WHITE RULE IN SAMOA.

German Consul General Rose Discusses the Situation.

CONTROL OF THE COMMISSION

Promptly Agreed to by the Contending Native Factions—Natives Will Doubtless Be Given Consideration in the Direction Interior Affairs.

Washington, July 15.—Consul General Rose, the German official who has been one of the foremost figures in the recent events in Samoa, called at the White House yesterday and was introduced by Secretary Hay to the president. A brief talk on Samoan affairs occurred, and hopes were expressed on both sides that the causes of recent friction had disappeared. Herr Rose afterwards saw a press representative and gave an interesting outline of the conditions up to the time he left Samoa.

"Prior to the arrival of the Samoan commission," said he, "an armistice had been arranged with the native forces. Mataafa and his men were back of a line sweeping around the city of Apia and extending from the town of Falenia to Lantil. The Mataafa forces numbered about 2,500 men. Tanu and his men occupied the peninsula jutting out from the mainland near Apia. They numbered about 2,000 men. Both forces were fairly well armed, but the Tanu men had, in addition to their old arms, about 700 modern rifles, furnished by the British ships at the time of the conflict.

"The commissioners first turned their attention to disarming the native forces. As soon as they arrived Mataafa sent a letter of greeting and said he would abide by any decision they might make. The commission then gave a hearing on board the Badger to each of the claimants for the kingship, Mataafa being heard one day and Tanu another. They were addressed not as kings, but simply as 'Sir.' As senior member of the body the American commissioner, Mr. Tripp, asked some very direct questions of Mataafa and Tanu. He wanted to know if they were ready to give their support to the commission, even if it determined to deny the right of one or the other of them to the kingship, or to abolish the kingship entirely. Serious as these questions were to the two claimants for the throne, they promised to support the commission in whatever action was taken.

"Some days later the Badger went along the coast to Malie, where Mataafa's headquarters were located. The native chiefs came alongside and a formal surrender of 1,875 guns was made to the commission.

"Mataafa and his chiefs came aboard the ship, and were entertained at a dinner. The Tanu party followed with the surrender of their arms a few days later, for, while the decision of the commissioners had upheld Tanu, yet it was felt to be in the interest of all concerned that the native kingship should be brought to an end, and that an administration by white men, at least over those localities where white interests are greatest, should be brought about. Tanu yielded to this decision, but for a time there was some prospect of trouble, as the royal flags were kept flying over the Tanu headquarters, despite the fact that he had surrendered the kingship. This was a source of irritation to the Mataafa people, who considered it contrary to the understanding arrived at.

"Since arriving in this country, however, I understand that this source of difficulty has been removed and that the Tanu flag is withdrawn and the Tanu forces dispersed. The Mataafa people having also gone back to the interior with the natives disarmed, and both factors back to their homes, there is every reason to believe that no further trouble will arise, and that the commission will be free to work out a satisfactory plan for the future government of the islands.

"In determining upon the abolition of the kingship the commission has the support of all the leading business interests in Samoa."

Herr Rose did not wish to discuss the future government of the islands, as this might anticipate the report of the commission. He has no doubt, however, that the essential principle will be the white man's administration in place of the native kingship, certainly for those parts where foreign interests predominate, while at the same time the natives will be given proper consideration in the direction of affairs in the interior of the island.

Another American Proposal Indorsed.

London, July 15.—The correspondent of The Times at The Hague says: With a view of adding a useful resource to the arbitration court Mr. Holls, of the American delegation, has proposed an amendment which, it is understood, Great Britain and Germany, as well as some other powers, will cordially support. This is to the effect that the court shall be empowered at the close of the preliminary stage of the proceedings, with the consent of both parties, to order an international commission of inquiry whenever the facts or circumstances seem to warrant such a course.

THE WOMAN WHO COUGHED

A Wreck From Grippe, Catarrh and Asthma.

