

A HUNDRED REASONS

Can be given why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best and most effective cure for every form of indigestion.

They are in the tablet form which retains their good qualities indefinitely, while liquid preparations become stale and useless with age.

They are convenient, can be carried in the pocket and taken when needed. They are pleasant to take.

After each meal dissolve one or two tablets in the mouth and, mingling with the food, they constitute a perfect digestive, absolutely safe for the most sensitive stomach.

They digest the food before it has time to ferment, thus preventing the formation of gas and keeping the blood pure and free from the poisonous products of fermentation, half digested food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the only remedy designed especially for the cure of stomach troubles and nothing else.

One disease, one remedy, the successful physician of to-day is the specialist, the successful medicine is the medicine prepared especially for one disease.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets make the complexion clear by keeping the blood pure.

They increase flesh by digesting fresh forming foods.

A whole package taken at one time would not hurt one, but would simply be a waste of good material.

Over six thousand men and women in the State of Michigan alone, have been cured of indigestion and dyspepsia by the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Sold by all druggists at 50 cents per package.

A NOTED ARTIST DYING.

Michael Munkacsy Spending His Last Days in a Madhouse.

STROKEN THREE YEARS AGO.

Since 1898 He Has Been Practically Dead to the World, and a Violent Attack on His Physician Necessitated His Confinement.

Berlin, March 24.—Michael Munkacsy, the famous Hungarian painter, who has been secluded in a hospital for the insane at Bonn for more than two years, is dying.

Michael Munkacsy was born near Munkacs, Hungary, Oct. 10, 1844. He had been virtually dead to the world since the paralytic shock which in the latter part of 1896, compelled him to abandon all hope of ever working at his easel again. At that time he was at Godesburg. For months he sat brooding and melancholy, until, in an excess of madness, he suddenly attacked and nearly strangled his wife and his physician. He was immediately removed to an insane asylum, from which, on it becoming obvious that his mental condition was hopeless, he was removed to the retreat where he is now passing away.

His parents were poor, and before he was 7 years old he was left an orphan and given over to the charge of an uncle at Osnab, who seems to have treated him very harshly. The boy was apprenticed to a tradesman. He was sent into the world with five florins in his pocket. Two years later, weakened by wretchedness and lack of food, he returned to his uncle's house. Here he began to draw, and finally to paint. Becoming the servant of an artist, he took advantage of the opportunities offered him, and in 1870 secured a studio for himself in the city. He was carried to the salon himself. It was the success of the year, "The Last Day of a Condemned Prisoner," and immediately established his reputation. This was followed by "The Night Prowlers," "The Studio," "The Two Families," "Milton Dictating Paradise Lost to His Daughters," "Christ Before Pilate," "Christ on Calvary" and "The Last Moments of Mozart."

Another of his best known works is the "Ecce Homo," first shown at Budapest during the fetes in May and June of 1896, when the Hungarian nation attained its tenth century as an independent state.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Dissected fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and so much relief on taking first dose, that she slept all night and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. She writes W. C. Hamrick, Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at A. Wasley's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and 1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.
