FRIDAY, JANUARY 1, 1909.

Do not wait for opportunities. Improve yourself constantly, and you will have all the opportunities you can use. Make yourself a power in your own world and you will soon be wanted in a larger world.

MAKE UP YOUR MIND CLEARLY and firmly what you want in this life, and be determined to get it. You cannot fail if you continue to stand unflinchingly upon your original resolve. Though you do not get it as soon as you desired, there is no need of giving up. You have the power to get what you want and you will positively get it, if you continue to use that power.

News of the devastation wrought by the earthquake in Italy was received by the government scientists in Washington with profound interest. The tremors were received on the seismograph instruments of both the Weather Bureau and the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and the Weather Bureau officials had figured out almost with mathematical precision the section of the globe where the great force of the shock was felt, but there was nothing to indicate the tremendous violence of the disturbance as brought out by the later reports showing the enormous loss of life and property damage.

A petition to the State Legislature is being circulated, asking for the enactment of a law which will make the hunting of pheasants and other birds with dogs illegal. The sportsmen believe that in a few years the pheasants and many others of our choice birds will certainly have been exterminated from the Pennsylvania woods unless strict legislation is enacted to save them. The hunting of birds with the aid of dogs is indulged in so extensively that in a patch of woods a few hunters easily kill every bird and the species can in a very short time become extinct.

CLAUS SPRECKELS, the multimillionaire sugar king, died in San Francisco on Saturday morning last, aged 80 years. He was born in Hanover, Germany and came to this country when eight years of age. Twenty years later he conducted a store and brewery in San Francisco, and in 1863 established a sugar refinery in that city, importing his raw material from Hawaii. By inventing new processes and constantly enlarging his business he became immensely wealthy, and at the time of his death was a large owner of the stock of the steamship company trading between San Francisco and the South Sea islands. On the same day of Mr. Spreckels' death, Dr. Richard A. F. Penrose, father of U. S. Senator Boies Penrose, died at his home in Philadelphia.

SUPPLY OF ANTHRACITE.

The latest estimate of the amount of anthracite coal in the ground, made by M. R. Campbell for the United States Geological Survey, is 21,000,000,000 tons. In 1879 P. W. Shaeffer estimated the contents of the anthracite coal measures in Pennsylvania at 26,360,576,000 tons and the amount of coal accessible and marketable at 8,276,856,666 tons. The estimate of Joseph S. Harris in 1880 was a gross total of 13,260,392,591 tons and a marketable total of 3,580,036,900 tons. In 1882 Mr. Harris' estimate was revised, and he then reported a gross total of 14,453,970,000 tons, of which 5,960,700,000 tons were marketable. In the same year James F. Jones, in a report on the quality of anthracite coal in ground, estimated it at 12,000,000,000 tons. Mr. Shaeffer estimated the marketable coal at one-third of the total amount in the ground. Mr. Harris, in 1880 estimated that 27 per cent. of the coal in the ground was accessible and marketable, and, according to his figures, a production of 60,000,000 tons per year would exhaust the mines in 100 years, with the high point of production in 1915.

It is evident, suggests the coal record, that the question of the exhaustion of anthracite coal will not be a vitally interesting one to this generation. A large part of the territory owned by the leading producers and carriers is undeveloped, but it will be necessary in the next few years to increase the colliery capacity if it is shown that the consumption is 60,000,000 tons or above that quantity.

A GREAT SCHOOL.

SCRANTON BUSINESS COLLEGE. The Scranton Business College began its fifteenth year on Tuesday, Sept. 1st, with a large enrollment. Despite the hard times the enrollment has been very heavy since and the school is now very large. The suddenly greatly increased demand for office help this month is an indication that good times are here again and that those who soonest qualify as bookkeepers or stenographers will reap the greatest rewards. School will open again on Monday, Jan. 4th. Write to H. D. BUCK, Principal, Scranton, Pa. CITIZEN ad's bring results.

Carrying Concealed Weapons.

