REVENGEFUL SOLDIERS

If you Have, Here's the way to rid Minnesotans Wanted to Lynch the Murderer of a Comrade.

And Started Out on a Man Hunt-The Riotous Volunteers Captured and Placed Under Arrest Through the Prompt Action of General Sumner.

Augusta, Ga., Feb. 6 .- Yesterday was Minnesota, Saturday night, by Brown Hadley, a barkeeper. The difficulty began over profane language used in Minnesota, when they learned of the killing, began to swear vengeance, and about a hundred of the men made plans for the capture of the murderer.

The men had no ball cartridges for their rifles, but going to the regimental cases, and each man took about 50 rounds of ammunition.

Previous to this the men, however, ere talked to by officers, and it was thought all was over. But it was only a very short while after that, sweeping aside officers who attempted to keep entered and broke open the cases containing the cartridges.

The news spread rapidly over the camp, and as soon as it reached the ears of General S. S. Sumner, the commander of the First division, he dered out the Third cavalry, Tenth Ohio and Thirty-fifth Michigan regiments. The men were deployed as skirmishers, and the woods in the vicinity of the camp were scoured.
At 18:30 Troop A, under command of Lleutenant Hawkins found the entire lot, about 60 men, in the woods in the rear of the First division hospital, When they were captured they were taken to First division headquarters and put under guard.

General Summer issued orders that all passes issued should be confiscated and no more issued. The ringleaders were put in irons. The military authorities refuse to give the names of the men under arrest.

Brown Hadley gave himself up to the authorities some distance from the city, where he had taken refuge. He was taken aboard the night train to Atlanta, where he will be confined in Fulton county jail until his trial can be arranged for.

THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON.

Brief Reports From Admiral Dewey and General Otls on the Battle. Washington, Peb. 6.-Admiral Dewey yesterday cabled the navy department that hostilities had begun between the American army and naval forces in and about Manila and the Philippine insurgents. The insurgents, he said, had been the aggressors and had been repulsed. The dispatch, dated Sunday, is as follows:

Insurgents here inaugurated gensral engagement yesterday night, which was continued today. The American army and navy is generally successful. Insurgents have been driven back and our line advanced. No casuatties to

The news came like a shock, for the administration, though apprised that an ugly situation prevailed in the Philippines, had clung steadily to a hope that by fact and patience actual fighting might be averted, end even those public men who felt that hos-tillies would follow should the treaty be ratified and the United States attempt to occupy the island believed that Aguinaldo would not force the fighting when the treaty of peace was in its most critical stage. Some senatorial opponents of ratification of the treaty adhere to their position, but the general opinion in Washington is that he news from Manila insures the railcation of the treaty. The news of the beginning of another war came from Admiral Dewey. No word had been received from General Otis up to that time. It seems to be Dewey's fortune always to be able to report favorable news, and like all of his messages that have gone before, this cablegram told of the success of the American forces in the action. was with great regret, however, that the administration learned that the insurgents had forced the issue. It had hoped all along that they could be brought to see the advantages of placbrought to see the advantages of plac-ing their trust in the American people and relying upon the president to deal justly with them. The administration argued that with the Philippine com-mission fairly on the sea en route for Manila, bringing with them messages from the president, and with the peace treaty still unacted on, it was not to be credited that they would refuse to wait to learn the purposes of the Amer-

While this was true the officials here and the officers in Manila had not been blind to the threat contained in the situation there, and every preparation had been made for just what oc curred. It is now acknowledged that fear of an outbreak in Luzon was the explanation for the much commentel on failure of General Miller to force a landing at Iloilo, on the Island of Panay; Otis felt that he wanted all of the troops at Manlia, where was located the center of danger. Part of Miller's force, therefore, was returned to Man-ila, and that general was left with one regiment of regulars and a battallon of artillery, just sufficient to take advantage of any defection in his front, but not enough to force his way ashore and hold his own.

It is believed that it was unknown to the insurgents that some of the American warships at Manila were quietly moved into positions where they perfectly commanded the insurgent trenches and defenses and could shell them with effect in case of an outbreak. This movement was effected more than ten days ago, and the administration has not felt serious ap-prehension of General Otis' ability at least to hold his own. The American position might have been greatly strengthened, it is said, by a judicious extension of the lines in certain directions and also by taking summary measures to prevent the operations of the insurgents in taking up positions and organizing forces. President Mc-Kinley took the view that perhaps under a strict construction of the terms of the protocol, which still holds good in the absence of the ratification of the treaty, he lacked authority to extend the field of occupation of the Americans. The fact that the insurgents themselves have been the first to break the truce probably releases the United States government from fur-ther obligations in this respect, so that neral Otis was unquestionably warranted, in the opinion of the administration officials, in extending his

The situation is regarded here as rather anomalous from a diplomatic standpoint. Legally the Filipinos are still Spanish subjects. Therefore, if hostile operations continue outside of the limits of Manila as laid down in the protocol it will amount to a re-sumption of the war with Spain, at least technically.

Officials noted one little flaw in Dewey's dispatch, in that he spoke of the American army and navy as "generally successful," conveying just the least intimation that at some points the results were not as satisfactory as at others. Every confidence, however. is felt that General Otis is master of the situation.

General Otis has in his command 21,649 men, and approximately 6,000 men are on their way to join him. Besides his soldiers General Otis has at his back in Manlia bay, commanding the city, a veritable Rock of Gibraltar in Dewey's fleet. No one here knows the real strength of the insurgents opposed to General Otis. The accounts of their numbers are conflicting, and none of them comes from reliable sources. Still, the best belief of the authorities at the war department is that they number about 30,000 men, but they are Fot comparable to the American forces in personnel, discipline or quality of

Shortly before midnight dispatches were received at the war department from General Otis. The last dispatch was as follows:

One of the first steps of the adminis mark of the short tration upon hearing of the outbreak line to Florida—the at Manila was to give attention to the Southern Railway, presence in Washington of Agencille the accredited representative here of and during the winter season, a third, the Florida Limited, is added. Says There Should Be No Temportzing

With the Insurgents. New York, Feb. 6.—Major General Wesley Merritt was interviewed yesterday regarding the attack by the Pilipines upon the American forces about Manila Saturday and Sunday, General Merritt said he thought there is absolutely no cause for apprehension by the Americans, as he considered the American troops perfectly able to cope with their enemies, because the Americans are excellent men in the first place, and are well commanded.

"The insurgents," said General Mer-ritt. "have the habit of attacking their enemies at night. It was so when I was there. You will see they will try It again tonight. I think there is no use in temporizing with them. Filipinos are apt to imagine that a temporizing policy indicates fear." He was asked how large he thought the Filipino army is, and he said that he estimated when he was there that they had from 12,000 to 15,000 He arrived at this estimate, he explained, by counting the rifles. Insurgents, he said, fight in a rather peculiar way. A man, for example, stays in a trench for 48 hours, and to then relieved by another man, uses the same gun. It is therefore quite probable that the Filipinos are much greater in number than the rifles which he counted. "I have no doubt," he continued,

"that since I left there much ammuni tion has been smuggled to them by the Spaniards from Hong Kong. They have about 2,000 pieces from the Span ish deserters, I know. Probably they are now well supplied with guns." General Merritt said that when he was in Manila he was of the opinion that he could have "cleaned out" the insurgents in half a day if he had had orders to force the fighting. Agonetilo Ffeeing to Canada, New York, Feb. 6.-A dispatch to The Herald from Albany says that Agon-cillo, representative of the Pilipino junta in this country, passed through that city last night en route for Canada. According to information received by the correspondent of The Herald the United States government has no intention of arresting Agoncillo, and
