A fatal accident occurred at the P. & R. Railroad crossing at New Philadelphia yes-terday afternoon, the victim being William A. Boach, a former resident of Ellangowan, and well known in this town. His com-panion, Herbert Sanda, was seriously in-The two horses the latter was driving

Mr. Beach was a member of the firm of Beach Bros., the tea merchants of Pottsville, and drove from that place yesterday to deliver goods. The horses were owned by Edward M. Hellner, of Pottsville. As the team was crossing the radical near McQoull's hotel it was struck by a north-bound engine, running light. A shed on the south side of the road kept the engine from view and Sands, the driver, says he heard no signal of any kind from the engine. As the wagon was struck the two occupants were hurled a distance of about a hundred feet, street last night, over the classe of a robber When Mr. Beach was picked up he was unand a collison which, fortunately, did not conscious and there was an ugly wound on have a serious result, the back of his head. pecial to Evening Herald. New York, March 21.—Rollin B. Molin-caux, the alleged poisoner, scored an important point through a decision by Judge Blanchard to-day. Molineaux is accused of being the person who mailed the poison that caused the death of Mrs. Adams. After the Grand Jury presented the indictment in the case Molineaux's counsel asked permission to inspect the minutes of the jury. This was refused by the District Attorney and an appeal was made to the New York, March 21.-Rollin B. Molin-Attorney and an appeal was made to the court. A STATEMENT.

We have, up to the present time, refrained from noticing the mouthings and gross misstatements of the alleged publahers of an afternoon paper of this town, with even the semblance of a reply, but there is a limit to our endursuce. In taking this position we have been fully sustained and complimented by the intelligent portion of the people.

However, the article appearing in the News of last evening under the caption f "Contemptible Meanness," is so full of glaring falseboods, and not only reflects upon the personal character of the publishers of this paper, but upon the committee having in charge the Annunciation Sunday school sutertainment as well, that we are compelled to depart from this

The article is so growly erroneous, co temptible and malifious that a brief and dignified statement on our part is deemed advisable, in justice both to correlves and the outertrinment committee. It might not be out of place, however, to state right here that since the present proprietors assumed control of the Hug-ALD it has been our well defined policy to conduct the paper strictly upon buel ness principles, giving to all due consideration without regard to "race, color or creed," and the success of the paper, financially and otherwise, in partly due primarily to this well defined policy. Our success, too, may be the cause of this malicious and cowardly attack, based upon falsehoods pure and simple, on the part of our evening contemporary.

Now as to the facts. The Daily News, whose accredited publishers are M. E. Doyle and Martin J. Lawlor, in its issue of last evening, charges the publishers of the HERALD with receiving four complimentary tickets from the Annunciation Sunday school entertainment committee, having them reserved and then disposing of them at fitty cents apiece and pocketing the money "which ought to have gone into the box office receipts in the theatre."

The News publishers also charge us with accepting the courtesies of the committee and then refusing to give the entertainment a comp, imentary notice in exchange. We desire to state right here that the HERALD refuses almost weekly to extend such courtesies to shows that appear in the theatre. If they want to use our columns they must pay for it, as a purely business transaction. But in the case of the Augundiation entertainment we deviated from that well established policy and gave the entertainment on three different occasions complimentary notices-exactly the same number that the News gave them, the pub lishers of which paper did all their printing, and hence were well paid for their notices, while the HERALD did not sak for or receive one penny, and yet gave an equal number of notices, with no expectation whatever of any compensa-

So the HERALD, it is plain to be seen, was not the party that discriminated. The News further publishes a deliberate and malicious falsehood when it mays: "They [the HERALF publishers] sent them [the tickets] to Kirlin's drug store where the chart was open and reserved four of the best seats in the house, and on Friday evening, when seats for the entertainment were at a premium, sold them for 50 cents spiece and pocketed

That the above statement is unqualifiedly false, we publish below the aigned statement of the gentleman

EMENANDIAM, P.A., March 21, 1899.

EDITOR EVERING HEMALO:—In reply to your request for information as to whether or not any one connected with the Evering Hemalo applied for any reserved seats or checks on complimentary tickets for the Auminiciation Sunday school entertainment, I would say that no such application was made, and no such seat or check was issued to any one connected with the Evering Hemalo.

This in itself pusht to be sufficient.

This in itself ought to be sufficient refutation of the charges so far as the publishers of this paper are concerned. But if any further proof is necessary we would add that the complimentary tickets received from the committee are still in our possession, and therefore could not have been disposed of. We have shown these to a member of the committee to-day. Furthermore, the HERALD contributed financially to the entertainment, which is probably more than did the man who penned the charges of "contemptible meanness, We are reluctant in giving this matter so much notoriety, in deference to the members of the Annunciation entertainment committee, most of whom are warm friends and admirers of the HERALD, but the article in the News is so erroneous and maticiously libelous upon the publishers of this paper, that to pass them by with elient contempt, as is usually our custom, might be accepted as an acknowledgment on our part of their truthfulness.

We know not who furnished the publishers of the News with their information-or rather misinformation-but this we do know. The article in its entirety is a base fabrication. The newspaper fraternity is indeed at a low chb when men of the profussion stoop to such disreputable gots as the publishers of the News did in this instance, when they ondeavor to stir up race feeling which might be used to injure a more successful contemporary and redound to their own pecuniary benefit. Fortunately for the honor of the frateruity in this county, complaints of this kind are rare. Newspaper ethics would teach the fair and impartial editor to first make inquiry to ascertain the truthfulness of the charges before giving the matter publicity, unless the intent is malicious and done for the purpose of injuring a

The article in question, in our estimation, is libelous and malicious, and in view of the statement of facts berewith presented, we call upon the publishers of the News to reveal the name of the party or parties who furnished the information, and an immediate retraction on the part of the News publishers.

Bryan Belleves in Harmonizing Personal Differences, but Says Differences in Principle Cannot be Harmontred .- His Letter to Porry Belmont.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 21.—Hon. William J. Bryan has given out for publication the correspondence between William J. Bryan has given out for publication the correspondence between himself and Hon. Perry Belmont, in which Mr. Bryan was invited to speak at the Jefferson day banquet of the New York Democratic club, and which he declined on account of Mr. Belmont's attitude in the late campaign. In the final letter to Mr. Belmont Mr. Bryan sayat "I might plead previous engagement as "I might plead previous engagement."

"I might plend previous engagement as a reason for declining, but that would be equivalent to saying that I would come but for the engagement, but frankness compels me to add another reason. I appreciate the compliment which the Democratic club pays me in extending an invitation, but I do not understand how individuals' opinions can be ignored at a political gathering. You are the president of the club, and represent the club before the public. Your position upon public questions was well known in 1896, and your telegram indicates that your position has not been changed. The antagoniam between our opinions is so great that we cannot with propriety join In a political banquet given in honor Democracy's patron saint.

"Do not misonderstand me. You may be right and I may be wrong, but I take BOARDING be right and I may be wrong, but I take it for granted that we are equally conscientious. You proclaimed to your fellow citizens in 1896 that my election upon a Democratic platform would endanger the nation's welfare. You will pardon me if I suggest that a banquet presided over by you will injure rather than aid the Democratic party. I believe in harmonising personal differences, but differences in principle carpot be but differences in principle cannot be harmonized."
