LaParre's Circus.

Thronged the streets this morning to witness the street parade of LaParre's Circus and Menagerie and were well rewarded for their waiting. The parade was one of the most imposing displays made since the Wild West was here. The display of horses, ponies, donkeys, elephants and other animals, elaborately decorated band wagons and chariots stirred up the juvenile spirit and crowds followed the parade to the grounds. The circus arrived in town at three o'clock this morning. Eighteen teams of horses, for its transportation, three coaches being reserved for the performers. The performance this afternoon was witnessed by a large audience. It was clean, moral and highly interesting. Many new features were introduced. The company tolerates no graters or shell game men on the grounds. Another, and final, performance will be given this evening.

bound of The Collector Burke had been returned to the County Commissioners for proper approval by Council. Relative to the claim of Glenn and O'Hearn, the Solicitor said the firm had agreed to pay the costs and accept the face of the claim, and he recommended that a settlement be made on that basis, a motion to that effect was carried. Messrs. McGuire and James asking to be recorded in the negative.

As to the power of the Borough Auditors to bind the Council by contracts for supplies, Mr. Bell submitted that he had such power where the supplies are necessary for the audit. Mr. James asked if the Auditors have a right to contract a bill of $50 or $60 for printing the audit.

Solicitor Burke replied that he would reserve the privilege of looking more particularly into the matter, but he thought the Auditors ought to present their report to the Borough Council, and then Council should make arrangements to have the report printed to carry their audit. The work of the Auditors ends when they submit their report to Council.

Mr. Brennan, of the lamp and watch committee, reported that two of the four street electric lights authorized by Council at its last meeting had been placed at the other two had not, because the man who puts up the wires is working at nights elsewhere. He also said there was a dispute about the light at the corner of Poplar and West streets, some people wanting it, and others being opposed, and the committee had decided to leave the question to Council. The report led to a spirited debate.

Mr. James said there was not a property owner in the locality mentioned who is opposed to the location of the lamp. Councilman Brennan said this was a false statement, and the discussion was cut short by the president rapping for order and declaring that discussions should be deferred until the matter came up under the proper head of business.

The report of the roads and highways committee raised a lively exchange of remarks. Mr. Coakley said the Supervisor had put in a bridge on Coal street, but nothing had been done regarding the telephone ordinance. He did not desire to call the meeting of the street and ordinance committees because Mr. Boehm, one of the members, was ill.

Mr. James said Mr. Coakley agreed to call a meeting for last Tuesday evening, but for some unknown reason, changed his mind. He then agreed to call a meeting for Wednesday night. The latter statement Mr. Coakley denied. The discussion was ended by Mr. Coakley agreeing to call the joint meeting next week, or the week following.

Mr. James said that Mr. J. J. Franey had requested that he be given until the first Monday of June to put the property at the corner of Oak street and Plum alley in condition to be leased to the Pennsylvania Valley Railroad Company to haul dirt to the place.

President McGuire said the matter was out of order, as Council had decided at the last meeting that the officials should go ahead and do everything legal to have the place put in proper condition. He also said the place had been in its present condition for over a year and the matter could not be taken up without a reconsideration of the previous motion.

Mr. Bell moved that the previous motion be reconsidered and Mr. Franey be granted the time asked.

President McGuire asked that Borough Solicitor Burke be appointed to the vacant position of Clerk, Burgess and street committee, be read. This was done, the communication was read as follows:

"In regard to the dangerous condition of the highway at the northeastern corner of Plum alley and Oak street, which matter was referred to me by Council, I desire to advise you that the proper and legal method of removing the danger, if the owner of the above property refuses to do so, is for the Chief Burgess to proceed to have the work done at once and he was willing to stand by his figures, although he understood they came between his, Mr. Bell's, and those of Mr. Hedron. The latter said he got the surveyor to measure the work. A letter from the Chief Burgess in reply showed that the measurement was 323.5-10 feet. An order was granted for that amount.

This was followed by a resolution that hereafter the widths of gutters to be laid by the borough be governed by the amount of water to be carried and in length, they be four feet less than the width of the streets, allowing two feet at each end.

It was decided to have traps placed at the Starr and Lee properties on East Coal street, and at the property on Centre street.

The Supervisor in a letter to the District Attorney, calling attention to the need of repairs to that part of the road leading to Ellangowan within the borough limits.

Borough Solicitor Burke stated that he had written to Mr. Ash, manager for the Lakeside Railway Company, relative to the instructions of the Borough Council as to the cutting down of the grade on East Centre street, and the hauling away of the refuse.

Mr. Ash replied that he wanted the borough to make a proposition to the company in writing as to what it wishes, and that if the proposition is made in good faith, and in a business-like manner, the company would undoubtedly agree to it. The matter was referred to the street committee.

Mr. James asked that the finance committee strike a balance on Mr. Burke's 1897 duplicate, so that the amount may be known.

The fire apparatus committee reported that some fire plugs had been repaired, and one damaged. Recommendations were made for the purchase of supplies, and that the alarm bells in the houses of drivers employed by the fire companies be changed on account of the drivers changing their places of residence. The committee was given power to act.

The truck of Besene Hook & Ladder Company was reported out of service on account of a king bolt threatening to break. The fire apparatus committee was instructed to give the matter immediate attention.

President McGuire called attention to the foundation wall of Timothy O'Brien's property at the southeastern corner of Centre and Bowers streets, which was damaged by a leaking fire plug. He said the wall was in dangerous condition and should receive immediate attention.

Borough Solicitor Burke stated that the
