LOCAL MENTION.

—New York potatoes are selling in five bushel lots in Port Jervis for 80 cents a bushel.

—George A. Smith, a former Prothonotary of Wayne county, is now engaged in business in Archbald, that of crushing and quarrying sandstone for road and building purposes. He still maintains his residence in Hawley, where he votes.

—The Hawley Glass Co. have put in operation their No. 2 factory, which will give employment to a large number of men and boys, who receive good wages. This will put a goodly sum of money in circulation in our neighboring borough.

—Adam Mehaloski, a hotel keeper of Dickson City, Lack. county, while hunting in the woods, near Hollisterville, Nov. 6th, received a stroke of paralysis. A physician was called who did what he could for the suffering man, and he was taken to his home, where he died soon after his arrival. He leaves a widow.

—Samuel Katz, who recently retired from the firm of Katz Brothers, with which he had been associated for thirty years, has leased the second story of the Liberty Hall building, corner of Main and Ninth streets, and will start a new plant for the manufacture of white goods, as soon as the necessary machinery can be installed. As industries of this kind give employment to our surplus labor, and bring large sums of money to the town from outside sources where the product finds a market, they are deserving of a warm welcome. Wretch Honesdale grow!

—The Texas, No. 4, Fire Company's reception and entertainment on Monday evening of last week proved to be a most profitable as well as enjoyable affair, the net proceeds aggregating nearly $550. No. 4 is one of the best equipped and thoroughly efficient fire organizations ever established here. The members are all of fine physique; their appearance on parade is as attractive as their services when engaged in fire fighting is effective; their apparatus thoroughly up-to-date, and their new building, a commodious two story and basement structure, creditable alike to the skill of architect Weaver and the enterprise and good judgment of the company.

—Patrons of the Theatorium and Nickel-ette need have no fears that they will be shown moving pictures which they have already seen, at those popular places of entertainment. Although entirely different programs are given every other night at both places, there is no danger of the supply of novelties being exhausted. Manager Freeman has a list of all the moving pictures shown in Honesdale since the shows were opened here. This list is made in duplicate, and one copy forwarded to the manufacturers, thus keeping them posted on what has been shown in Honesdale and preventing a duplication of the pictures. This is one reason why the exhibitions at the Theatorium and Nickel-ette are always up-to-date. And they will be just as good to-night and to-morrow night, and next week, as they have been at any time in the past.

—It is not too late for THE CITIZEN to commend the general good behavior of our young people on Hallowe'en. The good advice given the boys and girls by the town papers previous to that festival was evidently well received, for the night passed off in a very genteel-like manner, and our young folks are to be credited with conducting themselves in every way like ladies and gentlemen. Of course there was the usual ringing of door bells, and throwing of corn and cabbage, and similar harmless pranks, but not a single instance of destruction of property, or unwarrantable depredation of any kind, has come to the knowledge of the writer. Innocent and harmless amusements on Hallowe'en should not be curtailed in any way, and young people are naturally expected to enjoy themselves to the utmost. It is only when fun degenerates into rowdiness that older and more staid people protest.

—The Liberty Hall bowling alley and pool table outfit was sold to Ernest Miller, of Inglehardt, for $700.

—October 30th, 1908, there were 110,912 idle freight cars in the United States. In April, 1908, they numbered 413,600.

—The ladies of Seelyville cleared $74.60 by their supper and sale of candy, in their pretty chapel, last Thursday evening.

—The 19th annual banquet of the Exchange Club will be held at the Allen House, on Thursday evening, Nov. 19th, at 8 o'clock, sharp.

—Pennsylvania is to erect a State memorial on the Gettysburg battlefield, on a knoll near Hancock Avenue, on the scene of the third day's battle. It will cost $125,000.

—The Florence silk mill, Katz's underwear establishment, and Honesdale's nine cut glass factories are now running on full time, and with a large number of orders to fill.

—Hull Brothers, of Waymart, grew 150,000 heads of celery the past season. They have recently erected a building for storing a portion of their crop for winter use.

—We may not have as much to be thankful for as some of the rest of you do when the 20th rolls around, but we still have life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness left us and, after all, what more is there?

