The Beaver statesman, it is now reported, will be in Harrisburg tomorrow, and from here he will go to Pittsburgh to consult with his attorneys about his trial, to be called next Monday. All of the "insurgent" and Quay leaders are on the ground, and to-morrow's vote is expected to show startling developments in the Senatorial fight.

Representative Voorhees, the Quay leader in the House and one of the investigating committee, is said to be dying at his home in Philadelphia from congestion of the lungs.

NEWS FROM POTTSVILLE

Death of William H. Cole, the Veteran Journalist.

AT THE POTTSVILLE HOSPITAL! The Deceased Was For Years a Publisher and Editor in Baltimore, and For a Long Period Connected With Schuylkill Journalism.

Pottsville, April 4.—William H. Cole, late editor of the Miner's Journal, died at the Pottsville hospital this morning after an illness of several days. His illness was due, incidentally, to his nervous system and disappointment over his failure to secure a reappointment to the postmastership of Pottsville.

Mr. Cole was born in Baltimore, Md., February 9, 1835. His paternal ancestors were of English birth, and were among the earliest settlers of Maryland. Mr. Cole was a journalist by profession and at an early period of his life became a publisher, for the first time in Richmond, Va., in 1857. He was subsequently publisher and editor of the Baltimore Sunday Telegraph, Baltimore Commercial, Evening Bulletin and Sunday Bulletin. In 1861, while representing the Baltimore Clipper as city correspondent at the state capital at Annapolis, Md., he was appointed reading clerk of the House of Delegates of the Maryland legislature. In 1867 he was elected chief clerk of that body, and re-elected to that office at the sessions of 1865 and 1867. He was chosen secretary of the Maryland Constitutional Convention of 1864. In 1865, the legislature having enacted a law establishing an emigration bureau, Mr. Cole was appointed Commissioner of Emigration, and reappointed for a second term. At the close of this term he became one of the proprietors of the Baltimore Commercial, which was not a financial success, and in 1872 he went to Philadelphia. After a brief residence in that city, he was called to Pottsville to take charge of the publication department of the Miner's Journal. He was successively manager, editor and proprietor of the paper until the fall of 1889. In 1891 Mr. Cole was appointed postmaster of Pottsville, and after the expiration of his term he again became editor of the Journal, and continued as such until about two months ago.

The deceased was an widower, his wife having died several years ago. They sons and a daughter survive. The latter is Miss Paul Shaefer, of Pottsville. One of his sons was promoted Captain in the naval forces for bravery in the battle at Santiago.

County Controller H. J. Muldoon had not, up to noon, removed his embargo on the salaries of the court house employees, but he said there was a chance that matters would be arranged amicably this afternoon.

The following marriage licenses were issued to-day: Evan Davies and Amanda L. Blackwell, both of Gibraltar; Elmer H. and Charles J. Roberts, both of Ashland; Anthony Pilla and Agnes Danko, both of New Philadelphia.

Among the deeds recorded to-day were the following: John Oleto to Charles M. Oehls, premises in Pottsville; John M. Schroppe, administrator, to Aaron H. Otto, premises in Hegins township; Joseph Freeman and wife to Charles H. Roberts, premises in Schuylkill Haven; William Schaeff and wife to Henry Boyer, premises in Schuylkill Haven; George W. Ryan, executor, to Jacob K. Reed, premises in Ashland; Franklin Zuber and wife to Lizzie Swartz, premises in East Brunswick township.

George W. Ryan, member of the State Board of Charities, was in town to-day, investigating the report of a scarcity of food at the almshouse.

Daugler Bros. are adding a three story brick building 50x80 feet to their shoe factory at 7th and Howard avenue. They will employ 30 more hands and expect to increase their output from 200 to 700 pairs of shoes per day.

The Brotherhood of Elks will hang a new pair of antlers, the gift of Mahanoy City members, to-morrow evening. A celebration is on the program.

Miss Clara Phalen, sister of John J. Phalen, the well known horse racer, and Miss Annie Cuddey, daughter of Patrick Cuddey, of Port Carbon, laid to-day for West Chester where they will enter a convent on probation.

THE ALMSHOUSE FAMINE. The subject of general remark at the courthouse was the report of a famine at the Almshouse extending over Saturday, Sunday and Monday, caused by a misunderstanding or worse between the outgoing and ingoing officials. By dint of good luck enough food was gotten together to partially feed the inmates of the hospital, and were in not for the potato bin being full it is said serious results might have occurred.

