and Vulcan." He will be the principal speaker of the evening. A morning and afternoon session will be held on the 11th inst. and the institute will be closed with an entertainment. The teachers are taking an active interest in the institute and indications point strongly towards success.

Girardville Man Missing.

Louis Lunbruski, a Girardville policeman, is missing, and a half dozen creditors are anxiously awaiting news of his whereabouts. Lunbruski's business was not profitable the past year, and as a result he went in debt for a considerable amount. The landlord informed him that he could not rent the place for another year until he came up with the "dough." Sears might be moved out all his goods and skipped the town with many creditors.

A Choir Social.

The members of the Presbyterian church choir held a social last night at the residence of the pastor, Rev. W. K. Kehler, on West Oak street. Games of various kinds were indulged in and refreshments were served. The pastor was presented with a hymnal, in recognition of the hospitality extended by himself and his estimable wife. Among those who participated in the social were Messrs. Kincaid, Kate Glover, Grace Graham, May Danks, Mattie Davis, Katie Boehm, Mary Johnson, Millie Boyer, Mrs. G. Kane, George Watson, Clyde Glover, John Kincaid, Wm. Lewis and Wm. Zeleze.

Colliery Abandoned.

York Farm colliery, at Portville, is idle. The mine is to be abandoned and out of more than 300 men and boys employed only a few are still at work. These men are engaged in removing the rails and machinery from the gangways and slope or loading coal on the outside, and when this is done, the machinery will be removed and the whole plant abandoned.

Two Camps to Consolidate.

Washington Camp Nos. 75 and 475, P. O. S. of A., of St. Clair, will consolidate this evening, and hereafter will be known as Camp 75. The change will be made on account of the town being unable to furnish enough members for two camps. There is talk of the consolidation of two camps in this town.

THE SCHOOL BOND TAXES

Condition Under Which the School Board Can Pay Them.

MUST CONTAIN BINDING CLAUSE!

If the Promise to Pay is Not in the Bonds the Holders Must Meet the State Tax-Meeting of the Board Last Night.

A regular meeting of the School Board was held last night with the following Directors in attendance: Messrs. Coughlin, Hanna, Bangh, Whitaker, Kelper, Mallick, Martin, Holvey, Dove, Connors, Devitt. Superintendent Cooper and Trust Officer Smith.

The Harmonic Mandolin Club of Turkey Run sent in a petition, requesting permission to use the school house at that place for an entertainment on Feb. 25th, upon assurance to not damage the building, and to clean it after the entertainment. The request was granted.

Superintendent Cooper submitted the following report for the month of January: The 5th month of the school term closed January 10, 1899, with the following results: Monthly enrollment—Boys, 1,961; girls, 1,430; total, 3,391. Average daily attendance—Boys, 1,062; girls, 1,178; total, 2,240. Percentage of attendance—Boys, 91; girls, 96; total, 88. There were 450 pupils who attended every session, 185 visits made by citizens, and 17 visits made by directors. In the evening schools for the second month of the term, we had a monthly enrollment of 383 boys and 49 girls, or 432 pupils in all; an evening attendance of 243 boys and 39 girls, total, 282. Percentage of attendance—Boys, 71; girls, 83; total, 72. Thirty-six pupils attended every session. Sixty-three visits were made by citizens and seven by directors to these schools. Some of our pupils could not attend school on account of contagious diseases being in their families. Others have been detained at home with colds, or gripe, until our percentage of attendance has fallen much lower than the office likes to see it.

The High School is in need of some new apparatus. A list of the things needed will be handed to the chairman of the next book and supplies committee. We ask the committee to give all the assistance that the finances will warrant.

Trust Officer Smith submitted the following report: During the last month, ending Jan. 10th, I visited the parents of 180 absent pupils. The reasons given for absence in nearly all the cases was sickness. Grippe seems to have attacked quite a number of our pupils. I have come across several cases of destitution, the parents of the pupils being unable to buy shoes, or clothing for them to attend school. There were four cases of truancy during the month. These pupils are back in school. I visited one night school during the month and found the attendance fairly good, and the conduct of the pupils also good.

The Finance committee submitted a report showing that the amount required to pay the bills in hand was $4,283.03. Amount in the treasury, $434. Tax Receiver Burke promised to furnish $1,000 and the committee recommended that the salaries and bills be paid as they fall due.

On the subject of exemption from the tax on school bonds, as brought up at the last meeting through a representative of John W. Stokes Lodge No. 515, I. O. O. F., the committee asked more time to consider the matter. Secretary Hanna read a letter bearing upon the same subject from Plank Ridge Lodge No. 880, I. O. O. F.

The Finance Committee reported as follows on the 1898 tax duplicate: Valuation, $2,498,067. Tax rate for schools, 11 mills, $25,563.73; for building purposes, 21 mills, $6,492.21; for library purposes, 1 mill, $1,298.44; total amount duplicate, $33,354.38.

Director Dove, referring to a part of the report made by the trust officer, asked if the school teachers intended holding an entertainment for the benefit of the poor. Superintendent Cooper replied that the teachers had discussed the matter, but arrived at nothing definite. Some of them don't feel inclined to undertake the task this year, because it helps to break up the schools to a certain extent. If one is given home talent only will be invoked, as outside talent costs too much. After the entertainment given by the latter last two years ago the committee had a surplus of only $600. As soon as the committee had the money in hand many people wanted to get it out of the fund and a loop hole was created for keeping children out of school. In two or three schools about 60 per cent. of the children were suddenly found without shoes. Of course, in many cases, children needed shoes.

Solicitor Burke arrived shortly before adjournment and said he was prepared to give an opinion on the state tax question if the Board was inclined to receive it. He was told the adjournment would be deferred, and he then stated that he understood some of the school bonds contained a clause requiring the Board to pay the state tax and he did not know which of the bonds the parties raising the question held.

Secretary Hanna replied that the bonds in question did not contain the clause, which upon the solicitor stated that in such cases the Board has no right to pay the state tax; that it has no right to pay what it has not agreed to pay.

Director Martin asked if the Board had any discretion in the matter and could pay the tax if a promise had been made to do so, or would it be against the law to pay the tax. To this Mr. Burke replied that the Board cannot legally pay the state tax on the bonds unless, at the time the bonds were issued, it agreed to pay it, and there must be a clause in the bonds themselves. The Board will be subject to surcharges if it pays the tax in the absence of such a clause.