Gill, recently arrived from Ireland, was walking with four others on the tracks of the Erie, a mile this side of Mill Rift, on Monday last, when he was struck by a passing train and killed, his body being horribly mangled. Theobald, left on Monday morning last for Philadelphia with the tramp prisoners, Dominic Early and Barney Gable, who confessed to looting a car on the O. & W. railroad on the 15th of October last, and were sentenced to serve three years each in the Eastern penitentiary.

—Honesdale polled 680 votes for President at the late election, and Damascus township 500; yet Honesdale has only one voting district while Damascus has five. Bethany, with 37 votes requires as many election officers as Honesdale with nearly twenty times as many ballots to count. Texas, which surrounds Honesdale, polled 808 votes and has four voting districts. At the same ratio the county seat should have at least three.

—The return judge of Wayne appointed by the court to meet the other return judges of the congressional district at Montrose, to compute the congressional vote, was H. Wilson, and the return judge appointed to meet the other return judges of the Senatorial district at Stroudsburg, to compute the senatorial vote, was Herman Harmes. Tuesday, at 2 P. M., was the time fixed for their meeting.

—On Thursday last, while hunting in the northern part of the county, Joseph J. Kern, who represents E. Robinson & Sons' brewery, in Pittston, met with a bad accident. He was passing through the woods with his gun on his left arm, when it slipped, and striking the ground was discharged, the charge tearing away the fingers of the left hand with the exception of the thumb. Some of the shot also lodged in the right arm. Mr. Kern, who was stopping at Winwood, was taken home on Saturday.

—The 2d annual convention of the Central Penn'a Local Assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, comprising chapters in Honesdale, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Pottsville, Reading, Bethlehem, Allentown, Lebanon, Mauch Chunk, Minersville, Ashland and Jermyon, will convene in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Green Ridge, on Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 21st and 22d. Paul W. Gardner, of Scranton, a former Honesdaler, is President of the organization.

—Dr. John F. Carson, who lectures at the Lyric Theatre on Thursday evening Nov. 12th, is a man of pleasing address and attractive manner. He has a remarkably deep, musical bass voice, which easily carries his words to the farthest corners of the auditorium and yet is pleasant to those who are near. He is a fluent talker, passes from point to point in a logical and convincing way and always keeps in thorough touch with those whom he is addressing. He has much to say, that is worth remembering and says it in such an attractive and impressive way that you cannot help remembering it. The County Institute Concert Course includes a lecture by Mr. Carson entitled "America's Ideals," which should be heard by every man, woman and child.

—Olek Tribe No. 318, I. O. Red Men, of Honesdale, supplemented the installation services at their wigwam in the Independent building on Thursday evening Nov. 5th, by a grand banquet at Heumann's Hotel. Fifty-two members with invited guests sat down to a delicious supper. The choice viands served having been disposed of, "a feast of reason and flow of soul" followed, ex-burgess N. B. Spencer acting as toastmaster, a post for which he is peculiarly fitted, having had much experience. The after-dinner speeches were by Ex-Sheriff Cortright, deputy postmaster J. N. Sharpsteen, J. H. Heumann, Sheriff W. B. Roadknight, L. Blumenthal, of Honesdale, John Myers and Herman Myers, of Lackawaxen, and T. Humphrey Sanderecock, of Cherry Ridge. The music was furnished by O'Brien's orchestra.

—J. W. Cole, of Starucca, was robbed in Carbondale Friday night last, and received a severe drubbing besides losing $30 in cash. He had been working at the East Mountain farm, for O. J. Ransom, and on being paid off placed a roll of bills to the amount stated in his vest pocket. The money he afterward displayed in a South Main street saloon, and when, later, he started for the Wall street hotel, somewhat under the influence of intoxicants, Roy Gilbert, a colored boot black accompanied him. Cole was shown to his room by the clerk, but had barely got to bed when Gilbert began rapping at the door, asking to be admitted as he had a bottle he wanted to share with Cole. The latter ordered Gilbert away, but the door was finally forced and a struggle ensued, in the course of which the white man had his head badly battered, and claims he was robbed of the $30. Gilbert, who was arrested on Saturday, at first denied knowing anything about the affair, but after being locked up in the county jail he made a confession.

—The County Institute.

Election of Officers—Pleasant Talks by Dr. Pattengill and Dr. Alvin Davison—Supt. Koehler Makes His Bow.

MONDAY AFTERNOON.