RESTORED WITH BRAZILIAN BALM

I was known as "The Woman who Coughs," for I coughed incessantly. I was a school teacher till my health failed. Catarrh had eaten away the partition in my nose. It had produced Bronchitis, Asthma, dreadful Stomach troubles and weak kidneys. In fact it had gone all through my system, making me an easy victim for the Grippe which left me a wreck in mind and body. This was the condition the doctors left me in, after dosing me with opium, quinine, etc. Then I bought cough cures without end but they only made me worse, I was in despair till I got hold of Brazilian Balm and Toxicola Tablets, They acted like magic from the first, and in a few weeks I was cured and better than I had been in years. Talk about wonderful remedies, Brazilian Balm and Toxicola saved my life.

Miss L. L. Clark, 917 Horton St.

You get more doses of Brazilian Balm for the money than any other remedy. 25, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle at druggists. THE CASHIER IN PRISON.

The Middlesex County Bank of Perth Amboy Closed.

SHORTAGE AT LEAST $125,000.

Cashier Valentine Had Disappeared and an Investigation Showed Apparent Juggling With the Accounts and Cash of the Institution.

Perth Amboy, N. J., July 15.—George M. Valentine, cashier of the Middlesex County bank, of this city, which closed yesterday, has surrendered himself, and is now in jail on account of a shortage in the bank's funds which has been been variously estimated all the way to $165,000. The affair caused consternation and dismay among the business men of Perth Amboy, where the Middlesex County bank was considered as strong as the eternal hills. So panic stricken did the residents become when it was learned that the Middlesex County bank had failed to open business as usual yesterday morning that crowds surrounded the Perth Amboy Savings institution. What made the run on the savings bank appear all the more serious was the fact that the officers of the Middlesex County bank and the officers of the Perth Amboy Savings institution are identical, the business of both banks being transacted over the same counters.

Though it became necessary to call for the aid of the police for the purpose of maintaining order U. B. Watson, the president of both banks, says that the funds of the Perth Amboy Savings institution were not touched, that the $300,000 deposited to the account of the savings institution is absolutely safe, and that, no matter how badly the Middlesex County bank has been wrecked, the savings bank will be able to meet all demands made upon it by depositors. These words of assurance from the officers of the savings institution had the effect of checking the run on this bank.

On Monday last Cashier George M. Valentine evidently concluded that he could no longer conceal the shortage at the Middlesex County bank. On that morning he telephoned President Watson that he was detained, but he said that he would appear at noon. The bank had then opened for business, and Mr. Watson, who was taking the absent cashier's place, discovered that there should have been some $7,900 in bills on hand to commence operations for that morning. These he could not find in the vault. Mr. Watson had been searching for it when Valentine called up by telephone. He asked Valentine where this money was and was told it had been placed in the cashier's private drawer. Mr. Watson remarked that was no place for it, but rang off on the telephone and went to get it. A duplicate key to the drawer indicated was obtained and the drawer opened, but no money could be found. Mr. Robert Valentine, the cashier's father, was sumoned, and he aided in the search for the missing money. It could not be found, and finally the work of checking was begun. Then it soon became evident that during the last few months the accounts of the bank had been juggled. The other trustees were summoned, and the banking department was notified to send an examiner. Deputy Commissioner of Banking Johnson appeared in response.

On Wednesday Mrs. Valentine, the wife of the cashier, returned from Ocean Grove and called at the bank and wanted to know where her husband was. This was the first intimation she had that he was not on duty, and showed the officials that Valentine was not at the seashore, as at first appeared.

On Monday the Park National of New York charged the Middlesex bank with checks to the amount of $4,000, which are said to have been drawn on it against the account of the Middlesex by Valentine.

A detailed investigation of matters by President Watson and Robert N. Valentine showed that the cashier's checks did not correspond; that the checks called for more money than the stubs recorded, and that, while taking the stubs as the basis of accounting the bank's finances would figure out all right, the checks would show that the bank had been drawing heavily on its New York correspondent, the Park National bank. The cashier, in fact, carried the accounts on the stub and from the books correctly, but when the returns from the cashier's checks came he pocketed the difference between the stub and check. Four or five months of this method of financing depleted the bank's reserve moneys and brought it to the verge of ruin. Then the cashier evidently secured the ready cash on hand and left Perth Amboy.

