GOVERNMENTS WILL NOT ACT, But Citizens Will Take Revenge on France For the Conviction of Dreyfus.

Washington, Sept. 12.—It is believed that when congress assemblies there will be considerable agitation of a proposition for this government to abandon its participation in the Paris exposition.

Congress and the state department may look at the matter from different points of view. The president and the state department, having responsibility for maintaining our relations with foreign governments, cannot be expected to find in this affair a reason for involving the country in an international complication.

Representative Grosvenor, of Ohio, who has just returned from Europe, spending part of the time in Paris, when asked by a reporter if the Dreyfus verdict would hurt the Paris exposition, replied: "No nation can afford to boycott the exposition as a nation, because such action would be a direct insult to France, but individuals can express their opinion, and, in my judgment, thousands who would otherwise have visited Paris, will now remain on this side."
