New Mercantile Law.

The new mercantile tax law, signed by Governor Stone, has not been received very favorably by the merchants of Shenandoah, as it impose upon them additional taxation, and additional responsibilities. The new law imposes an annual tax of two dollars on retail dealers and one mill additional on each dollar of the whole volume of business transacted annually. Wholesale dealers shall pay an annual tax of three dollars and one half mill additional on each dollar of the whole volume of business transacted annually. Dealers at exchanges and boards of trade are required to pay a tax of twenty-five cents on each $1,000 worth of goods so sold.

Mercantile Appraisers shall be appointed by the County Commissioners annually on or before December brain, stomach, kidneys, liver, 30. The blanks to be distributed by the Mercantile Appraisers are to be prepared by the Auditor General, and shall contain an affidavit to which for that this paymaster will the dealer shall subscribe. The whole volume of business, including each receipts and merchandise sold on credit, shall be the basis on which the license is to be rated.

If the owner, proprietor or any other person connected with a business refuses to produce the books and papers and appear before the County Treasurer to give information on which to base his tax, he is made liable to a penalty of $1000. All dealers coming under the act are required to place permanently at the entrance to their place of business a sign describing the business in which they are engaged, under a penalty of $10 for each and every offence. It is estimated that the new law will raise an annual revenue of over $1,000,000.

The Governor also signed a bill requiring transient retail merchants in cities and boroughs to pay a license of not less than $25 nor more than $200 a month, the amount to be fixed County Treasurer for the use of the school fund of the township. All licenses are to be renewed monthly and failure to obtain such a license is made payable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $200,
