—Election three weeks from to-day! It goes without saying that some lively work will be done by the local candidates before that day rolls around, close as it is.

—Pickpockets reaped a rich harvest at the firemen's convention at Shamokin. As at our county fair, the thieves were no respecters of persons, among the victims being ex-State President Sharah, of Bradford, who lost $70, and the chief of police of the same city, $20. It is gratifying to know that the two representatives of our fire department who were in attendance escaped with at least sufficient funds to get home with.

—While Mr. and Mrs. Berry, of the Berry family of acrobats, the principal side attraction at the late Wayne County Agricultural exhibition, were doing a trapeze turn to amuse the crowd at the Bloomsburg fair, a strap by which the woman hung slipped from the husband's mouth and she fell forcibly to the ground. At the hospital it was found that both arms were broken, and that she was probably fatally injured internally.

—Allen Greening, aged 25, and Peter Greening, aged 29, sons of John F. Greening, of Spring Brook, Pike county, met tragic deaths on the Erie railroad at Ramsey, Bergen county, N. J., a few days since. They were on their way to work on a lumber job on Wednesday morning in a light wagon, when they were struck at a railroad crossing, and frightfully mangled. Allen was killed instantly, Peter was alive when picked up, and lingered until Sunday, with his legs broken in several places, his left hand cut off, five ribs broken, skull fractured and part of his face torn away. Both young men were married, the elder to Annie Worzel of Shohola, where his remains were brought for interment.

—The Port Jervis papers give full accounts of the foot ball contest in that city on Thursday afternoon last, between the Honesdale and local teams. The game resulted in favor of Honesdale by the score of 12 to 6, the superior weight of the winners being given as accounting for their victory. Both the Gazette and Union give our boys credit for fine play, especially commending Weaver and Murray, who each made a touch-down. Rowland was credited with a safety. The Honesdale line-up was: D. Faantz, c; C. Faantz, lg; Bentz, lt; Murray, le; Beck, rg; Kupper, rt; Bader, re; Rowland, g; Finnerty, lb; Weaver, rlb; Searies, fb. Four hundred rooters witnessed the game. Time of halves, 25 and 20 minutes.

—James Mailler, a resident of Cornwall, Orange county, New York, is ninety years old and feeble from the usual infirmities of very advanced age. He is party to an amicable suit to determine the respective shares of himself and Warren Gildersleeve in a tract of woodland in which each has an undivided interest. As he was unable to make the journey to Newburgh, a distance of ten miles, to attend the sessions of the Supreme court, Judge Morschauer, accompanied by the lawyers and a stenographer, did the "Mahomet and Mountain" act and drove to the Mailler residence one day last week, and held court under a chestnut tree in the farm yard, where Mr. Mailler's testimony was taken—a rare act of courtesy on the part of a judge, and one which gave Cornwall the distinction of having a session of the Supreme Court held in the village for the first time in its history. Rev. William Mailler Nelson, of Equinunk, who was born in Orange county, and whose mother was Azubah Mailler, of Cornwall, is a relative of the old gentleman who was shown such distinguished consideration.

The total amount of the sum sent for school tax was $21,910.44 and for roads $14,506.96.

—Attorney Earl Sherwood went to Washington, D. C., on Monday last to represent Frank G. Farnham of this place in his suit against the Government for its appropriation of his patented method for the sale of postage stamps. The case is on the calendar of the U. S. Court, but may not be reached for hearing in some days. The system devised by Mr. Farnham has proved a very profitable one for the government, and the amount which he seeks to recover is very considerable.

—The Feast of Tabernacles, or Succoth, a Hebrew feast of seven days duration, began at sunset on Thursday evening last and will end at the same hour to-morrow, Thursday evening. The festival was instituted principally in memory of the nomad life of the people in the desert and the booths or tents used on their march. Besides this significance, it also had an agricultural one. It was emphatically the Feast of "Ingathering," that is the close of the labors of the field; the harvest of all the fruits, of the corn, the wine and the oil. The beginning and ending of the festival are observed by special services in the synagogues, which in larger towns include the erection on the grounds adjoining the churches of booths, adorned with autumnal fruits and flowers, in which a part of the religious observances of the occasion are held following the regular synagogue services. "As the Jewish congregation in Honesdale is at present without a Rabbi, and comprises but few professedly orthodox in the faith, the Feast is not of such general interest here as in most places. The last day of Succoth is called the "Feast of Conclusion," or Sh'mine Atzeres.

—It is too bad that "Our Christy Mathewson," after such a splendid season's record, should come to grief in the last game for the championship of the National League. On Friday he was hammered for a triple and two doubles in a single inning, Chicago scoring four runs, enough to land the game. "Matty" actually wept when he was compelled to walk from the field in the seventh inning, at least a temporarily defeated base-ball idol, Mordcau Brown, of the "Cubs," who stopped the rush of the "Giants," and landed the battle for the Western team, becoming the reigning star of the first magnitude.

—N. R. Buller, Superintendent of the State fish hatchery at Pleasant Mt., paid THE CITIZEN a pleasant call on Saturday last. At the hatchery, however, no great inconvenience resulted from the lack of rain.

Uniform Bills of Lading.

All common carriers in the country will, after November 1st, adopt the new uniform bills of lading adopted on the recommendation of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The great importance of uniformity has been recognized throughout the years during which the uniform bill of lading has been under consideration, and by all the parties interested. It has been urged by the shippers, the banker and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The combined Uniform Bill of Lading and Shipping Order may be briefly described as follows:

1st.—One form for use in connection with what are termed "straight" consignments, consisting of the Bill of Lading, Shipping Order and Memorandum Acknowledgment (all to be printed on white paper).

2nd.—One form for "order" shipments, consisting of the "order" Uniform Bill of Lading (to be printed only on yellow paper), and the Shipping Order and Memorandum Acknowledgment (to be printed on blue paper). This form shall be used only for order consignments; it will not be permissible to accept order-notify shipments on straight bills of lading.

A supply of standard railroad forms will be furnished to shippers upon request. Shippers, for their own convenience, may print on these forms lists of commodities, at their own expense.

The "Devil".

A notable event in the theatrical history of the Lyric Theatre will be the presentation, by arrangement with Henry W. Savage, of Franz Molnar's famous European play "The Devil", which will be presented by Mr. Alfred E. Aarons, at the Lyric, on Friday evening, Oct. 14. In Franz Molnar's story it is almost difficult to determine whether "The Devil", who calls himself Dr. Miller, is supernatural or a terrestrial personage. He appears, however, as a well-dressed, polished though cynical man of the world, who, having an apparently demonaical insight into the real sentiments of a banker and his wife, an artist who was the latter's earlier lover, an heiress who is the artist's fiancée, and other characters in the play, manages to so shape their affairs as to bring about a number of highly interesting situations, amusing as well as thrilling, all ending, of course, to the satisfaction of all parties concerned and the delight of the audience. For prices see advertisement in another column.
