Baltimore Priest Tells of His Visit to Philadelphia Clergyman

SHORTLY BEFORE HIS DEATH. The Dead Clergyman Displayed Con-

shierable Temper in Conversation With Ills Organist, and Was Childed hy His Priestly Visitors.

Baltimore, Nov. 13 .- Rev. Valentine P. Gawrychowski, pastor of the In-dustrial Polish Catholic church, on South Broadway, this city, said yes-terday that he was a visitor last Thursday night at the residence of Rev. Vincent Zaleski, pastor of the Independent Polish Catholic Church of Our Mother of God, Philadelphia, who was found in a dying condition Friday morning at his residence, 765 South Second street, Philadelphia, and who died in the afternoon of the same day. Father Gawrychowski made the following statement in regard to the mystery of Rev. Zaleski's death:

"Father John Radzeszowski, of Chicopee, Mass., who had been visiting me for two weeks, and myself, went to Philadelphia last Thursday morning to transact some business with a

Polish paper there. Upon arriving there we first stopped at the Hetz building and had dinner, and then went to the newspaper office. Then we building and had dinner, and then we went to make a call upon Father Zaleaki, who was not known to either of us. Father Zaleski was not at home. and we walked around the city and then went back to his house, in company with a member of the parish, and found the priest at home. I sent up my card and Father Zaleski came my card and Father Zalessi cannot down and invited us up to his quarters. "Soon afterward the organist of the church came in and Father Zaleski sent him out for some whicky and wine and oysters. We drank two glasses of whicky and finished a bottle of wine Father Zaleski drank very of wine. Father Zaleski drank very heavily. While he was drinking Father Zaleski asked the organist for the change from the money which he had given him to purchase the whisky, wine and oysters. The organist told Father Zaleski that he would talk to him about the change in the morn-ing, indicating that the money he had ing, indicating that the money he into given him to purchase the articles had not been sufficient. Father Zaleski became angry and demanded the change, showing a great deal of tem-per. Father Radzeszowski and myself chided Father Zaleski about his con-duct and he cuisted down. duct, and he quieted down. "During the evening several ladie connected with the choir of the church called and consulted with Father Zaleski about music for Sunday's mass. They were treated to candles. and their pastor gave them some money. I don't know how much or for what purpose it was given them. Shortly before 9 o'clock and about 20 minutes after the ladies left Father Radzeszowski and myself left. was standing on the street near by. When we left Father Zaleski was

"We walked to Market street and the city hall, and then to the Reading depot, where Father Radzeszowski bought a ticket for Wilkesbarre, Pa., whence he was to go to Scranton to atleave until 11 o'clock, and a train for Baltimore was scheduled to leave within a few minutes of the same time. We then walked about the streets seeing the sights, and went back to the Betz building and had something to drink. We then remained in the vi-cinity of the city hall until train time, when we parted. I boarded my train and reached home at 3.15 a. m. #### THE KENTUCKY CONTEST. The Count of the Votes Verifies the suit of balloting for governor of Ken-tucky legins with little prospect of an immediate definite result. The of-ficial count has been in progress three days, and official returns from a large majority of the 119 counties have narrowed the contest down to a nose finish. Each side claims the election of its ticket, but the estimated plu-rality of either does not exceed 3,000. While the returns so far received favor Taylor, the results of the count may hinge on the decision given by the county election commissioners in neveral places where contests have been begun on the ground of alleged Irregularities. One of these contests, that in Nelson county, has been decided adversely to the Republicans. It involves 1,198 votes nearly as many as either side claims as its plurality. The Domnerars will contest the cotes of some of the mountain countion, which return large Republican duralities. The most important coun-y involved is Knox, which gave Tay-or I 258 plurality. There are also con-

In any event it is difficult to see how a bitter contest before the legislature and the courts can be avoided. Damaging Evidence Against Molineux
