OUR COUNTRY : First, Last and Forever.

Is the Democratic ticket to be sacrificed to elect a minority Com missioner? It looks that way,

It is only just to say that there were "yellow" correspondents at the demonstration here Tuesday evening.

CHAIRMAN NOONAN is kept busy repairing the damage done the Democratic ticket by Johnnie Doyle and his little pen.

JOR NICHTER will not be one of the "dispensers" of patrouage on the hill next year, but will continue to "jolly" the boys at the old stand.

THE Pottsville Chroniele should play fair. It has acknowledged that Mr. Berger was falsely accused, and yet it continues to misrepresent that gentleman. There should be bonor even in politics.

SHRNANDOAH is represented on the Democratic ticket by two of its citizens. A pertinent question : are both being supported with equal loyalty? Notice, if you please, in whose interests the party leaders are working.

NEWS from the lower end of the county is to the effect that Kantner and Reber, the Republican candidates for County Commissioner, will receive an enormous vote, and in this section they will surprise some people.

THE history of the District Attorney's office, under Democratic administration, would make interesting reading at this time. And it would be no joking matter for our friend McLaughlin, the present chief deputy man who does as the power behind first round of the women's golf chamthe throne directs, is thinking lonship tournament, now being played censure. The Democratic newspapers Miss Hoyt should fail to qualify for the of the county cause him many restless nights.

to "fool the people all the time," for this fall the sensible Democratic cepted by the well-informed. Buy the voter will vote as he pleases, and that voter will vote as he pleases, and that will be for good men such as the Republicans present for election this fall whose records have been endorsed by the Democratic press.

THIS mud-slinging campaign, inaugurated by the Democratic press, is a good thing for the Republican candidates in more ways than one. In the first place, it will make votes for the latter, and in the second place opens the way for the Republican journals to open up their batteries. Duluth And it is a well known fact that several Democratic candidates would not relish that.

Oun friend Rebrieg, of the Pottswille Republican, had the good fortune to remain in Shenandonh over night, and informs his readers that Chicago the crowds were large and en-"the many colliery whistles in and about town are as good as an alarm president made brief remarks. clock." The people here are progressive, but in Pottsville it is different. Hence our friend's agreeable surprise.

Two years and a half of Republican administration have worked a great change for the better. This fact stands out with striking distinctness as every citizen knows. The Chicago platform, which the Democratic party is at pains to reaffirm. deplored "the fall in prices, the prostration of industry and the impoverquire columns to epitomize the pros-perity that has taken the place of entereipt of five scent stamps.

ADMIRAL DEWEY AT HOME.

The Conqueror's Pleasure on Return ing to the Scenes of His Childhood, Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 12.—Admiral Dewey arrived here from Shelburne of a special train at 5:25 o'clock hist evening and was greeted by an im-mense crowd which had assembled at the depot. The admiral was met by his two brothers, Edward and William. As he walked through the streets of the city just at dusk, in company will his brothers, he bowed right and left and waved his hands to his old friends as he recognized them. A great shout went up when the train stopped at Montpeller. There ruse a cry of "speech, speech," but the admiral shook his head and said; "I can't talk," and turning to his brother Edward said: "You make a few remarks."

The admiral and brothers walked across the platform, ignoring the car-riage in waiting. The admiral had a smile on his face, which reflected his joy at reaching his boyhood home. He walked to the home of Edward Dewey, stopping to greet an old schoolmate who extended him a welcome. Then the three brothers went into Edward Dewey's house, the front door being closed to the crowd which had surged from the street into the yard right up to the steps. The special train bearing the admiral, Dr. Webb and party, which was quite a large one, left Shelburne station a few minutes after 2 o'clock. The run to Burlington was made in 14 minutes, and along the road knots of cheering people. At Burlington station the crowd closed in sround the admiral's cur, and although the latter did not come out of the vestibule they nevertheless saw a pleasant ncident in the meeting of General O. O. Howard and Admiral Dewey.

At all stations along the line the admiral was cheered, and people came out of their farm houses and waved

An Alleged Political Murder, New Orleans, Oct. 12 .- Judge Laplace, a prominent planter, and a member of the state senate, was found dead yesterday morning. The judge was called from home at 10 o'clock Tuesday night. While he was walking toward the road a mob of men with white masks suddenly rose around him, selved him and pinioned his arms. He was led some distance, when the crowd halted, one man placed a pistol to Laplace's back and sent a bullet into his body, killing him instantly. The body was left in the road, rain fell on it dur ing the night, and it was rescued from the mud by relatives yesterday. These relatives aver that the killing was nolitical. Another story is that a young woman was involved.

COOPER SPEAKS OUT.

omment by the Former State Chairman Upon a Recent Polit-test Move. Former Republican State Chairman Thomas V. Cooper, in the last issue of The Delaware County American, under the caption "A Travesty Upon the Right of Petition," says:

"The folly of the insurgent leaders passed its climax when it subjected Senator Quay to trial on charges shown to be wholly manufactured for political effect. His acquittal brought wisdom to wiser men, who previously believed or doubted, because belief and doubt are easy against a public man. This class would now like to say the incident is closed, for that position best relieves a conscience strained in the direction of the harshest thought, Still others, and a larger class, stand by the verdict of an American jury represent ing all shades of personal opinion.

"And now the leaders who instituted these proceedings have descended to the line of protest, after being driven from the fighting line in nearly every primary of the state. The state cor vention was four-fifths for Quay, and nority represented the machines of which represent local spoils and con great municipalities without machine is an ideal of strength, but no ities have not so far advanced in good is better than municipal machines. It does not charge for appointments, it does not get commissions on contracts city franchises -the only places where they are valuable. These facts are known of all men acquainted with politics. They are well known to the great newspapers of Philadelphia and Pitts-burg, who make it their daily task to assail Ouny and his organization. And yet, from that quarter there is never the shade of a protest. A reform party or wing of a party ought to point to reforms; its organs should not shield

These will be signed by factionists and by Democrats who readily scent gain in Republican factional folly. It is the hope of the leaders of this movement that it will influence Democratic senators against Quay, and as well invite the aid of such independent thinkers as Hoar and Mason. Will it do this? We judge may. The Democratic senators are in a minority, there being 18 Republican majority. Their most recent record is against seating senators appointed by governors. They did it in the Oregon case, where 59 crats almost solidly voted against adnothing but nourishment. Final Adjournment of the Committee

1s Near at Hand. New York, Oct. 12.—When the Maxet investigating committee adjourned its sessions yesterday until today Counsel Frank Moss announced that no ses-sions would be held next week, but that the final adjournment of the committee was in the near future. Yesterday's sessions were devoted to the consideration of increases in the salaries of the various city ment officials and incidentally to the decreases in salaries. But it was shown that the increases far outweighed the decreases. It was also shown that where records were made of changes in salaries the record gave no indi-cation of the amount of salary previously received.

One of the Mazet committee detec-tives told on the stand of having been compelled to pay the police money for a release from illegal arrest.

A portion of the testimony was de-voted to the methods of Naughton & who are putting in an electric railway on the boulevard and are or cupying the streets for a space of half a mile. According to the testimony trade has been greatly interfered with in this section of the city and the contractors have made no effort to push along the work. Indeed, several witnesses declared that the workmen were not only compelled to lag along in their work, but were discharged if they showed an inclination to exert themselves. One witness declared that if a workman was discovered with perspiration on his face he would be immediately discharged.
