THE PEOPLE INTERESTED.

Much Favorable Comment as in the Railway on Centre Street.

The movement to change the Schuylkill Traction Company's tracks from Coal street, and allow the company to come up West Centre street instead, is meeting with popular approval. The more the subject is agitated the greater appears the wisdom of the proposed change, and the agitation is likely to continue until the desires of the people are acceded to by the Council and the Traction Company.

The movement was first started about two or three months ago when a committee of representative and prominent citizens called upon the Traction Company officials at Gettysburg to induce the latter to build a branch road to Ellansgowan and Maple Hill. If this can be accomplished it will mean much to the business men of this town. The members of the committee were animated by a proper spirit, and in line with the former protect the subject of changing the tracks from Coal to Centre street was discussed. It was pointed out that the former thoroughfare was entirely too narrow, in view of the large amount of traffic on that street; that it was dangerous to both individuals and teams so long as the company occupies it.

The subject has been quietly agitated since then, although it has recently been brought to the attention of the public generally. True, there are some who oppose the change, but there has never been a popular movement, no matter to what extent it may benefit the people, but has met with opposition. The erection of the thoroughfare was an instance. So far there has been no good reason advanced why the change should not be made. Many of the people along Coal street, who daily encounter the disadvantages that at present exist, would welcome the change. As an instance of the feeling at the lower end of Coal street, we have received a communication from a property-holder, occupying his own house on that street. Here is what he says:

Editor Herald—I read your comments on the bad and miserable street we have. I don't blame the railroad people, but I do think that the men in Council, if they do their duty, should force the railroad people to move their road to a wider street. It's a big nuisance to me and my family. I own the little house I live in on Coal street and consider my property there. If the track was moved we could enjoy good roads, but can't now. Make those Councilmen do their duty. B.

Mr. Morris has been a resident of Shenandoah for the past three years, coming here from Wilkesbarre to become coal inspector at Wm. Penn colliery. During that time he has made many friends who will regret to hear that he is to leave. Mr. Morris' knowledge of the preparation of coal is unexcelled and the promotion is a deserving one.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES!

Memorial Day Sermon in All Saints' Church Last Night.

G. A. R. VETERANS IN ATTENDANCE

Annual May Celebration of the Sodality in the Annunciation Church Last Evening—Augmented by an Impressive Display by Over a Hundred Children.

The memorial service in All Saints' Protestant Episcopal church last evening was attended by a congregation that crowded the place of worship to the doors. The members of Washington Post No. 146, G. A. R., Henry Horacastle Camp No. 49, Sons of Veterans, Women's Relief Corps and Ladies' Aid Society proceeded to the church in a body and occupied the seats to the right of the main aisle. The seats to the left were occupied by members of the congregation and a number of people from other churches.

The altar of the church was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants, and the choir rendered music especially arranged for the occasion, under the leadership of Miss Edith Morgan, Master Frank Hoch, alto of the Church of the Nativity of South Bethlehem, assisted.

Rev. G. W. Van Fossen, the rector, was assisted in the service by Mr. Charles Haskins, lay reader. Rev. Van Fossen extended a welcome to the visiting organization and expressed the appreciation of the congregation and himself for the honor conferred by the attendance. The sermon was a brief one, but full of beautiful and touching sentiment. The text was taken from St. John XV, 12—“More love hath no man than this that a man lay down his life for his friend.” During the discourse Rev. Van Fossen laid stress upon the indication of growth in the spirit of humanity on the part of civilized nations toward each other. This, he said, was particularly manifested by the United States foreign policy with Spain, when the hand of sympathy and humanity was extended to the vanquished even where the most bitter opposition had been met. The rector also commended upon the great promise offered by the Peace Congress of the United States for the future, which is something never before recorded in the history of the world. The Christian spirit is manifesting itself in many ways and he hoped that the members were aware of the sake of the gorgeous display, the glory of victory and satisfaction of conquering will become records of the past, and that should have been a necessity, it shall be only for the protection of the weak and righteous. Women, he said, can do much in this direction. They wield a powerful influence and their mothers, daughters and sisters, and it should be their aim at all times to fight for, and induct those under their care and influence to sustain the cause of God and humanity.

The church of the Annunciation, which is the scene of beautiful services yesterday, at 8 o'clock in the morning the rector, Rev. H. F. O'Reilly, administered first communion to about 120 children, and this ceremony was followed by a service of the Holy Sacrament.