The forty-first annual Institute of the teachers of Wayne County was opened in the Court House at 2 o'clock by Supt. J. J. Koehler. Rev. W. F. Hopp, of the Lutheran church conducted the devotional exercises. After singing "America" Mr. Koehler welcomed the teachers in a few well-chosen words. The following officers were elected: J. F. Dooley, vice-president, 1st division; George Gilpin, vice president, 2d division, and Miss Ada Hiller, vice president of third division; J. H. Kennedy secretary and treasurer.

Prof. J. T. Watkins was welcomed as an old friend and spoke a few encouraging and helpful words to the teachers about the importance of voice training and proper breathing. The song service led by Prof. Watkins is always a most enjoyable feature of each session.

Dr. H. R. Pattengill, editor of "Moderator-Topics," Lansing, Michigan, was the first speaker, his subject being "Inspire or Expire."

You must be able to inspire your school or else expire as a teacher. Inspire your pupil so that he will go on with work after school days are over. A person who has no sympathy with the child cannot teach. Be able to put yourself in his place. In order to properly be an inspiration to a school a teacher needs three things: 1st, physical ability. A teacher needs good health and plenty of vital force; he must be able to work himself and get work from his pupils.

2d, Intellectual ability: The school is to train the pupil to think along right lines. The teacher must keep his mental powers bright and active. Do not tie your brain in a sling; use it. Every teacher should do some studying aside from school work that requires as much mental effort as the pupil is required to use in acquiring a new study. 3d, Spiritual ability: Soul power that will induce the boys and girls to see the purpose of the school and the value of study. Teach them to obey and to live so that they shall be worthy citizens of our great republic.

Dr. Alvin Davison next spoke on "The Kind of Physiology to be Taught." We judge a tree by its fruit, and we are apt to judge a teacher by results. There are 160,000 doctors in our country; about 160 millions of dollars spent for doctors' fees; 90 millions more for medicine. There is a great amount of sickness in our land. It looks as if our physiology teaching was not very successful. About four hundred will die in this county in a year; about a dozen perhaps from old age; the rest from disease. All disease is the result of wrong living, either by the person himself, his parents, grandparents or his neighbors. It is the teacher's duty to teach the children how to prevent disease and contagion. A prominent scientist has said, "It is within the ability of man to destroy the diseases which come from parasitic causes." Every one should understand disinfection. One thing which should be found in every house is Formaldehyde. An ounce in a quart of water, properly used as disinfectant and deodorizer, will prevent a lot of sickness and death.

Nearly everyone who lived before the days of vaccination had smallpox. During epidemics great numbers of the people died with it. Out of eleven thousand people living in Boston, fifty-eight hundred died with smallpox. Smallpox killed one-third of the Indians in this country, though they were a strong and vigorous race. Without a law people who are ignorant or careless will not be vaccinated. In Germany smallpox has practically been exterminated by the rigorous vaccination laws. Disease depends on two factors, presence of germs and condition of one's body. If the body is in right condition many of these germs will have no effect. In teaching Physiology teach something worth while. The teacher can do vastly more than the doctor in helping people to keep well.

Death of Mrs. Henry Lippert.

—Mrs. Sarah Jane Lippert, widow of Henry Lippert, died in Carbondale on Monday morning last, Nov. 9th, 1908, after two weeks illness of stomach trouble. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Elmer Avery, at whose home she died; two brothers, Francis W. Beere, of Dyberry, and John, of Los Angeles, Cal., and a sister, Mrs. Mary Pethick, of Prompton.

The Era of New Mixed Paints!
This year opens with a deluge of new mixed paints. A condition brought about by our enterprising dealers to get some kind of a mixed paint that would supplant CHILTON'S MIXED PAINTS. Their compounds, being new and heavily advertised, may find a sale with the unwary.

THE ONLY PLACE IN HONESDALE AUTHORIZED TO HANDLE CHILTON'S MIXED PAINTS IS JADWIN'S PHARMACY.

There are reasons for the pre-eminence of CHILTON PAINTS:
1st—No one can mix a better mixed paint.
2d—The painters declare that it works easily and has wonderful covering qualities.
3d—Chilton stands back of it, and will agree to repaint, at his own expense, every surface painted with Chilton Paint that proves defective.
4th—Those who have used it are perfectly satisfied with it, and recommend its use to others.
