FIGHTING IN PHILIPPINES

Americans Attacked by a Large Force at Calulut.

TWO MEN KILLED AT ANGELES.

Advices From Negros and Cebu, Two Hitherto Friendly Islands, State the Insurgents Are Gaining Strength at Those Places.

Manila, Aug. 17.—The Twelfth Infantry left Calulut at sunrise today and advanced up the railway. Captain Evans' battalion deployed to the right of the track and Captain Woods' to the left. The companies remained on the track with the artillery.

At a distance of 1,500 yards the Filipinos opened fire. Their force was estimated by Colonel Smith at 1,500, although the residents afterward said it exceeded those figures by a 1,000.

The enemy shot heavy volleys against the whole American line. Most of their shooting, as usual, was high, but they concentrated their heaviest fire down the track upon the artillery.

Colonel Smith kept the whole line moving rapidly, with frequent rushes. The insurgents attempted to flank Captain Evans and threaten the most companies were sent to the right and drove them back.

Unable to stand our continuous volleys the Filipinos abandoned the trenches and retreated through the town northward. It appears that they had been in the town since the occupation of Calulut.

The intense heat caused much suffering among the Americans.

A reporter of the Manila Times, who was accompanying Colonel Smith, was shot in the head, probably fatally. One American officer received a slight wound in the face.

Lieutenant Howland, of General Wheaton's staff, who knew the country thoroughly, as the result of reconnaissance and who assisted in directing the movement, received a volley while riding across a field close to the trenches, but he escaped unhurt.

Major Kirkman, on entering Santa Maria and Dapayan yesterday with a reconnoitering party, learned that after the fight with General Pie del Pilar's men, about 300 insurgents retreated northward, carrying many wounded, including five officers.

The insurgents have been concentrating for two days about Angeles. It is officially announced that Colonel Smith's men, including the Twelfth regiment, and two guns of Battery E, of the First artillery, under Lieutenant Kemley, this morning attacked 2,500 strongly entrenched insurgents at the southern approach to Angeles, and drove them back after a sharp fight. The American troops losing two men killed and 12 wounded. The insurgent loss was estimated at 200 men.

About 200 insurgents appeared this morning in front of Dolores, a short distance north of Porac, but they were driven off by one company of the Twelfth regiment, under the command of Captain Anglum. One American was wounded.

Arrivals and mail advices from Negros and Cebu agree that the insurrection is gaining strength remarkably in both those islands, which had hitherto been regarded as the most friendly in the archipelago and which received with the greatest cordiality Professor Schurman, president of the United States advisory commission for the Philippines, at the time of his memorable tour. Outbreaks are feared, particularly in Cebu, where some of the leading men have gone over to the insurrection. Many of the wealthy inhabitants are prepared to leave the island.

Brazilian Balm AND Toxicola Tablets

"I am glad of the opportunity to publicly commend Brazilian Balm and Toxicola Tablets. They are certainly very excellent remedies as I can testify from long experience. They have kept me in splendid health, so I have never had to call a physician since I used them. Brazilian Balm is the one thing that cures Grippe, so it leaves no evil effects behind; and for colds, coughs, catarrh and lung troubles, I never knew its equal. And Toxicola is the most wonderful thing to put vigor and life into the system I ever saw. It corrects biliousness, tones up the nerves, clears the complexion and purifies the blood. It is good any time but for a Spring and Fall medicine it is worth its weight in gold. I know Miss L. Clark, 'The Woman Who Coughed,' and can say these remedies did all that is claimed for her and more too. I know of a great many cures in this locality. They ought to be in every home in America. They would save thousands of lives for they cure the worst cases." Miss Sara Elmina Reynolds, Indianapolis, Ind.

DREYFUS TRIAL GOES ON

Postponement Denied on Account of M. Labori's Absence.

AFFECTING SCENE IN THE COURT.

Captain Dreyfus Weeps When a Document is Read Recounting His Sufferings on Devil's Island—New Counsel Summoned.

Rennes, Aug. 17.—Immediately after the witnesses had entered the court room yesterday morning, Maitre Demange, counsel for Captain Dreyfus, applied for an adjournment on account of Maitre Labori's absence. Major Carriere, the government commissioner, refused and opposed the application in the most vehement manner, with the gestures of stupor. Major Carriere dilated upon the fact that the entire world was anxiously awaiting a decision, and upon the necessity of ending the suspense.

The court retired for 20 minutes. On its return Colonel Jouanet read a unanimous decision of the court rejecting the application.

It is understood that Maitre Demange will today repeat the application for an adjournment, in consequence of a hint that the government commissioner, Major Carriere, has received instructions not to oppose it.

The features of the day's proceedings was the story of the sufferings of Dreyfus on Devil's Island, which was read by the clerk under a document recounting the details of his incarceration. Deep drawn breaths of indignation came from the hearers as the reading proceeded, and even the captain of the court, Maitre Labori, turned and gave him a look of unconcealed compassion.

General Mercier, who, with M. Labori, was seated in the front row of the witnesses' seats, listened to the reading of the report unmoved, while Colonel Jouanet followed it with an air of bored tolerance.

M. Labori, the former minister of the colonies, a big, red bearded man, testified in justification of his instructions to treat Dreyfus rigorously, declaring that the extreme stringency only dated from the time he thought an attempt would be made to rescue the prisoner. Colonel Jouanet, president of the court martial, asked Dreyfus if he had any questions to put to the witness, and he replied in an emotional voice: "No, I am here to defend my name. I do not wish to speak of the atrocious suffering which for five years a Frenchman and an innocent man suffered on the Ile du Diable."