Tuesday night the determination to close the bank was agreed upon, and President Watson notified Chief of Police Burke and asked him to locate the missing cashier. Valentine, who had been in New York city, returned to Perth Amboy from Woodbridge, accompanied by his counsel, Edward Savage, of Rahway. He declined to go into details about the shortage of the bank, except to say that he was very sorry that he had got his friends into trouble, and that he felt very bad about his wife and children.

President Watson is of the opinion that the cashier's defalcation will amount to at least $125,000. Where the money went to is not known, as the cashier is said to have been moderate in his tastes and habits of life.

Cashier Valentine was for years a clerk in the Park National bank of New York. In 1853 he was made cashier of the Middlesex County bank. His bond was fixed for $50,000. His relatives are wealthy, and it is said they will endeavor to make good the shortage.

Not Rabbi Ginsberg's Slayers.

Washington, July 15.—The local police announce that they are satisfied that the two negroes, Mickens and Lee, who were arrested here Thursday night on suspicion of being the murderers of Rabbi Ginsberg, of Binghamton, N. Y., are not guilty of that crime. They find upon closer investigation that the description of the murderers does not fit the men under arrest. The arrested men explain their resistance to the police by saying that they were greatly frightened.

Years of suffering relieved in a night. Itching piles yield at once to the curative properties of Doan's Ointment. Never fails. At any drug store, 50 cents.

DESPERATE STREET BATTLE.

One Man Killed and Six Wounded, Two Fatally.

Texarkana, Tex., July 15.—At New Boston, Bowie county, Texas, there occurred yesterday one of the wildest and most desperate street battles that has yet been recorded in the fighting history of that town. The trouble emanated from a fuss over a barbed wire fence which separated the farms of Ira Smith and W. D. Hays. The two men met at prayer meeting last Sunday, when their case was talked over, resulting in a fight, in which Hays was bested. The difficulty was brought before the peace officers, and the men were arrested.

At their trial yesterday and while a recess was on the difficulty was reopened. Smith went into a saloon, W. D. Hays and his brothers, Hall and S. J. Hays, following him. Shooting began at once. Smith, who is said to have been unarmed, was killed outright. His friends came upon the scene and took part in the conflict. They were Jack, John and Bill Fricks. A general battle then resulted. When their revolvers were emptied the participants used the butt ends of their weapons with deadly effect.

W. D. Hays was mortally wounded; S. J. Hays received a crushed skull and will die; Hall Hays was shot in the arm; J. B. Manning, ex-county attorney, and not a participant, was shot twice, one ball passing through his body. Two other bystanders were also wounded, one, a merchant named W. H. Hart, having his arm shot off.

Hall Hays was arrested, and other arrests will follow. Ira Smith and the Hays boys were cousins.

Was It Consumption?

Doctors are often wrong.

The local doctor is an overworked individual. He hurries from a case of scarletina to a case of diabetes and from that to the amputation of a leg. He must act quickly—sometimes hurriedly. It is not strange that he makes an occasional mistake. But mistakes are dangerous and should be avoided.

Mrs. G. E. Kerr, of Fort Dodge, Iowa, recently had some experience. She says:

"Last spring I was taken with severe pains in my chest, and was so weak I could hardly walk about the house. I tried several physicians and they told me I had consumption. Before I had taken the first bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, I was very much better. I took five bottles of it and have not yet had any return of the trouble."

Was it consumption? Probably not.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has been said to cure consumption. It surely and infallibly cures all bronchial and throat troubles. It strengthens weak lungs and cures lingering coughs. It is a healer and builder of tissue. It cleanses and enriches the blood—regulates the heart action—puts the whole body in tune with nature.

Mrs. Kerr's trouble was probably bronchial. It was painful—dangerous if let run—dangerous in the hands of an incompetent doctor. Don't take a local doctor's word for everything. Write to Dr. Pierce. Tell him your symptoms. For over thirty years he has been chief consulting physician at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Consultation with him will cost you nothing.