During the progress of a case in the Monroe county court a few days since, it was testified that a Stroudsburg justice of the peace had advised people that they had a right to carry revolvers, when Judge Staples halted the proceedings and gave the following as his judicial interpretation of the law relating to the carrying of concealed weapons:

"The very fact of a person, man or boy, having concealed about him, a revolver or other deadly weapon, makes him liable to conviction, unless he can explain in a satisfactory manner how he happens at the time to be carrying that weapon, and this court will hold any such person to the strict letter of the law. In other words, the reason, or the necessity, for the carrying of the revolver must be such as would excuse him, and it is necessary at this time that the rule should be held up very strictly. No justice of the peace has a right to give any such advice, as he is not elected to serve as an advisor to the people; but he is simply there to perform the duties of his office, and we hope that advice will not be taken as the correct law, and we desire this matter to be called to the attention of all the people. We see some persons in the audience who deal in fire-arms and we say to them, that notwithstanding the profit in the sale of a revolver, that such person should not sell revolvers to irresponsible people. There are a large number of foreigners about this town at the present time and it behooves the people to see that the law is strictly complied with and that everything is done to see that there is not such opportunity given as would lead to a violation of the law, and even severe injury or death, resulting. We hope that the persons to whom the court has given this advice will follow it."

Indian Orchard.

Dec. 28th.—Several from here attended the Christmas exercises held at the M. E. church at Beach Lake on Thursday evening last. All were highly pleased with the entertainment.

John Neal, Jr., who had his leg broken at the Half Way House recently, is gaining quite fast.

The fair held at the Grange Hall, by the ladies of this place on the 16th inst., was a grand success.

Indian Orchard Grange, No. 1020, will install their officers on Wednesday evening, January 13th. All grangers are requested to be present.

Mrs. Elsie Williams, of Englewood, N. J., is visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

J. I. Henshaw, principal of the Winwood high school, was a pleasant visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henshaw, on Friday and Saturday last.

Frances Gray, one of the Dyberry teachers, visited her sister Mabel, on Christmas day.

W. H. Marshall and family spent Sunday last at the home of C. E. Neal, at East Beach Lake.

Charles Bayly, of Archbald, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bayly. The Indian Orchard Grave Yard Association will hold their annual business meeting at Grange Hall on Jan. 6, 1909.

Grace Smith, of Aldenville, spent Christmas at her mother's, Mrs. Charles Smith.

Mrs. O. D. Henshaw and children spent Christmas at White Mills as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dain, of Honesdale, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ham on Christmas day.

Charles Weber, of Beach Lake, has purchased a fine colt of John Reining. The new telephone line is staked out in readiness for the linemen.

Corra Weeks was recent visitor at the home of her brother, Francis, of Prompton.

Leslie Rice, of White Mills, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Braman.

Mr. and Mrs. William Weeks, of White Mills, are visiting relatives here.

Sterling.

Dec. 27th.—We have had several days of excellent sleighing, which is being well improved.

Many of our young folks are home on vacations, viz: David and Royal Cross, from Carmel University; Floyd, Stella and Myrtle Cross from Wyoming Seminary; Earl Cross, from Perkiomen Seminary; Grace Gillner, from Bloomsburg State Normal School, and Mason Gilpin from Wyoming Seminary.

Mary Roacker is up from Dr. Gilpin's, George Howe is home from Mosaic, and Susie Cross from Moscow.

Recently Mrs. S. N. Cross and daughter, Mrs. W. B. Leasher, spent a few very pleasant days at Dallas, with the Rev. David Evans' family.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cross are here again, and expect soon to move into their old home, having spent over a year with his grandparents, in New Jersey.

Abram Garris is on the sick list, and the same may be said of Mrs. J. W. Gillner.

Hattie Hazelton is spending a few days with her sister, at Gouldsboro.

M. E. Fuller, D. D., accompanied Rev. Edward McMillan to a Methodist Hospital, in Brooklyn, on the 23d, and Mrs. McMillan went to her parents, in Connecticut.

The Maple Grove school had their Christmas exercises on the evening of the 23d, and the Jericho Sunday school on Christmas night.

