The small Easter services were conducted in the Church of the Holy Pamily yesterday.

This was not only the conduction. in the matter of music and floral decorations.

This was not only the case with the Roman Catholic, Episcopal and Latheran churches, with which Easter is the great festival of the church year, but provailed also in the churches of several other denominations, especially in connection with the English Baptist, Trinity Reformed, Primitive Methodist, Presbyterian Referred, Primitive Methodist, Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopsi church In the latter church there was striking evidence of the growing demand for pictore-spec and inspressive observance of Esteristic. While the fival decorations was not as claborate as on other occasions, the rest of the service was exceptionally appropriate.

After preliminary services of prayer and Masked skating carnival next Wednesday.

After preliminary service of prayer and singing, during which music of vocal and in-strumental character befitting the occasion was rendered, the pastor, Rev. John T. Swindel's, prepared for a discourse with stereoption views. A large sheet of convass was spread against the waii to the rear of the pulpit, and the views were projected from a stereopticon located in the center of the auditorium. The pastor retained a position close to the instrument, superintending the changes of projected views, and gave a most interesting discourse of about tity minutes duration.
