A WRECK VICTIM.

Arthur Trugemo Suffers a Second Breaking of His Legs.

Among the victims of the Lehigh Valley Railroad wreck at Dupellen, N. J., a few months ago, was Arthur Trugemo, of town, who was returning, after a furlough, to the barracks of the 1st Infantry, U. S. A., at Plattsburg, N. Y. Trugemo had both his legs broken at the junction of the lower and middle third. He was removed to a hospital at South Plainfield, N. J., and remained there for some time, after which he joined his parents at Llewellyn, near Minersville. His legs were healing, but very much deformed. Two weeks ago he entered the Miners' hospital at Fountain Springs and Dr. Biddle decided to break and reset the limbs. Trugemo withstood this painful operation like a true hero. He declined to take any anesthetic, notwithstanding it required almost an hour to operate on one of the limbs. Trugemo's limbs are now in proper shape and he is rapidly recovering, but about five weeks must elapse before he will be released from the hospital.

Mr. Jenkyu a Candidate.

Emanuel Jenkyu, the present efficient and obliging Recorder of Deeds, announces in another column his candidacy for re-election, subject to Republican party rules. So far he has no opposition, and is not likely to have any. His party associates appreciate his service and popularity among the voters, and have practically agreed to give him what he justly deserves—a second term. And with him a nomination means an election. He is in every sense a faithful public servant, always at his desk and attending to the people's business.

Change of Time Tables.

To-morrow a change of time table will go into effect on the Lehigh Valley and is as follows: Trains going eastward will leave at 10:15 instead of 10:13; 12:52 instead of 12:50; 5:14 instead of 5:17; Westward, 10:49 instead of 10:58. There will be no change in Sunday trains.

There are no changes on the local branch of the Pennsylvania railroad.

There is only one change on the Shenandoah branch of the P. & E. railroad to go in effect to-morrow. Train now leaving at 7:30 a. m. will hereafter leave at 7:37. No new trains are put on, and all others remain the same. The train leaving Philadelphia at 3:30 a. m. will leave an hour later hereafter.

A Distressed Traveler.

A Polish woman with several children boarded a P. & E. train for Brownsville, in the western part of the state, to join her husband. She could not buy a ticket for her destination at Buck Mountain and alighted at the Mahanoy City station to get it, leaving two of her children on the train. She had difficulty in informing the ticket clerk of what she wanted and the train started off with her children on board. The woman rushed out of the depot, waving her arms frantically and calling in her native tongue for the train to stop. She fell upon the track, weeping bitterly. Bystanders assisted her to the station and the ticket clerk, St. Nicholas by a telephone message. The woman went to St. Nicholas by trolley and there was a happy reunion.

Burke has addressed the following communication to the President of Council, Roads and Highways Committee and Chief Burgess: "In regard to the dangerous condition of the highway at the northeastern corner of Plum alley and Oak street, which matter was referred to me by Council, I desire to advise you that the proper and legal method of remedying the danger, if the owner of the above property refuses to do so, is for the Chief Burgess to proceed to have the work done and enter the cost of the same as a lien against the property for collection."

Working Time Next Week. The Wm. Penn colliery will resume operations on Monday and will work six three-quarter days.

TWENTY-FIVE ARE DEAD

And a Half a Hundred Injured in a Railroad Wreck.

EXPRESS TRAIN RUN DOWN.

Crashed Into by an Excursion Train From Harrisburg.

THREE CARS WERE TELESKOPIED.

The accident happened at Exeter, a Signal Station Six Miles Below Reading, on the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, carrying the Wounded to the Reading Hospitals—Passengers Who Escaped the Disaster Report Terrible Sights at the Scene of the Horror.

Reading, Pa., May 13.—Shortly before 10 o'clock last night a collision of passenger trains occurred on the Philadelphia and Reading railway at Exeter Station, six miles below Reading. The express train which should have left here at 8:30 p. m. for Philadelphia was behind schedule time in leaving, and stopped at Exeter for orders. A special train from Harrisburg, bearing excursionists who had attended the Hartman monument unveiling at the capital, left here 20 minutes later than the express train, and at Exeter, while proceeding at a rapid speed, crashed into the express. Several cars of the express train were wrecked and a number of persons killed.

The number of dead is fully 25 and the injured 50. The first train plowed through three cars of the forward train, wrecking them. Eight dead were brought here this morning. A score are under the debris. A trainload of wounded were brought to the hospitals here. Great excitement prevails in the city. The railroad officials offer no explanation of the accident. The coroner will institute an investigation at once. Several cars of the express train were wrecked and a number of persons killed.

When the train left the scene of the wreck a man named Street, living on North Twenty-second street, Philadelphia, was lying unconscious in the wreck. The passengers could give no connected story of the wreck and the number of dead and injured was not known to any of them, but it is supposed to be large. According to the reports of the passengers the engine of the second train plowed through the rear car of the first train, then through the parlor car and half way through the third car. The first car on the second train was also telescoped. The railroad company made up a special list at Reading and sent it to the scene of the wreck with a number of physicians. All of the dead and most of the injured were brought to Reading.

