Were the water department to be charged with the operating expenses, interest on water bonds, as well as a proper proportion of bonds that should be redeemed annually, we would still have almost our full quots of bended indebtedness, because the reports show that this department is not self-sustaining.

Let us take the past two years (the most favorable) as an illustration. The operation of the water plant (exclusive of the amount paid for land, $11,500, which might properly be included) amounted to $30,412 62; interest on bonds. 2 years, $14,220; proportion of bonds that should be redeemed, $11,150; making a total of $55,782.62.

The credits include water rents for the past two years (gross) $25,017.66; water tax, two mills, $24,281.68; making a total credit of $49,299.34, or a net deficit for the two years, $0.483.28, or a yearly deficit of $3,-241.64.
