Philadelphia, May 11.-The move ment that has been inaugurated to in-vite Admiral Dewey to become the city's guest and accord him a reception upon his return to this country has become deep rooted, and will no doubt assume definite shape in the course of a few days. It is expected that at the special sessions of both branches of city councils this afternoon a number of resolutions will be offered relative to taking the preliminary steps for the contemplated demonstration to the admiral

"There is not the least doubt." said Mayor Ashbridge, 'but what Admiral Dewey will visit Philadelphia during the time that the Grand Army National encampment is in progress, and while the exposition is open, and the demonstration accorded him should far surpass anything of the kind ever given in this country. My idea, as soon as councils take action in the matter, is to call a meeting of citi-zens and formulate plans for the appointment of sub-committees, and this will be done."
