The two performances given here yester-day by La Pearl's ffircus were of an excellent hoop la kind, who defy the laws of gravity with almost astounding daring and introduce many feats that are entirely new. The circus is of a continuous order, something is on the go all the time. When the expert performers are not in the rings, or whirling through the air, a troupe of a dozen clowns come forward and indulge in ludicrous antics, such as burlesque base ball, rope jumping, acrobatic feats, and trick mule riding. The performance was clean, moral and up-to-date. The attendance last night exceeded the seating capacity, which is by no means limited.
