Boston, Feb. 18.-The fast day of President McKinley's visit to Boston was scient in one continual round of pleasuro, and the different events which were crowded into the few re-maining hours followed each other with bewildering rapidity. #### FINANCE AND TRADE. Despite Many Combinations Forming.

Business Is Expanding. New York, Feb. 18.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Beyond question business is expanding, and in many branches it is larger, notwithstanding speculative combination which tend to reduce it. All monopolles, or attempted monopolies, stimulate business while they are coming, but tend to stifle it after they come, and the throng of combinations and trusts which have been formed or proposed have given a temporary, but very questionable impetus to trade. But be-yond the influence of these there is a nuine and substantial enlargement of business, due to the unexampled prosperity of a growing population. The rise of $1 in steel rails, with the entire capacity of all works engaged unell after July 1, is not unnatural, nor the strength in plates, for which the legitimate demand is beyond all pre-cedent, and the same is true of bars, the quantity required for cars, railway and agricultural implement works being enormous. In pipe the association lifted prices 5 per cent, with a very heavy order from Indiana gas works, as does the expected combination in sheets. No fictitious demand has caused the rise in grain, for the exports continue heavy in wheat and corn that the advance of 314 cents in wheat is abundantly justified and the rise of cents in corn seems scarcely enough for the occasion. Nor does the foreign demand for cotton abate, though the price has again been raised. There is also much inquiry for wool.

Some of the bills are for buildings absolutely. needed for government use in the larger centres of population, but the greater number are for small towns with less than ten thousand inhabitants. For instance, the Congressmen of Louisiana ask for appropriations almost equalling the total value of the property in some of the towns to be favored, so that it is fair to infer that if these patriots are now for the old flag they are also red hot for the other end of the combination-a big appropriation.

Alexandria, La, has a population of 2,861 people, less than the borough of Frackville, but an appropriation for a $60,000 public building is asked for. Munroe, La., has 3,256 people. considerably less than Girardville. yet wants $74,500, while Opelousas, in the same state, with 1,572 people, little more than half the population of Port Carbon, asks for a $47,500 building. Dover, Del., a third-class post office, with 2,000 people, wants but $70,000, while Castine, a fourthclass office in the state of Speaker Reed, wants a $20,000 building for the toothless old Yanks, who now squirt the juice of their quids on the stove of the storekeeper who is also postmaster, in the long winter evenings. Montpelier, Vt., a town of 4,160 people with genuine Yankee thrift, asks for $161,650.

There are twenty towns on the list for public buildings, ranging from $20,000 to $200,000, and the total population of these twenty towns is but little greater than the population of the Schuylkill towns of Shenandoah, Mahanoy City, Ashland, Tamaqua, Girardville and Minersville, but few of the twenty having a population in excess of the least populous of the Schuylkill towns named.

In this connection the question presents itself, if these little towns are entitled to government buildings. why are not the larger towns of this county, (those at least which are entitled to letter-carriers.) entitled to like consideration ? True, Pottsville has been favored, if that word is the proper one to use after a sight of the building in course of erection, but it seems to us that a Congressman thoroughly alive to the interest of his constituents should have been able to secure an appropriation for at least one town in addition to Pottsville, which was, however, obtained by his Democratic predecessor from a Democratic Congress.