In the evening the annual May celebration of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary took place. It was a very impressive service. The Sodality met at Annunciation hall and marched to the church at seven o'clock. The several hundred members were led by Miss Margaret Burke, of town, and Miss Mary Fogarty, of Brownsville. The Sodality was followed by 200 children, dressed in white and carrying flowers and fifteen banners representing the mysteries of the Rosary. The choir sang to the doors by the attendance. The children marched through the aisles to the strains of beautiful music and the marching ended at the altar, where the altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary was crowned by Mary Maher, a little girl five years old, assisted by Miss Helen Mulhaly and Margaret Westervelt, who served in the capacity of bearers.

The program that preceded the address was as follows: Processional, “Welcome Month of May,” the joyful mysteries, “Our Queen of May,” the sorrowful mysteries, “The Dolours of Our Lady,” the glorious mysteries, “Holy Mother Guide Us,” a hymn to St. Joseph, recitation, “Our Holy Mother,” recitation, “Coronation,” the crowning, “Mary, We Crown Thee,” devotion of the altar, “The Palm of all Virgins,” recitation, “Accept Our Humble Offering,” recitation, “My Angel Guardian.”

This part of the service was followed by the address, which was delivered by Rev. James Kane, of Philadelphia, formerly curate of the Annunciation church. It was an able and impressive discourse on “The Heart of Jesus.” The sermon was followed by the benediction and closing hymn, Rev. O'Reilly also took part in the service. Messrs. T. J. Malahy, M. J. O'Neill, J. F. O'Haran and Thomas M. Scanlan were the ushers for the occasion and rendered excellent service.

POTTSVILLE NEWS.

happenings in Court and Elsewhere at the County Seat.

Pottsville, May 29.—Court opened this morning with Judges Bechtel and Marr on the bench in No. 1 court room, and Judge McClure, of Lewisburg, Union county, hearing the damage suit of Henry Groy vs. the borough of Pottsville, in No. 2 court room. Judge Marr handed down the following opinions:

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Kepner, Scott & Co., of Orwigsburg, in which an injunction was recently refused, an opinion was filed.

Teresa Kelly was granted a divorce from John M. Kelly, on the ground of desertion. In the suit of Greenagie vs. Greenagie a divorce was refused.

John J. Shea was appointed Judge of Election in Tremont's East ward. Israel I. Rubinovsky was appointed minority inspector of the 1st precinct, Fourth ward, Pottsville.

G. A. Warkussak was appointed Constable at Ladsburg, to fill a vacancy. William A. Womer was appointed an auditor of Pottsville, in place of William Short, removed to Philadelphia.

DECISIONS BY JUDGE BECHTEL.

Judge Bechtel announced that under the Act of 1885, the court would suggest (but not order) that the Controller and County Commissioners advertise for bids on the White system of indices to the extent of twenty volumes for use in the Prothonotary's office, to record future business, and not for the re-indexing of old records. He also stated that all the Judges had concurred in this subject, and had adopted the plan named to get at the cost. The bids must include the use of the patent right for Schuykill county. There is no doubt of the Controller and Commissioners following the Court's suggestion.

John O. Ulrich filed the petition of Herman Kellman, of Rush township, for the opening of a public road from his home to the junction of the Tamaqua and Tamaqua roads. Three viewers will be appointed when the bid is called. Mr. Ulrich also had John W. Honsberger appointed examiner in the Kertz divorce suit.

W. H. Wilhelm asked for a rule on the plaintiff in the case of the U. S. Printing Company vs. H. F. Bright, to show cause why satisfaction of the judgment should not be entered on record. In Dunkelberger vs. Higgins rule asked on the defendant to show cause why no judgment should not be set off against another. Both rules were granted.

A new list was asked for William Hoffmann vs. Mill Creek Coal Company, in which $130 coal dirt damages were allowed by a jury last week.

TO START THE MILLS.

Request was made that a day be set for hearing the rule upon the creditors and receivers of the Pottsville Iron and Steel Company, operating the Flashback rolling mills, and the Pottsville Coal Company, to sell an alias order of sale should not be granted to sell the entire property, clear of all incumbrances. June 9th, he suggested, but John W. Ryan, of town, and his colleague, Benjamin W. Cumming, who is to be wedded June 1st. Mr. Breckons put it off, but John W. Ryan smilingly retorted, “There's no court you can appeal to in that matter.” Judge Bechtel stated there were many interested parties, and the disposition of the rule, in which the general public is so vitally interested, was deferred until the next date would suit everybody. He, therefore, after consulting with Judge Marr, named Monday, June 12th. The hearing of this rule was first set for June 12th, but, owing to various objections on the part of the creditors, was postponed from time to time without result. The principal creditors, outside of the Aitkin family, of Pottsville, are the James H. Campbell estate, of Philadelphia, and the Miners' National Bank, of Allentown.

