SEVERAL OTHER SMALL RIOTS.

The Twenty-one Drooklyn Strikers Charged With Dynamiting the Elevated Structure Released From Castody-Fallure of Identification.

Cleveland, July 25 .- Yesterday failed to bring any relief to the strike situa-tion, which is regarded as serious. The state board of arbitration has practi-cally abandoned efforts to conciliate the strikers and their former employ-ers. The violence of the conductors and motormen who guit work and the more turbulent spirit of their sym-pathizers is held in check to a degree by the presence of the police and the militia, mombers of which ride in the cars or are held in readiness at the barns and terminals.

Small riots occurred during the day, but with one exception they were without serious results. In the death of Henry Cornweit, siain by the bullet fired by Ralph P. Hawley, a conductor on the Broadway line, is recorded the first fatality of the strike. Shortly after noon Hawley's car approached Orange street, and was beset by a crowd of men and boys. Cornwelt, the the car, keeping pace with it for some New York late in the day. distance.

Various stories are told as to what passed between the conductor and the pained between the conductor and the boy. It is said the boy persisted in calling Hawley a "scab." The mob was suddenly called to its senses by the sight of Hawley, who jumped to the street and started in pursuit of Cornweit. The latter, closely followed by his pursuer, turned up Perry street. At Woodland avenue the latter pulled his revolver and fired. His victim fell. fatally wounded with a ghastly wound in the left temple, and died soon after eing removed to the hospital. The crowd, which before the incident had been so violent, was awed by the seriousness of the affair, and permitted the conductor to walk back to his car. He was arrested and taken to the station, where a charge of murder was entered against him. When the car returned in charge of another man, and laden with police, thou-sands of people were crowded around the fatal spot. The track was block-aded and the stalled cars bombarded with stones, pieces of brick and sticks of wood. The police managed, by using their clubs, to clear the way af-ter a delay of about half an hour. The police believe they have a clew to the man who placed nitro-glycerine

The rear platform was torn off and the flooring wrenched from its fastenings. The crew was not injured, but emerged from the shat-tered ruins with their pistols drawn and began firing at what they thought was a couple of men crouching as if to hide themselves behind a small billboard. The explosion was the signal for renewing the attack from the house tops and alleys. The hurrying troops on horseback to the scene were bombarded with giant firecrackers. One of these exploded with such force that the mount of one of the troopers was knocked over, in his fall carrying with him two other horses and the riders. Several arrests were made.
