ATTEMPTED MURDER. COUNCIL A Colliery Fireman's Assistant Held Under

Suspielon A murferous assault was committed at East Bear Ridge colliery, Mahanoy Plane, be-tween two and three o'clock this morning, The victim was Michael Nichols, a fireman at the colliery, residing at Mahanoy Plane. The only witness of the assault is a Hungarian laborer who worked with Nichols, and who tells conflicting stories of the affair. One of them is that, at the hour stated, he and Nichols went into the shauty at the boiler house. He says they had not been there long when four tramps entered and attacked him and Nichols with a plece of gas pipe. The witness has a number of bruises and scratches on his face which, he says, were inflicted by the tramps. The laborer says he made his escape through the rear door of the shanty and notified the watchman of the colliery of what had occurred. The watchman says he went to the shanty and found Nichols bleeding and unconscious on a bench. The victim's head and face were battered almost to jelly. Beside him was found a wrench covered with blood and hair, and it is believed this was the weapon used. The boiler and shanty are located close to the colliery. The watchman says he saw no tramps about the place and could find no trace of them after the assault was re-ported. Nichols was removed to the Miners' hespital at aix o'clock this morning. He continued unconscious, and therefore his restion of the story would not be learned. He is a man 35 years old and has a wife in the old country. hair, and it is believed this was the weapon

Neme of his versions of the affair are credited by the authorities. It is alleged he was jealous because Nichels held a superior position at the colliery. A message from the Miners' hospital this a message from the Miners' hospital this afternoon stated that Nichols was still un-conscious and that his condition was very procarious.