The principal creditors, outside of the Aitkin family, of Pottsville, are the James H. Campbell estate, of Philadelphia, and the Miners' National Bank, of Allentown. The property and permit the re-organization of the company, with the starting of a new mill and furnace, with one exception, and if this creditor makes no objection, it is possible the works will resume within a few months. When in full blast they employ about 400 men. The one time about thirty thousand dollars was paid out monthly.

S. M. Esterline filed the petition of Calvin Price, of Minersville, to set aside a sale of satisfaction of mortgage given to H. D. Brownman, of Reading, should not be stricken from the record. He also filed a petition in behalf of the Creditors Charles O. Miller, questioning the distribution awarded by the auditor.

J. F. Shepley filed the petition of Council No. 708, Jr. O. U. A. M., North Union township, to establish a beneficial fund. H. O. Bechtel moved for a nol. pro. in the case of Shepley vs. Hugh E. Deary, stating that the propositus and child are deceased, and the District Attorney is satisfied. Mr. Houghston objected, and the District Attorney stated that he believed the child was alive, and no one was present when the alleged act of rape was committed, other than the propositus, and he thought the best course was to nol. pro. the case save costs. No action will be taken for the present.

John R. Coyle asked for an order permitting Mary Henry, of Shenandoah, to sell the one-fourth interest of John R. Coyle, to property to Mary Whitaker for $450, and her $500 bond, with Michael Mellet and John J. Ryan as sureties, to the sum of $100,000, with a certificate showing the agreement of all the heirs to the sale.

Former Judge Koch moved for a mandamus against the County Commissioners to compel them to issue 175 one-hundred dollar bonds to Henry H. Pierson, of Philadelphia, in accordance with their agreement with him. The court may announce its decision next Monday. The mandamus raises the two questions at issue, namely, whether the Commissioners have authority to sell bonds without advertising, and whether the Controller's signature to the bonds is necessary.

The argument of the Taxpayer's Association's appeal from the County report for 1897 was continued to Monday, June 12th. William Wilhelm placed Annie Hattery of Harcum, on the stand, and she made affidavit that she bought the property of John Lawlor, of Mahanoy City, before the German B. & L. Association had entered the judgment under which it was sold to David M. Graham, at Sherill's sale. Her $400 bond was filed this afternoon, and the court will decide the case later.

John F. Whelan said he was ready to argue the Scanlan tax bond case, but John R. Coyle stated that Messrs. Reilly and Wallinger were not in court, and argument was continued till next Monday.

By agreement between Messrs. Whalen and Burke argument in the suit of the Columbia Brewing Company of Shenandoah vs. Patrick McDermott and others was continued to next Monday.

FILIPINOS AGGRESSIVE

Wet Season Gives the Insurrection a New Lease of Life.

HARDSHIPS OF OUR SOLDIERS

Sleeping in Their Clothing and Constantly on the Alert Against Dashes Upon the Outposts—Insurgents Believe That Our Forces Are Wrecking Manila, May 29.—The approach of the wet season finds the insurrection seemingly taking a new lease of life. All along the American lines the rebels are showing more aggressive activity in their guerrilla style, than at any time before since the fall of Malolos. They keep the United States troops in the trenches, sleeping in their clothing and constantly on the alert against dashes upon our outposts, and they make life warm for the American garrisons in the towns.

The bands of General Luna and General Mascardo, which retreated toward Tarlac when they feared they would be caught between General MacArthur and General Lawton, have returned in force to their old trenches around San Fernando, where there are daily collisions.

Opposite our lines on the south, protecting Manila, all the way around to San Pedro Macuti, the Filipinos have three rows of trenches most of the distance. Reports from prisoners indicate that the insurgents construe the peace negotiations to mean that the Americans have had enough of fighting. The Filipinos are also encouraged by the belief that the Americans are preparing for an interval of inactivity during the wet season.

This period is sure to be followed by a lull in the fighting. Thousands of acres that were under cultivation last year have not been plowed this year and the government will probably be obliged to feed thousands, just as it fed the Cubans.

Friendly natives, Amigos, continue to pour into the American lines by land and river routes, coming from the territory of insurrection into the country where the passage of the two armies has left no food, and practically throwing them upon the charity of their conquerors. Such able bodied men as are not in the Filipino ranks have been kept by the insurgent leaders in the trenches, and old men, women and children form the mass of the refugees.
