FELL INTO A BREACH!

Druggist Hagenbuch's Son Narrowly Escaped Death This Morning.

HIS FALL BROKEN BY A LEDGE!

The Victim Carried Home in a Helpless Condition, His Lower Limbs Being Paralyzed—He Recovered There.

Notwithstanding the several serious accidents that have occurred during recent months through boys frequenting the limestone vicinity of the mine branches on Jones mountain, there are still a number of boys who feel that they can make the dangerous places fields of pasture without risk.

The latest victim is C. H. Hagenbuch, Jr., the eight-year-old son of the North Main street druggist. He had an experience that almost cost him his life this morning.

Young Hagenbuch remained motionless where he fell and was stretched out on the ledge. Several of his companions made their way to him by a circuitous path and they safely carried the victim to his father's store.

The boy's condition at that time appeared quite serious. He complained of severe pains in the knees and ankles and he was unable to stand, his lower limbs apparently being paralyzed.

ORANGE FREE STATE'S DECISION

Will Probably Not Be Announced Until Next Week—Krugger Writes That "Things Are Serious, But a Peaceful Settlement Will Be Attained."

Pretoria, Sept. 23.—President Kruger has been in telegraphic conference with President Steyn regarding the situation, and the decision of the Orange Free State is awaited with interest.

The elder burghers still fail to see the grounds of a case belli, but if Mr. Chamberlain makes what they would characterize as "humiliating demands," such as, for instance, disarmament, war would be inevitable.

The government denies that State Attorney Smuts has informed Mr. Conyngham Greene that further British mobilization will be regarded as an unfriendly act.

Mr. F. W. Reitz, the state secretary, says that when martial law is proclaimed it will apply to the whole country.

Mr. Reitz has replied to an application made by certain outlanders to remain in Johannesburg in the event of a quarrel that all who desire may do so.
