The article published in last evening's HERALD on the re-organization of Council, has caused much comment.

GIGANTIC BREAKER!

Will Take the Combined Product of Three Collieries.
WORK TO BEGIN ON IT SOON!
The collieries to be Combined Are Kohlnor, West Shenandoah and Turkey Run--Will be the Largest Structure of the Kind in the Region.

One of the most important schemes which have developed in connection with the mining operations of this region in several years is about to be put in operation here. It is the consummation of a project which numerous reports have been floating for months, but a lack of official color to the reports led many to believe that the project was a conception of dreamers.
A HERALD reporter to-day learned that the project will materialize within the next few weeks. It means the combining of the outputs of three leading P. & E. V. & I. Co. collieries, namely the Kohlnor, West Shenandoah and Turkey Run. One great breaker--the largest in the region--to take the place of the breakers now operated by the three collieries named, is to be erected. It will surpass in size and modern equipment the famous St. Nicholas breaker, and even the mammoth breaker for combined outputs now being operated at Tunnel Ridge colliery, Mahanoe City.

Several officials of the company have been approached with a view to ascertaining some facts in connection with the project, but the overtures have been practically fruitless. Some of the officials outside the headquarters at Pottsville seem to be conversant with the plans--at any rate they are not inclined to talk about them. The HERALD has learned, however, from sources that are not official, that the project is not only feasible, but will begin before the present time and the 1st of April, next.
One day last week General Manager R. C. Luther, Mining Superintendent John Veith and Chief Carpenter Michael, all of Pottsville, a corps of engineers, District Superintendent Boy, and a number of other mining officials, spent several hours looking for a site for the proposed structure, and finally decided to put it at the West Shenandoah colliery. The Kohlnor, West Shenandoah and Turkey Run breakers will be kept in operation until the new structure is completed or almost ready to be dismantled. There will be no reduction of the working force at either of the mines named pending the construction.

A gentleman who has been interested in mining affairs for years, and has given the project referred to some thought, when asked today if the combining of the operations would have a detrimental effect, so far as the number of employes is concerned, said he did not think so. He expressed the opinion that a reduction of outside employes may follow, but there will probably be a corresponding increase in the number of inside hands, and that the change will be beneficial rather than detrimental to the town.

The capacity of the gigantic breaker may be estimated when it is stated that the average output of each of the three collieries during three-quarter time is 20 cars of 24 tons each per day. Working full time the production of the new breaker will be enormous.
The new project will necessitate improvements at each of the collieries, one of which will be the sinking of No. 3 slope at Turkey Run colliery another lift, followed by a tunnel to the Mammoth, Top Split and Buck Mountain veins, developing a great body of coal.

Changes are also to be made at once in the boiler plant at the Kohlnor colliery. All the thirty-one cylinder boilers are to be removed and replaced with tubular boilers.

The estimated number of persons employed inside and outside the collieries to be completed by the new breaker are: Kohlnor, 193; West Shenandoah, 410; Turkey Run, 445; a total of about 1,548.

The compressed air locomotives received from the Baldwin works, and which are to replace the mules in hauling cars in the Shenandoah City colliery, were put into operation to-day and will soon be in operation.

CAP FACTORY BURNED.

Soft and Lauterstein's Northumberland Plant Destroyed--Incendiary Suspected.
The cap manufacturing plant which soft and Lauterstein moved from town to Northumberland several months ago was partly destroyed by fire yesterday. The flames were discovered at 2:30 a. m. in the southwest corner of the building, which is a two-story brick and frame structure, used as a blocking room and storage for lumber used in the making of boxes, used for shipping goods. The fire started before the firemen could gather, that part of the building was in a mass of flames.
The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin, as the building was heated with steam and there was no fire in the part of the plant where the fire started. There were two hundred employes at the factory, several of them being girls whose parents live in this town. The part of the plant containing the machinery and operating rooms was saved from ruin. The plant was fully insured.

THE BIG BREACH.

