ENNYROYAL PILLS Take

Transit of Ammunition by Way of Delagoa Bay Is Acknowledged as Not Unfriendly to Great Britain.

London, Sept. 1 .- The Transvaal's note to Great Britain offering the five year franchise and the other concessions was strongly worded and ex-plained that the concessions were made with a sincere desire fully to set-tle all differences, to put an end to strained relations and to avert a disastrous war. Therefore, a prompt answer was requested. The note of Mr. Conyngham Greene

In reply was conciliatory and tanta-mount to an acceptance of the five year offer. It agreed to waive the suggested commission of inquiry, provided a representative, to be appointed by Sir Alfred Milner, should be given facilities in Pretoris to make an in-vestigation of the franchise question, and provided the report of such repre-Will cradicate from your system the linger-ing effects of grip and other all ments caused Otherwise the Transvaal government was requested to await further sug-gestions from the imperial government before submitting new proposals to the volksrand. controversy. Portugal's action in permitting the transit of the ammunition consigned to the Transvaal by way of Delagon bay occasioned some surprise at first, but after the action of the Cape government, and until an actual state of war fare exists, it is recognized that the Portuguese government could hardly have acted otherwise. The British pa-pers now solace themselves with the remark that England can easily pre-vent such shipments, if a crisis demands extreme measures, and that the action of Portugal does not imply un-friendliness toward Great Gritain The Standard, however, says: " "Dip abuse, or excess and indis-cretion. A nerve tonic and evil day and prepares for us a still severer conflict. Until we resort to decisive measures every day adds to the offensive and defensive strength of the Boers and proportionately fosters their infatuated belief in their own invincibility, which lies at the root of their obduracy. Thus we are confronted with an exceedingly grave question

The Daily News says: "Mr. Cham-berlain's dispatches exhibit a game of patience almost in the aspect of comedy.

The special dispatches from Johan-nesburg express the belief that the volksraad will oppose President Kru-ger going to Capetown. General Joubert is credited with saying: "There will not be war, but Great Britain will not get all she wants." The outlanders are much irritated at the prospect of further delays.

DREYFUS SHED TEARS

When Testimony Referred to the Day of His Degradation.

THE CAPTAIN'S MOST TEVING DAY

Expresses in Court His Gratitude to His Wife, Who by Her Courage Prevented Him From Committing Sulelde-New Tactics of the Generals,

Rennes, Sept. 1 .- Droyfus yesterday had the most trying day he has yet gone through. The strain proved too great for him, and for the second time In the course of the trial he gave way to his feelings and sought relief in tears. The generals have branded him as a traitor before the court, their subordinates have pointed the finger of scorn at him. But he only once flinched-when the official report of his treatment on Devil's Island was read before him and the picture of his sufferings, mental and physical, was thrown vividly on the screen of his memory. Then he hid his features and He passed through another such crisis yesterday, when after Captain Lebrun-Renault and witness after witthat cold January morning which ushered in the scene of his degrada-tion, Major Fozinetti, a man of heart. told in simple works and unifieted manner the story of Dreyfus' strug-gie with the maddening temptation to end his life, and the intervention of his wife, as an angel, pointing out the road of duty. Then again the prisoner's of duty. hend.

breast heaved with emotion and tear drops trickled down his cheeks. He drops trickled down his cheeks. He rose and after a forced effort to re-main calm, as he spoke a few words concerning his denial to Colonel Du Paty de Clam that he wrote the bor-dereau, he turned to Forzinetti with a look of thanks for his consolation so needed. Dreyfus then uttered these words of heartfelt gratitude to his wife for the courage with which she inspired him:

'It is due to her," he cried, "that I am alive today."

The prisoner could articulate no ore, but sat down abruptly to conceal his distress.

The proceedings concluded a few minutes later and he was taken back to his prison, where his wife visited him, and, in the presence of Mine. Dreyfus and the gendarme on guard he broke down completely. The ten-sion had been too much for him. He sobbed convulsively and the partne of his sorrows joined him in a solace

Captain Lebrun-Renault and the supporters of his assertion of the Drey-fus confession had an inning lasting nearly the entire session, their de-positions containing little but what has already been stated before the court of cussition.

Captain Lebrun-Renault introduced the new assertion that the fact that he had not related the incident of the confession of President Casimir-Perier was because he overheard himself call-ed "cansille." "eur" and "traitor" while waiting at the Elysee. He, how-ever, could not explain why he kept this to himself for so long a time in-tend of secondary the indicat he stead of recounting the incident be-fore the court of cassation. Nor did his explanation as to why he de-stroyed the page in his note book containing the record of Dreyfus' confession sound very convincing.

The other witnesses were a repetia very significant question was put to Colonel Guerin by a member of the court, Lieutenant Colonel Brongniart, who sits at Colonel Joaunst's right hand and always puts pointed ques-tions. He has thoroughly studied the Dreyfus case, and is reputed to be one of the best authorities on the case. I Esterhazy, also knew Dreyfus. latter at once rose and declared he had never before heard of Weil. point of this question was that Esterhazy has written to Colonel Esternizy has written to Coloner Jouaust, as announced, and has un-doubtedly mentioned Well as a go-between for Dreyfus. If relations can be proven between Dreyfus and Well, and Esternazy admits obtaining treas-onable information from Well, then he could assume Dreyfus was a traitor. The generals, if sufficient evidence of Dreyfus-Weil-Esterhazy connection can be produced, can abandon the contention that Dreyfus wrote the border-eau and admit that Esterhazy is the author of it. This is possibly the change of tsetles on the part of the generals which has been hinted at recently. It is reported that Generals Mercler, Roget and Gonse and M. Cavaignac, who are staying quietly at the house of a friend some miles outside Rennes, met yesterday at General Mercler's house and discussed the evidence Colo-LOW-BATE VACATION TRIPS VIA PENNSYLnel Schwarzkoppen's housekeeper, Mme.
