Judge Bechtel in the Scaulan tax bond case is thought by lawyers to be a very important document and it may set a state wide pre-cedent in the matter as to bends of this nature. No written opinion was fled, but in cedeat in the matter as to bends of this nature. No written opinion was sled, but in the refusing to open the judgment on the 1865 bend and denying a trial by jury the Court and Miller reside at Schuylkill Haven and the volunteer generals, some of whom bond and denying a trial by jury the Court said in effect, that different conclusions were survived at on the two applications for 1862 and 1893 bonds. "If it were left to me the money collected on the 1895 duplicate should be applied toward the settlement of that duplicate and not on the payment of the 1895 duplicate," commented his Honor, "But it having been so done by the Town. Council, and the Auditors, and no appeal having been taken by the Tax Collector or his sureties the court cannot now interfere with the arrangement. THE 1896 CASE DIFFERENT.

In regard to the rule to open judgment on the 1896 bond his Honor remarked he need not say that all the authorities apply here. In reference to the 1895 bond be ought to have said the claim was made that the duplicate had not been delivered in time, but that contention is also overruled. Two questions arise in the matter of the 1890 bond, viz: First, that the collector was elected April 1st, 1894, for a term of three years, expiring April 1st, 1897. The Act of Assembly provides that the collector "shall well and truly collect and pay over, or account for the
