Brilliant and Unfading Colors
Made by Diamond Dyes.

A Ten-Cent Investment Often Saves
Dollars.

Professional dyers always use different dyes for cotton than for wool, as cotton is a vegetable fibre, while wool comes from an animal. In Diamond Dyes there are some 65 best fast cotton colors that are prepared especially for cotton and mixed goods. These dyes give colors that even washing in strong soap-suds or exposure to the sunlight will not fade.

LOSCH VISITS QUAY.

They Have a Long Interview in the Lattic's Committee Room.

State Senator Samuel Losch and ex-State Chairman Andrews, of Pennsylvania, appeared at the Capitol today, where they held an extended interview with Senator Quay in the latter's committee room. The situation at Harrisburg was discussed at great length. When the visitors emerged from their star chamber session with Mr. Quay they both looked serious, and declined to discuss their master's chances of success.

To those who are familiar with the former relations between Quay and Losch, the latter's visit to the former to-day appears, therefore, to say the least, the last time Losch visited Quay in Washington was back in the early '90's, and his reception was anything but cordial. In fact, Losch was ordered out of the Senator's committee room by young Richard Quay. But things are different now. Losch and Quay are on the same side.

It will be recalled that young Quay, when he was a member of the Legislature six or eight years ago, had Losch ejected from the House at Harrisburg. Losch was sitting at the speaker's desk in the lower branch of the Legislature, when young Quay arose in his seat, and with the present Senatorial fight he has been a most violent opponent of them and their methods in politics. What came over the spirit of his dreams at this late day's best known to Losch and Quay.

Young Quay's attack upon Losch created a sensation in the House and came near resulting in a personal encounter between the two men. Losch swore vengeance on the Quay, and until the present Senatorial fight he has been a most violent opponent of them and their methods in politics. What came over the spirit of his dreams at this late day's best known to Losch and Quay.

Decided Against the Pensioner.

Eric, Pa., Feb. 23.—Judge Walling dismissed the bill filed against the trustees of the Soldiers' Home by Andrew Brooks, an inmate of the home, to compel them to forward his pension money to his wife, who is in needy circumstances. The judge decided that the rules of the home governing pensions are not in conflict with the act of congress of Feb. 26, 1883, and not contrary to law or public policy, that plaintiff signed an agreement before entering the home to comply with its rules, and the rule governing pensions is one of them. The plaintiff's counsel filed notice of appeal to the supreme court.

Track Disturbed.

A cave-in occurred at High Point last night, whereby the track of the Lakeside Electric Railway was pulled down about eight inches. The disturbance was due to workings of the Mahanoy City colliery caring in. Repairs were made during the night and traffic was resumed on the line this morning.

Cooking Main.

LETTER FROM CUBA.

A Shenandoah Man Writes of Life on That Island.

The HERALD is in receipt of an interesting letter from a former townsman, L. J. Yedkois, a member of the Immune Regiment doing garrison duty in Cuba. His letter follows:

MILITARY HOSPITAL,
BAYAMO, CUBA, Feb. 8, 1899.

EN. HERALD:—Our garrison, which consists of about fifty men, took possession of this town on January 2nd. This town is located far in the interior, and was once one of the most prosperous places in Cuba, but in the last two years it has lost most of its great wealth. Most of the people here live on cattle raising and orange groves, and there is also quite a number of sugar plantations. General Garcia was born and raised twenty miles from here. When we marched here from Yaguajay, we had to cross four streams, and some of them were over four feet deep, and our only means were to wade them and then march on our way with wet clothes; but it does not take more than one hour for them to dry again, because it is very hot here in the interior. Our town here faces mountains no less than 2 to 3 miles high, and one would imagine that they are very close to town; but from what I have learned from the natives they are forty miles away.

The water we drink we draw from the stream; the Cubans also use it for washing purposes. The town is built on a very ancient style, and about one-third of it is completely ruined, which was done by the Cuban insurgents, before the ten-year war. The soldiers are taxed very high for everything they buy; our own commissary charges us 15 cents for three ounces of tobacco, and everything else the same, so it costs us very high to live in luxury. At present we have nine men in the hospital, mostly all suffering from chills and fever; as for the town there are about 10 cases of small pox, but are heavily quarantined by the post surgeon. I act as steward here, for the time our company remains. We expect to return to Marysville to join our regiment the latter part of this month. We expect a cavalry here to relieve us, as an infantry is of little use in these mountains.

L. J. YEDKOIS,
Co. I, 4th U. S. V. Immunes.

Will Locate in South America.
Benjamin Lloyd and George Bellow, two prominent young men of Morea, will leave on April 1st for Chili, where the former is to take charge of a locomotive works and the latter to fill the position of bookkeeper for the same firm.

CHRONIC ECZEMA CURED BY CUTICURA

I was troubled several years with chronic Eczema, on my back and face. I took medical treatment from two doctors and several lotions, but received little relief. At times, the dreadful itching became almost intolerable. When I was treated, the Eczema became painful, and almost distracted me. I tried CUTICURA REMEDY. The Eczema rapidly disappeared, and I am well, with no trace of an untoward disease. J. EMMETT BREVES, Feb. 22, 1898. Box 129, Thornwood, Ind.
