TAKING EVIDENCE.

The Wm. Penn Murder Case is in Process of Trial at Pottsville.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE IS GIVEN.

One Witness Swears Rolis Bubnis, Whose Trial is Deferred, Struck the Fatal Blow and Andrew Koras Urged The Dead—Others Saw Weapons.

Pottsville, Nov. 21.—The HERALD's report of yesterday's proceedings in the Wm. Penn murder trial closed with the calling of the 6th juror, Arthur Elliott, who was stood aside.

Deputy Clerk of the Courts Duffy announced that the panel was exhausted and Edward B. Moore, one of those stood aside, was recalled. He was accepted by both sides and was about to be sworn when he showed signs of indisposition and was excused.

The jury is as follows: Jacob Clauer, painter, Wayne township; George J. Reichert, constable, South Mannheim township; Patrick Boran, supervisor, Minersville; William F. Miller, farmer, Walker township; David Watkins, laborer, Minersville; Edward Feisler, Sr., laborer, Tremont township; Levan Yoder, laborer, Schuylkill Haven; Harry Kaiser, laborer, St. Clair; Harry Bettinger, laborer, Minersville; William Deem, wheelwright, Mahanoy City; John R. Davis, railroad, St. Clair.

A feature of the case was that one of the jurors called, when about to be accepted on the jury, failed. He was excused. Several jurors who acknowledged they were prejudiced against foreigners were challenged for cause by the defense.

W. J. Whitehouse made the opening address for the prosecution. He spoke of the facts of the case and told of the threats made by the crowd to which the prisoner belonged, their having said there would be a dead 'Zakka' in Wm. Penn that night, and that they would make sausage meat of him.

TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

This morning the attendance at the opening of the court was small, but increased as the day advanced. The jury, which is under charge of Tipstave Brennan, was on hand early from the Park Hotel, to which the judge assigned them and told them they could write to their families and send for any articles of clothing they desired.

MRS. RUTKOWSKI, THE VICTIM'S WIFE.

Mrs. Joseph Rutkowski, widow of the deceased, was the first witness called. She had answered a few unimportant questions when she was asked to leave the stand to make way for Dr. W. E. Davis, of the Miners' hospital, who wished to catch a train.

Dr. Davis testified that he made an examination and found death was due to intercranial hemorrhage. There was a lacerated wound 1 1/2 inches in diameter on the right side of the head, and under that a compound depressed fracture of the inner skull. The wound may have been inflicted by either a blunt or sharp instrument, a hatchet, or axe.

Mrs. Rutkowski, in deep mourning, and her uncle, John Melchior, of Shenandoah, occupy seats at the Commonwealth's table.

Frank Doshas was the first witness called. Anthony Kinoski did the interpreting and Doshas testified as follows, after being sworn by Judge Henning:

I live at Wm. Penn and lived there September 24th, last. I boarded with Joseph Rutkowski, the dead man, and was with him the evening the blow was struck that killed him.

Q. District Attorney Bechtel. Go on and tell me what the trial was that evening.

A. Rolis Bubnis struck the blow. Peter and John Stenkawicz, Anthony Machulis, Andrew Koras, Rolis and Matt, or Thomas Bubnis came to the gate.

To other questions he answered Rolis Bubnis hit the blow. Andrew Koras said just before that "Give it to"—

I did not see Anthony Stenkawicz there. There were other men near by but it was dark and I couldn't tell who they were. I didn't see Charles Skutches. When the blow was struck Rutkowski fell to the ground near the gate. The others of the crowd stood about twenty feet away.

John Stenkawicz said, after the blow was struck, "One of them got it."

The District Attorney read from the testimony taken at the Coroner's inquest that one of the Stenkawicz said at the time, "I fixed one."

Witness answered, "Yes, he said that."

Q. Which one.

A. Joe Stenkawicz.

The defense objected to these questions but was overruled by the Court.

On cross examination he said he did not see Machulis, Skutches, Brusokas, Stuchinski or Romanitis at the gate; but declared he could not see them all. When Peter Stenkawicz came he raised a stick in the air and said "Are you holding here?" but the witness raised his elbow to ward off the blow and then Stenkawicz walked away.

The witness was subjected to a severe line of cross questioning by the defendant's lawyers, Messrs. H. O. Bechtel and A. D. Knittle, especially as to the evidence he gave at the Coroner's inquest.

Finally he identified for the District Attorney a photograph of the scene of the murder from different points of view.

Re-direct examination by District Attorney Bechtel: Q. After Rutkowski fell down, did you see what became of Rolis Bubnis and the five men who stood at the gate?

A. No sir.

Witness excused for the present.

Deputy District Attorney James J. Moran was the next to testify. He identified the photographs as correct views. The pictures were taken by Bretz, of Pottsville. On one of the photographs is a view of the "Block of Blazes," which stands across the street from the Rutkowski home.

Elmer F. Bechtel, surveyor of Pottsville, identified a map of locality and said the scale of the map is 100 feet to the inch.

Adam Romanowicz, a boarder at the Rutkowski house, and who was with Rutkowski at the gate on that evening. He said: I stood alongside of Rutkowski when six men came up to the gate and started to push each other in to force stones. Then I hid behind the fence. Then about 10 o'clock I saw the deceased with something and he fell down. I didn't see what it was.

