A VIVID DREAM.

One of Robert Louis Stevenson's Phantoms of the Brain.

Yesterday I walked too far and sp all the afternoon on the outside of my bed; went finally to rest at 9 and slept nearly 19 hours on the stretch. Bennett (the doctor), when told of it this morning, augured well for my recovery. He said routh must be putting in strong, course I ought not to have slept at all.

As it was, I dreamed horribly, but not my usual dreams of social miseries and sunderstandings and all sorts of crucifixions of the spirit, but of good, cheery, physical things—of long successions of vaulted, dimly lit cellars full of black water, in which I went swimming among toads and unutterable, cold, blind fishes. Now and then these cellars opened up into a sort of domed music hall places, one could land for a little on the slope of the orchestra, but a sort of horor prevent-ed one from staying long and made one plunge back again into the dead waters. Then my dream changed, and I was a sort of Siamese pirate on a very high deck with several others. The ship was almost captured, and we were fighting desperately. The hideous engines we used and the perfectly incredible carriage that we effected by means of them kept me cheery, as you may imagine, especially as I felt all the time my sympathy with the boarders and knew that I was only a prisoner with these horrid Malays. Then I saw a signal I could take. I can being given and knew they were going to blow up the ship

I leaped right off, and heard my captors splash in the water after me as thick as nebbles when a hit of river bank had given way beneath the foot. I never heard the ship blow up, but I spent the rest of the night swimming about some piles with the whole sea full of Malays, searching for me with knives in their mouths. They could swim any distance under water, and every now and again, just as I was beginning to reckon myself safe, a cold hand would be laid on my ankle—ugh !—"The Letters of Robert Louis Stevenson," edit ed by Sidney Colvin, in Scribner's.

Dr. Jackson points to the startling fact that there are now 20 million

Catarrhites? It looks like it.

The Aboriginal Indians are said not to have known the disease. That proves it is not caused by our climate and must have been imported. Its growth was slow but persistent. Forty years ago there were less than 40.000 cases in the U.S., to-day there are 29 million. Soon there will be 20 million. Where is it to end? Shall we not awake till it has fastened its fangs on every man, woman and child in the land? How shall we prevent it unless we take fauncdiate and vicorous steps to stamp out the plague? This putrid disease knows no sex, no class, ho station. It is everywhere. A germ (microbe) disease it spreads by contagion. The carion breath and expectoration of the poor victim are loaded with these microbes. Others breath them in, they find hedgement and never release their hold lift the victim lies down in death, unless every microbe is killed. But can they be killed? Yes, but not by any blood medicine." No Calarth germ was ever found in the blood. The routhle is local and must be treated locally. A balsam has been discovered that is sure death to the Canarrh microbe, making a radical and permanical cure. It is Brazillan Baim. It has cured tons of thousands in the past is years. It also cures all the troubles caused by Catarrh, severe Throut, Old Cougha, Brunchtin, Ashma and Lung troubles. The swallowing of the nature pass makes the Stomech raw and steen, and Lung troubles with Catarrh and Ashma have ran-down systems we will till January next put amountly's treatment of Toxicola Tablets, free, in with every $1.00 hottle of Brazillan Baim. In his unforted with Catarrh and Ashma have ran-down systems we will till January next put amountly's treatment of both. Now is the time to treatyour Catarris. Do not delay. Ask your druggist and take no substitute. If he will not get it, send direct to us. B. P. Jackson & Co., M'rg. Chembra, Indianapolis, Ind.