Situation at Mahanoey Plane Has Become More Critical.
The people of Mahanoey Plane have become very much agitated and anxious again over the condition of affairs resulting from the big cave-in caused by the Lawrence colliery workings. Yesterday the breach made last Saturday night was filled to a level with the surrounding ground, and the Traction company was about to get ready to run its cars over the place, when the bottom of the breach gave way and carried down all the filling, leaving an apparently bottomless pit. The place now presents a more threatening appearance than it did at any time ago. The ground beneath the Schuykill Traction track has entirely disappeared and the threatened houses are in greater danger. The rush yesterday carried away a considerable portion of the earth that supports the houses. The mouth of the breach is only about twenty feet from the foundation walls.

A BREAK FROM QUAY

Three of His Active Supporters Vote For Other Candidates.
OBJECTIONS TO FARR'S RULING.

The Speaker, It Is Asserted, Forced an Adjournment to Prevent Addition to the Investigating Committee--Farr Declares His Action Strictly Legal.

Harrisburg, March 4.--The first material change in the senatorial contest occurred on yesterday's joint ballot, when three members who have been voting for Senator Quay shifted to the anti-Quay column. These are the only votes Mr. Quay has lost since the balloting began, and his managers claim it will cost materially affect the situation. The members who changed their votes are Representatives Nathan C. Mackey of Lackawanna and McGlellan Herah and Leslie Yates of Philadelphia. Mr. Mackey voted to Superior Court Judge Charles E. Rice, of Wilkesbarre; Mr. Herah to Colonel George F. Huff, of Greensburg, and Mr. Yates voted for Peter A. B. Widener.

The change came after the trouble in the house over the rulings of Speaker Farr, which created much excitement and comment. Mr. Marshall, of Allegheny, called for the order of the day facing 11 o'clock as the hour of adjournment on Friday. Mr. Bliss, of Delaware, raised the point of order that the rule fixing the hour of Friday sessions had been abrogated at the beginning of the session, when the house adopted a resolution fixing new hours for Friday's session. The resolution adopted at the beginning of the session fixing 10:30 for the hour of meeting on Friday and 11 o'clock for adjournment was read by Speaker Farr. Mr. Farr stated that this resolution was in force. He then adjourned the house. He left the chair and was followed by many of the members and the clerks.

Mr. McElhany, of Allegheny, moved that Mr. Bliss, of Delaware, be elected speaker. The motion was adopted, and Mr. Bliss took the chair and called the house to order. He appointed temporary committees for changing their votes of the house, the members who remained questioning the right to do so. The course of Mr. Farr, it is asserted, was dictated by a desire to prevent the passage of a motion to increase the membership of the Kreps bribery investigating committee by the addition of two Democrats and two Republicans.

Mr. Herah was the first to break, and after him came Mr. Mackey, and then Mr. Yates. After the joint assembly adjourned each of these three members issued a public statement giving their reasons for changing their votes. Mr. Herah says: "I have been voting for Senator Quay since the beginning of the contest, but decided to change my vote because I believe I have more than fulfilled my caucus obligation, and because I am satisfied that Senator Quay cannot be re-elected. The Republicans of my district, I am satisfied, do not want me to longer continue my support of Senator Quay. If any other justification were necessary it was furnished by the action of the friends of Senator Quay during the past 24 hours."

Mr. Mackey says: "I have voted for Senator Quay for two months, and find now that there is absolutely no possibility of my re-election, and I deem it folly for any Republican to blindly follow the leadership of the Quay men now at Harrisburg, whose every move has been a stuporous blunder. My constituents, as well as the leading Republican papers of my county, have for a long time been urging me to vote as I did today. There are no Quay men left in Lackawanna county except a few officeholders and dependents."

Mr. Yates said the events of the past 48 hours are sufficient explanation as to why he changed his vote.
Speaker Farr says: "Since my decision I have consulted Messrs. Weiss and Gilbert, of Harrisburg, two of the best constitutional lawyers in Pennsylvania, who have advised that not only was the course pursued by me not only proper and legal, but that any other course would have been contrary to the rules of the house and without authority in law."

The bribery investigating committee met yesterday afternoon to take the testimony of witnesses. General Koussis, of the committee, in behalf of these witnesses, demurred, stating that they were not ready to proceed. It was then proposed that a session be held today and again on Monday for the hearing of these witnesses, but General Koussis still demurred, and upon his motion all further proceedings were postponed until Tuesday evening next.