Andrew Koras had said "Give it to the bull frog" before the blow was struck. I didn't hear Stenkawicz say anything after the blow when the attack was made. I do not know where they were from.

On cross examination the witness said: I could not exactly say what time I got to the home of the deceased. It was about 7 o'clock. I saw people around at the outside of the house, but I didn't notice who they were.

When the stones were thrown, I saw them and then started out for the gate, when I saw five or six men standing around talking and laughing. I stood there a few minutes and then the blow was struck. I couldn't say which one of the defendants was nearest to the gate.

When Rolis Bubnis struck the blow the stones were laughing among themselves. I didn't see any of the Stenkawicz, Skutches or Romanitis there. I didn't see Rolis Bubnis or Andrew Koras or any of the others through stones. Stones were thrown, but I couldn't say who threw them. I didn't hear Peter or John Stenkawicz say anything before or after the blow was struck.

When Annie Schrammer sworn I live in Wm. Penn, near door to the Rutkowski house and declared an accessory to murder was just as guilty as he who committed the crime.

The witness testified that she was with her husband on the evening of the murder and saw the blow struck.

When she saw the blow struck, she saw a crowd of people gathered around the gate.

She testified that she saw a man named Joseph Zaernecki among the crowd.

THE REBELS ARE ACTIVE

Seem to Be Now Gathering in Force South of Manila.

GEN. MAO ARTHUR AT DAGUPAN.

The Latest Insurgent "Capital" is Benguet, and the American Prisoners Are at Camatin—General Wheeler Will Not Return to Congress.

Manila, Nov. 21.—There has been a revival of insurgent activity south of Manila, particularly in Cavite province. At Imus Sunday the Filipinos fired a smoothbore cannon, but this was soon silenced by the American artillery.

In the course of the morning Major Cowles, with a battalion of the Fourth Infantry and two guns, scattered the enemy from the districts around Imus and in the direction of Perea das Marinas. The Americans could not pursue the retreating insurgents because their ammunition was exhausted.

The Filipinos were under the command of General Mariano Trias. It is reported that there are more insurgents in the vicinity of Imus than ever before.

Spies report that the insurgents are coming into Cavite province from Calamba, in Laguna province, and the other southern provinces. The insurgents have smoothbore and two modern cannons.

Two columns, one from Imus and the other from Bacoor, converged on the Zapote bridge, where they found a deserted Filipino camp.

The troops of the Fourth Infantry and two guns of Captain Riley's battery proceeded to Annaboo, south of Imus, and came upon the enemy entrenched at that point. They scattered the Filipinos, but as the latter were subsequently reinforced, the American soldiers in Imus under fire, seven of our men being wounded. Our scouts found 15 dead insurgents at Annaboo.

General MacArthur's reconnaissance entered Dagupan yesterday afternoon. The Americans found that no insurgents had been there for four days.

The returning prisoners, who were probably in Dagupan Sunday, leaving Sunday night. Thirty insurgents, under a major, escaped from Bayombong Sunday about ten minutes before the Americans entered. Others, it is said, threw their guns into the river and now play the role of Americans.

Many of the prisoners, escaped from the Philippines, are at Bayombong, among them the former governors of the provinces of Tarlac and Zambales. There is also quite a large colony of former insurgent officers collected at that point, including Major Otis, a former member of the Philippine commission headed by General Alejandro, which visited Manila in September. Ortiz has donated the Amigo clothing and announced that he has abandoned the insurgency.

The Spaniards say that the new insurgents are mostly of the provinces of Benguet and that the American prisoners are at Camatin. They report having seen Lieutenant Gilmore and his party in the north.

No insurgents have been seen anywhere near the railroad, and it is believed that the only armed force of any size in the mountains of Benguet is the band of Zambales, to the west, although there are reports of insurgents concentrating at San Miguel de Camiling, west of Paniqui, and at Mangataram (or Mangaratam), west of Bayombong.

General MacArthur is preparing to attack his forces being disposed between Durbun, province of Tarlac, and Dagupan. The Twelfth Infantry, a battalion of the Seventeenth Infantry, and two troops of cavalry are with General MacArthur below Dagupan.

General Wheeler has decided not to return for Congress. He is writing a letter to President McKinley, with a request that it be forwarded to the house of representatives.

The people of Cotta Bato, on the southwestern coast of the island of Mindanao, desire the establishment of an American government and have addressed a petition to General Otis asking him to send troops.

The United States gunboat Helena arrived at Cavite yesterday with the crew of the United States cruiser Charleston, which was wrecked early in the month on a reef off the north-west coast of Luzon.

WEEKLY OF THE LONG STRUGGLE. Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 21.—The rumor of a settlement of the miners' strike at Nanticoke has again revived. When the Susquehanna Coal company officials refused to grant certain demands made by their employes three months ago $3000 men had boys laid down their tools and quit work. This big army of toilers has been idle ever since. It is now said that both sides are weary of the struggle, particularly the strikers, some of whom are beginning to feel the pangs of hunger, and that a compromise will be agreed upon some day this week.