Exeter is a flag station, and has no telephone communication. It is stated that the passengers on the second train were mostly from Norristown, and that several from that borough were killed and many injured. Following is a partial list of the dead: Harry Wentz and Harry Thompson, Norristown; Benton Shilvis, Reading; John Shinguff, chief of Norristown fire department; John Johnson, Mt. Clair; William Lewis, Norristown; Harry Hunchberger, Gulf Mills; Frank Lowers, Norristown; George H. Anders, Norristown; Samuel Batty, Conshohocken; Hiram Shelby, Hazleton.

Injured: A. J. Ashenfelt, 151 East Washington lane, Germantown; Thos. S. Edel, jeweler, Norristown; George Carney, 118 Chain street, Norristown; William Fredaborn, Norristown; Captain John Colston, Norristown; George W. Holmes, 505 Cohn street, Norristown; George Lewis, 1023 Willow street, Norristown.

Additional Accidents. Reading, May 13.—The first reports of the wreck at Exeter included the names of Misses Annie McGrath and Annie Middeling, of Ashland, in the list of killed. This appears to have been a mistake. Neither young woman was on the train and it is a mystery how their names were placed on the list. It has been learned that Miss McGrath formerly lived at Ashland and is now in Philadelphia. Miss Middeling appears not to be known at Ashland.

Among the passengers on the ill-fated train was James Quirk, the well known theatrical manager and sporting man of Mahanoy City. He left his home for Philadelphia. He escaped from the wreck without injury and proceeded on his journey by the next train. United States Senator James Penrose was in the Pullman car of the wrecked train, but escaped injury. The rear end of the car was crushed. At three o'clock this afternoon the official

The death of Peric Condon ends the earthly career of a man widely known in this county. He was an athlete of some reputation and his foot race at Crossons with Terry Quinn, of Minersville, in 1878, was a feature of the sporting history hereabouts. He was born in Port Carbon about 50 years ago and boarded on the Schuylkill canal until 1880, shortly after which he took a position as watchman at the almshouse, where he held various positions until 1894, when he resigned to enter the saloon business at Palo Alto. He is survived by his widow, who is a daughter of "Squire Collins, of Palo Alto, and six children. The funeral will take place on Monday morning.

The small audience that was compelled to put up $3.00 for a choice seat in the Academy of Music last evening to witness the twenty-round bout between Jack Bomer, of Summit Hill, and Dick Moore, of Philadelphia, came away disgusted. The latter refused to go on for twenty rounds because there was not enough money in sight, and after considerable wrangling they went at it for six rounds. There was little done in the first and second rounds, but in the third Bomer landed a right hand swing below the ear, and Moore bit the dust. He rolled over and was counted out. Many present claimed it was a fake.

MONUMENT MOVEMENT.

Meeting of the Soldiers' Monument Association Last Night.

CONSIDERABLE WORK IS DONE!

The Board of Directors Report That the Site is Almost Cleared and State How the Task Has Been Accomplished—The Expenditure $2,000.

A regular meeting of the Soldiers' Monument Park Association was held in the G. A. R. headquarters, Reford's building, last evening and a lengthy report was made by the Board of Directors as to the progress of the work in clearing the site for the monument. The report stated that, as a first effort towards economy, a call was issued for volunteer labor, with but very few responses. A second plan was then resorted to—offering to pay volunteers for five days, at $1.50 per day, providing they would work six days and give the first to the monument fund. This brought more offers of labor than the Directors could accept, and there is now a long list of applicants awaiting their turn. The advantage to be gained by the Association through this plan is a saving of over $100 on $600 worth of work, but the expenditure will not run that much. A great deal of work has been done on the site. It was originally very swampy, but through a system of draining has been made perfectly dry. During the progress of the work, seventeen springs were located and cut, and each spring has been connected with a drain leading to a general outlet. Unless trees have been uprooted and burned and unsightly rocks and stones unsorted, ready for removal. Some of the rock will be reserved for the abutment of the proposed monument. The expenditure thus far has amounted to about $200 and the free labor aggregated about thirty days, or $45. The work of clearing the site will be completed in about two weeks, with favorable weather.

The report was favorably received by the Association and the Board of Directors will continue in line with the plans it has been following.

Mr. John Watson requested that he be permitted to withdraw from the Board of Directors, stating that he was unable to give the duties the attention required, and suggested that W. J. Watkins be elected to fill the vacancy. The request was granted, and Mr. Watson was tendered a vote of thanks for services rendered the Board, after which the election suggested was made by acclamation.

It was decided to publish a call for the names of all Shenandoah volunteers who served in the army and navy before the protocol of peace was signed.

The following notice was received by the Association: "Please take notice that you must not deposit stone or other refuse material from your lot on the Girard Estate."

The association adjourned to meet on Friday evening, June 2nd.
