THE WELSH IN AMERICA.

Interesting Address on the Nation's Part in Historical Events.

By request of several of the Weish resi dents of town the HERALD to-day publishes an extract from an address delivered by hev. D. I. Evans last Friday evening at the anniversary banquet and entertainment of the local lodge of True American Ivorites. It deals with the associations of the Welsh people with the foundation and historical events of the United States.

events of the United States.

Rev. Evans said: "The Welsh have claims for recognition and parirotic gratitude by the American people, because of the prominent part taken by some of their descendants in founding the American Republic. The Welsh mind and heart have contributed no small share in common with the good, the noble and the enlightened of other lands to mould its institutions and to make possible a country where the highest conditions of a Christian civilization may be enjoyed. That little vessel of 180 tons burden, the May-flower, embryo of a free republic, was commanded by a Welshman, Captain Jones. Among those who came as passengers were

As long as newspaper men will accept advertising from every so-called advertising agency, just so long will these leeches flourish. The credulity of newspaper men is to blame for their existence. This week we threw several of these propositions in the waste basket, one of which called for 6,000 inches, which was a fraud on its face.

To the present law then y Harrison and Benjamin Harrison. The state of Pennsylvania appropriates more to education and charity than any other state in the Union, yet there are people in the rural portions of the state that bitterly oppose the extention of the school term beyond six months, and who would fight any reduction of the school fund. With an appropriation by the state of $5,500,000 annually for the public schools, we get no better teachers, they get no better teachers, they get no better salaries, and no better educational system than we had when we appropriated only $3,000,000, and the Governor has added further that the school directors are a law unto themselves and not subject to a proper auditing of

A countless horde of tiny red ants in-vaded our premises and refused to decamp. They tunneled into our bread overnight and built nests there, biting our tongues when we attempted to eat it for breakfast. They crawled into the sugar and died, making it necessary for us to skim out the floating corpses after sweetening our coffee. They particularly delighted in fresh meat and swarmed over it until it looked like a solid mass of ants.