The next witness brought in was the widow of Colonel Henry, the French officer who committed suicide after confining to forty days certain documents. With pale face and hand upraised before the crucifix, she took the oath to tell the truth. In an attitude of complacent expression, she gave her evidence, accompanying the words with frequent gestures. Her evidence however, was of little value.

General Rogot followed. His evidence was a vitriolic diatribe against Dreyfus from beginning to end. While testifying he constantly turned towards the prisoner to see the impression made by his deposition, which was virtually a speech for the prosecution.

If Rogot was not speaking in good faith, his statement was infamously wicked. But he made a point. Major Hartmann, who testified before the court of cassation about the gun mentioned in the borderer, said it had been tested in 1892 and that every one knew all about it in 1894. This Rogot denied and the president of the court martial, who is an artillery officer, seemed to endorse him. According to Rogot, the gun had been tested in 1891 only and spoken of in only one journal, The Yacht, the editor of which, Captain Weyl, was then an intimate friend of Esterhazy. "Who was this Weyl?" said Rogot. "He was the uncle by marriage of Mathieu Dreyfus."

Colonel Jouanet's manner had relaxed on the two previous days, but when the circumstances of Weyl's making the revelation about the gun was mentioned it hardened into the utmost severity.

Colonel Jouanet, previously, asked Dreyfus if he wished to say anything, and the prisoner, who, during General Rogot's fulmination against him, several times made a movement as if to rise and retort, but was waved down by Colonel Jouanet, arose and cried out:

"My Colonel! It is a frightful thing that every day they tear out my heart and soul without my being able to reply. It is awful torture for an innocent man and a loyal soldier. It is a frightful thing—frightful, frightful!"

The audience, profoundly stirred, began to applaud, but the applause was quickly suppressed.

Maitre Morand, who represented Madame Dreyfus, in the revision proceedings before the court of cassation, has been summoned to replace Maitre Labori until the latter is able to return to his post. M. Morand is expected to appear in court today. He is a poor substitute for Labori.

Fifty Persons Drowned in Chile.
Valparaiso, Aug. 17.—The terrific gales and heavy floods continue. Near Santiago de Chile a train fell into a river from a trestle bridge and 50 persons were drowned. A house has been washed away here and its nine occupants were drowned.

GUERIN REFUSES TO SURRENDER.

Still Barricaded in the Anti-Semite Headquarters in Paris.

Paris, Aug. 17.—M. Guerin has refused to surrender on any terms and says he will starve rather than capitulate. It appears as if the efforts of M. Labori to arrange for the capitulation of M. Guerin are likely to be fruitless, owing to the excessive demands of the beleaguered, who insists upon the right to leave his fortress and proceed at leisure to the palace of justice, where he will surrender himself. Owing to the excited condition of the public mind the government refuses to permit this, as it would undoubtedly attract a great procession of followers.

After further consultations with M. Waldeck-Rousseau and other officials, who declined to negotiate, M. Labori returned to M. Guerin's house, which is still surrounded by a crowd, although the street is now barricaded to prevent traffic. It required ten minutes to remove the beams from the door.

After an hour's consultation M. Labori reappeared, exclaiming: "It is all over. These men are so impressed with the idea of death that it is impossible to do anything with them."

Efforts will now be made to have their Socialist colleagues and the leaders of the Anti-Semite League call upon M. Guerin and his comrades and endeavor to persuade them to surrender. Provisions were applied to M. Guerin from the scaffolding of a neighboring house, but police were afterwards stationed on the scaffold to prevent this being repeated.

M. Fabre, the magistrate who has the matter in hand, is said to be engaged with a heap of correspondence the police have seized, sent by the Duke of Orleans to his trusted representatives here. The persons now in custody on charge of being involved in the conspiracy, will be tried under the articles of the code which were put in force against General Boulanger.

The Dr. L'Honnime says a locksmith named Bonnet has been shot in the abdomen by an unknown assailant, who saw him in a street and called out:

"He looks like one of those dirty Jews."
The man then fired at the locksmith and escaped. Bonnet was taken to a hospital, seriously wounded.

Physicians as a class are opposed to what they call "patent medicines." It is not often they openly censure them. Now and then, however, some doctor, who has been the eye witness of a remarkable cure by the use of Dr. Pierce's remedies, feels it a duty to let the world know. Dr. Joseph Pike, of Lost Springs, Marion Co., Kansas, is such a man. He writes:

"I am using a good medicine, and you will find it in my practice. Ten years ago I had a patient who was a man who was affected with sciatica. His mouth and throat were in an awful condition. There were lumps on the outside below the level of the size of a hen's egg. Other doctors said it was a fatal case. It was a relief to me when I saw Dr. Pierce's medicine. I bought one bottle and gave it to her to use as directed. Five bottles cured her, and she is well today."

For more than thirty years Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., has enjoyed a far larger practice than many physicians who charge large fees for advice. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made without alcohol, and is a preparation of pure and simple ingredients. It is a temperance medicine, pure and simple. It is free of alcohol, whiskey, sugar or syrup to preserve its properties, sugar or syrup in any climate for any length of time. Others may imitate the remedy; they cannot imitate its success. Let no one talk you into using an imitation medicine as a substitute for Dr. Pierce's. Sick people who cannot visit Buffalo may consult Dr. Pierce by mail. He gives free, fatherly advice for treating and curing diseases of a chronic, obstinate and lingering nature. No charge is made for such consultation.
