TO SOLVE THE MYSTERY.

Mrs. Baltzer's Dead Soldier Boy Was Buried in Two Coffins.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Pigeon holed among the records of the war department at Washington, it developed yesterday, documents which may establish the lost identity of Private Ernest Baltzer, of the First Illinois volunteers, who died in Cuba last September and whose supposed remains are legally buried twice in Graceland cemetery.

According to Sergeant Frederick C. Walther, who went to Washington to solve the mystery, if possible, and who returned yesterday, this paper, which is part of the report of the government commission for reclaiming American dead of the Spanish war, is said to indicate positively that portions of the corpse of Ernest Baltzer are in each of the caskets buried side by side in Graceland under his name; that the head and trunk of Private Baltzer occupies one coffin with the lower limbs of a recruit named Menger, whose remains had been buried in the same trench near the field hospital of Santiago.

The second coffin contains the remaining portions of both bodies. Thus, it appears, it was not the identity, but the remains themselves that were confused when the bodies were returned from Cuba, one of the caskets being brought here under contract by a Chicago undertaker, the other by the government commission six months later.

Sergeant Walther also discovered that the report that there was a third body buried in Arlington cemetery under Baltzer's name was an error. Mrs. P. P. Baltzer, the mother of the dead Illinois soldier, will, it is said, employ expert osteologists to examine the bodies and articulate the bones in the two coffins in order, if possible, to reunite the portions of her son's skeleton.

The BRAZILIAN BALM instantly relieves and effects a Radical Cure.

Shaker Station, Ct., Feb. 3, 1899.

Wm. H. Wood, has done wonders for me, after suffering 2 years with Asthma. I received my relief from four of our local physicians and a specialist in Hartford, who is at the head of the hospital and receives all the critical cases in the adjoining counties. For 18 months I never laid down—set in a chair day and night and had to be driven from one room to another. By my doctor's orders I went south and staid several months but received no benefit. At last Brazilian Balm was recommended to me so highly I decided to try it. Inside of a week I could sleep in my bed. Now I am out doors every day, tending to everything, do not have any Asthma and will soon resume my old occupation, foreman of the Eddy Electric Mfg. Co., of Windsor Ct. Most gratefully yours,

Wm. H. Wood.

A Great Pipe Organ.

The great pipe organ in the Auditorium of the Philadelphia exposition main building was built especially for the exposition by M. P. Moller, of Hagerstown, Md. This great instrument, which will be frequently heard in recitals by prominent organists from all parts of the United States during the exposition, is 24 feet wide, 22 feet high and 12 feet deep, and contains three manuals, and a grand pedal organ. It combines all the essentials for orchestral effects, with trumpets, piccolos, flutes, harmonicas, trombones and the artistic effect of swells and echoes.

Visitors to the exposition, beginning Sept. 14, who are lovers of music will find the pipe organ recitals in the Auditorium a sweet spot in the vast aggregation of attractive and instructive features.

A Privileged Dog.

A charming little story is told of Queen Victoria's first visit to Gracie church, near Balmoral. On that occasion a fine dog which belonged to the clergyman followed his master up the pulpit steps and lay against the door during the entire service. Although the dog made not the slightest disturbance, Sir George Grey, who was then in attendance on her majesty, regarded the animal's presence as somewhat disrespectful and suggested to the clergyman that it had better be dispensed with in future.

The next Sunday, therefore, the dog was denied his usual privilege of church-going and remained sorrowfully at home. A day or two later the clergyman was honored by an invitation to dine with the royal family. To his surprise Queen Victoria presently inquired for his dog, saying she had noticed he was not at church on Sunday.

"I kept my dog at home last Sunday, your majesty," replied the clergyman, "as Sir George Grey thought his presence in church would annoy you."

"Oh, so," said the queen heartily, "let him come as usual. I only wish every body behaved at church as well as your noble dog," added her majesty, with a decided spice of mischief in her tone.—Youth's Companion.

THE MARKET.

The September Letter of the Anthracite Coal Operators' Association.

The condition of the market during August differed little from that of July. The movement at tide was slow, and the new price circular adhered to with fair consistency.

The unwisdom action of some companies in continuing the shipments of coal ordered prior to July 1st, or at least at prices then ruling, threatened for a time to destroy the confidence of buyers, but the firm stand taken by some of the largest interests aided over this period and has enabled the various companies to adhere to their new prices for September sales and deliveries.

The Western situation is still serious. Between labor disturbances, abnormally high freight rates, and the comparative scarcity of vessels, although shipments to both Chicago and Duluth are less than last year.

Viewed from all points it is evident that the market is in an exceptionally strong position. Even with the unusual tonnage moved to September 1st, a total of 29,145,000 tons, 5,202,000 tons more than in 1898 and one million more than in 1895, there is not a single dangerous quantity held in storage nor is any part of the market, with the possible exception of Boston and the immediate vicinity, carrying more than a fair average stock to meet its current demand.

Further, the companies have not, as yet, found possible to send enough coal to their outside storage points to feel safe against an unusual demand.

The past month and early part of September are usually all as regards the movement of coal, so it is fair to conclude that, if there has already been any difficulty in moving the tonnage, this will become far more serious where the active demand of the latter part of the month begins. There is, indeed, reason to believe that the customary restriction during the balance of this year will be restricted only by the ability of the transporters to secure and move the fuel.

Robbed the Grave

A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most peculiar condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for two weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim."

No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at A. Walley's drug store.

A Congressional Deadlock.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 14.—The sixteenth Ohio Republican congressional convention adjourned last night at 9 o'clock after another fruitless day of balloting.

The 21st ballot, the last one last night, was identical with the first on Tuesday, as follows: Weems, 59; Gill, 52; Hollingsworth, 33; Temple, 19; Butler, 2; Mansfield, 1. With the variation of a vote or two on three or four ballots during the day, this was the story of all the ballots. It was expected that Carroll county, with 21 votes, would break to Weems last night, but the expected did not happen, and the Weems people say it is only postponed.

Indignant Nebraska Veterans.

Lincoln, Sept. 14.—At the Nebraska Grand Army reunion yesterday Chaplain P. C. Johnson offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted: "Resolved, that as a convention of soldiers who have fought in the wars undertaken in the interests of a common humanity, having for their object the redress of wrongs perpetrated on the weak and defenseless, we desire to express our abhorrence of a verdict, as in the case of Captain Dreyfus, that consigns an innocent man to ignominy, shame and pain, and that bespeaks the spirit of a bigoted past rather than that of an enlightened present."

Fitz May Fight Again.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Martin Julian, manager and business partner of Bob Fitzsimmons, said today there was no doubt that the latter would be seen in the ring again. Julian proudly proclaimed that he has four signatures that will insure a fight between Fitzsimmons and the winner of the meeting Oct. 23 between Sharkey and Jeffries.

Julian has secured the signatures of Tom O'Rourke and Tom Sharkey on one paper and those of Billy Brady and Jim Jeffries on another. Each pair, fighter and manager, agree that if they are successful at Coney Island they will give Fitzsimmons a chance to win back his title.