Ex-Senator Evans executed himself on the ground that the Democratic directors had ordered him to stop buying supplies and he declares he would not have had so many potatoes on hand had he obeyed their orders literally. It is, indeed, a great pity that the misfortunes of the poor should be subject to the passions and jealousies that actuate political parties, of all complexions, and this disgraceful scandal should awaken the people to the curse of politics so far as it is connected with the dispensation of charity.

The starving of the last three days is but an atom of the unnecessary suffering imposed upon the innocent poor by the system of

THE OHIO ELECTIONS.

Mayor McKisson Defeated in the Contest at Cleveland.

JONES RE-ELECTED IN TOLEDO. Refused a Renomination by the Republicans. He Ran on an Independent Ticket—Columbus' First Republican Mayor in Twelve Years.

Cincinnati, April 4.—Elections were held in Ohio yesterday for municipal and township officers. While local issues usually control these spring elections, there were other influences in some places yesterday. In Cincinnati party lines were more closely drawn. Weather conditions were favorable, yet only 44,500 votes were cast. There were only three officials elected, as follows: Rufus B. Smith, Republican, for judge of the superior court, no opposition; members of the board of city affairs, William McAllister and Albert Fisher, Republicans; Mayor Albert B. Jones, Republican, elected by a plurality of 4,576. The present Democratic mayor was elected two years ago by almost as large a plurality.

In Cleveland John H. Farley, Democrat, was elected mayor over Robert E. McKisson, Republican, incumbent, by a plurality of about 3,500. The remainder of the Republican ticket, including city treasurer, police judge, police prosecutor, justice and four members of the school council, elected at large, will have substantial pluralities. The Republicans will control the city council. McKisson's defeat was due to the defection of Republicans, who voted against him because of his opposition to Senator Hanna and his party during the contest before the legislature a year ago last winter. The whole ticket suffered somewhat on account of the opposition to McKisson, but not enough to prevent any of the other candidates. The vote was very heavy.

In Toledo the large registration was fully brought out. It is probable that 20,000 votes were cast for the head of the ticket, but the Jones men after voting for their favorite candidate seemed to care little for the minor offices, and the consequence is that the other candidates will fall short. S. M. Jones, the present mayor, who was a candidate on an independent ticket, with a platform of municipal ownership of utilities, has been elected by at least 5,000 pluralities, probably a majority over all. The contest was marked by great interest. The regular Republican ticket, except for mayor, has been elected by a close vote.

Dayton—Local issues purely controlled in the election here. Many women voted for members of the board of education. The vote was light and the Democrats won a nominal victory. Township elections show the usual balance in favor of Republicans on a county vote.

Columbus—The election of Swartz, Republican, over Black, Democrat, for mayor is conceded by 1,800. Swartz is the first Republican mayor elected since 1887.

The western reserve maintained its usual Republican majorities, with some gains over those of former April elections, notably at Youngstown, Warren, Cadiz, Delaware and other cities in northern Ohio. In Hamilton the Democrats maintained their majorities, also at Lima, Newark, Circleville, Upper Sandusky, Millersburg and Van Wert. At Zanesville and Marysville the Republicans were successful, and they made gains at Napoleon. As a rule the vote was light. At Canton the home of Meigs, Kinley, James Robertson, Republican, was elected mayor by 13 pluralities, a change from the Democratic administration.

The Election in Michigan. Detroit, April 4.—Yesterday's elections in Michigan have not shown any marked change in the general political complexion of the state, which is normally Republican, but the result shows quite heavy Democratic gains in some of the larger cities, notably in Detroit, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Jackson and Kalamazoo. On a generally light vote the Republicans hold their own in the smaller cities and throughout the rural districts. Circuit judges were elected two-thirds of the new judges, who are elected for six year terms, and the Republicans elect Justice Clouds E. Grant as justice of the supreme court by a majority of at least 20,000. They also elect Henry S. Dean and Eli H. Sutton regents of Michigan university.

Election Went by Default. Port Scott, Kan., April 4.—The municipal election at Bronson, Kan., 25 miles west of here, went by default yesterday, and a unique municipal government will result. These political organizations exist in the town, but the people were so busy digging for natural gas and zinc that they utterly neglected to call a convention and make nominations. No ballots were printed, and yesterday, when under the law they must open the polls, the election commissioners telephoned to the county attorneys here for advice. They were instructed that no legal election could be held, and unless the present mayor and other officers can hold over the town will be without government for two years.

A Deadlock in Wilkesbarre. Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 4.—Wilkesbarre became a city of the third class yesterday, and Mayor Nichols and select council hooked horns at once. The mayor deposed Chief of Police Briggs and 13 policemen, appointing new men in their places. The council refused to confirm the appointments, and the old men will continue to hold their places for the present. The deadlock is not due to politics, as the mayor's appointees were equally divided between the two political parties.
