Eye Treatment For Children.

Many children are allowed to wink and blink through the day's study, and at home, with a book six or eight inches from the eyes.

During childhood, the ocular nerves and muscles are very sensitive and may be exposed to severe inflammation and strain by overwork. Where a child was formerly doped with drugs for nervous and muscular trouble he is now cured with glasses.

CYCLONE'S DEAD.

strewn all around, while dead bodies lie in many places, the corpses badly disfigured and some of them hardly recognizable.

The relief train from Blair arrived about an hour after the storm and the work of picking up the wounded was begun. Willing hands did what they could to help the injured, and in the course of an hour the train pulled out for Blair with 95 injured on board. They were taken to Blair, as there is absolutely no place left at Herman at which treatment can be administered.

All the citizens of Blair have thrown open their homes to the wounded and the unfortunates are being cared for by competent surgeons. Many of the injured will die, but some of them received but slight injuries. It is impossible at this hour, owing to the confusion, to ascertain the number of dead, but 12 are known to be dead, and the list will run very much higher.

SERIES OF MISFORTUNES.
Explosion and Other Mishaps Claim Victims at Gilberton Colliery.

The Gilberton colliery, operated by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company, has been experiencing an exceptionally unfortunate course of events during the past few days and the officials are earnestly wishing for a favorable change.

The misfortunes started a week ago last Monday with an explosion of gas precipitated by a fire that smoldered for about five months, and resulted in the burning of the inside foreman, George Thomas, who suffered but slightly, however. This explosion resulted in a fire that has caused an abandonment of that section of the mine. The West Buck Mountain vein is being sealed up from the fourth lift to the fan shaft, in order that the fire may be smothered. The work of sealing the shaft will be completed by the close of this week.

The abandonment of this section of the mine will not prove the loss to the operators that many people first thought it would. That part was in process of robbing and it will only take about six months to clean it out. Only a small number of men were employed in it.

The next accident in the mine occurred on Monday afternoon, last, when John Cotamus, a resident of Turkey Run and employed as bottom man in the slope, had his right leg caught at the knee between the bumpers of cars. Although the miners had an idea that it would result fatally. The limb was bleeding freely and some of the men made a tight binding above the seat of injury to stop the loss of blood. Cotamus was taken to the miners' hospital and died yesterday from an explosion due to loss of blood. The explosion did not crush the limb, but it ruptured one of the main arteries. The victim was 30 years old and married.

The surprising news of this death had hardly been received when another accident occurred, resulting in the injury of two men by an explosion of powder. One of the victims, Joseph Mutschavage, a single man 24 years old and residing at Gilberton, is at the miners' hospital. His condition is serious, but his chances for recovery are good. The second victim was a young man named James Reilly, also of Gilberton, and employed as a driver. His injuries are not very serious and he is being cared for at home.

The circumstances of this accident are interesting, in that they present an instance proving that accidents will sometimes befall the mine worker in spite of precaution. Mutschavage was at his supply box at the side of the passageway, making a powder cartridge, when Kelly, the driver, came out with a trip of cars. Just as Kelly passed the air current carried a spark from his lamp into the powder the miner was using. The latter was burned about the face, hands and arms, while the driver received a scorching of the face. An official of the colliery remarked yesterday it seemed to him that accidents will happen in spite of rules, or vigilance.

SONS OF VETERANS.
Many Delegates in Attendance at the Opening Session.

The Pennsylvania Division Encampment of the Sons of Veterans opened at Hazleton yesterday with a large attendance of officers, delegates and other members of the organization. It was called to order by Col. A. S. Mouthrop, of DuBois. Prayer was offered by Rev. McCurdy, of Cammonsburg, after which there was roll call, showing 100 delegates in attendance. Mayor Meyers made an address of welcome, to which Rev. Otto Draht, of Mahanoy City, responded.

Adjutant Robert E. Hopkins' report gave the total membership as 6,550 made up of 50 camps. This shows a gain of 1,300 members and 10 camps since last year. The Eastern camp showed the greatest loss, having lost ground owing to their members enlisting in the Spanish war. So far 283 members are reported as having enlisted and there are still many to be heard from. These names will be placed on the roll of honor of the National organization. $2,500 was spent for relief during the year and 14 deaths occurred.

Quartermaster Wm. P. McNulty, of Philadelphia, reported the order to be free from all debt. The receipts during the year were $4,284.05, leaving a balance in the treasury of $60.20.

THE LADIES' AID.

While the Sons of Veterans were holding their convention in Hazlet Hall, the Ladies' Aid Society was in session in the G. A. R. hall. President Mrs. L. L. Jones, of Altoona, called this session to order, and 67 delegates responded to the call of the roll. A large increase in the enrollment was expected to-day. The Mayor's address was responded to by Division President Mrs. Jones and Past President Laura Martin, of Philadelphia.

The reports submitted showed a total of 29 societies with a membership of 1,000; the finances to be in good condition and the work of the order in general to be prospering.