The Sterling M. E. Sunday school held forth on the evening of the 24th. Such entertainments always bring out a full house, and this time was no exception. The children usually receive much credit for their excellent speaking and singing, and they deserve it, but the faithful teacher, who does the drilling, seldom gets the credit she deserves. She is, as it were, "the power behind the throne."

A. M. and Mrs. Sampson, from Ariel, brought Rev. and Mrs. S. B. Murray down to-day, and he very acceptably filled the M. E. pulpit. A good sermon is appreciated now, as we have had but one in three months.

White Mills.

Dec. 29th.—The masquerade ball of the White Mills Athletic club, held on Saturday last, was a grand success financially and otherwise, netting a handsome sum. Many from Honesdale and Hawley came to enjoy the evening with the White Millers.

Miss Nellie McNally, of Detroit, Mich., came to visit her father here, and will take up her abode with us for the winter.

John McGregor is spending the holidays with friends here.

Miss Annie Walters, of Scranton, is here, visiting her sister, Mrs. Wm. Weber over the holidays.

Miss Mame Werner, of Newark, N. J., is spending a few days here with her mother and her many friends over the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Tobias Hegberg, left for Brooklyn, N. Y., with their family to spend the holidays with relatives and friends.

The M. E. church congregation here held their regular Christmas exercises at the church on Christmas Eve, and a fine program was rendered. Old Santa Claus was in full uniform and gave much amusement to the youngsters, also merriment to the parents.

Miss Francis Moshey, of New York city, is visiting at the home of Fred. Werner.

Miss Ida Johnson has gone to visit friends in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miss Phoebe Howell, of Waymart, is visiting her brother, A. H. Howell.

Wm. Mallett of Port Jervis, was a caller in town on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Papke received a very fine Christmas present of a young son to brighten their home.

At The Lyric.

In the coming of Fanny Rice to the Lyric Theatre on New Year's Day, Friday, Jan. 1st, the amusement seekers have a treat in store for them, not alone in the fact of Miss Rice herself, but in the opportunity the lady is given to portray her versatile art, as Nancy Patch, the Shoemaker's wife, in "A Day Off."

The play is of the best class of musical comedies, and a real story of interest runs throughout the prologue and three acts, abounding with comedy, pathos and music. Fine opportunity is given in the last act for Miss Rice, who will impersonate in midget mimic stage her famous characterizations which always prove a delight to ladies and children. With an excellent cast and complete production, which is promised, an exceptional offering seems assured.

MEXNER & Co. will close out their winter stock of Ladies' cloaks and suits at cut prices. 4167

Seven Human Life Stars

A Celebrity is born every day. Who is he? What is his story? How does he live, work, play? What about his family, his friends, his fancies? Read HUMAN LIFE, its exclusive field is interesting articles about people. HUMAN LIFE marshals the world's celebrities of the day together and gives them to you in picture and story as under a field glass. HUMAN LIFE is absolutely original. There is no other magazine dealing with people exclusively. It is filled from cover to cover with stories and pictures of people and will keep the entire family posted as to the actions and doings of all the prominent people of the entire world.

It has the greatest writer in this country of vigorous, virile, pungent, forceful, piquant English, as its editor-in-chief, Alfred Henry Lewis, the classic contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, Cosmopolitan, Success and many other representative periodicals; the author of "The President," "The Boss," "Wolfville," "Andrew Jackson," and other books of story and adventure, every one scintillating with strenuous life. Mr. Lewis' fingers are upon the public pulse; he knows what the public wants, and he gives them running-over measure; his knowledge of men and things is as wide as the wide, wide world. HUMAN LIFE is up-to-date in its fresh, original matter from the best authors and best artists, and filled to overflowing with human interest.

You will find the great and the almost great, the famous and sometimes infamous, described in HUMAN LIFE, with a knowledge of their little humanities that is enviable.

HUMAN LIFE has a peculiar style and method of its own, which gets the reader into intimate relation with the subject written about. It may be said here, on these pages, you almost meet the people. You get them at close range, "off the stage," as it were; you see all their little mannerisms and peculiarities, and you hear them tell good anecdotes, you laugh with them, you find out about their homes and hobbies and children and "better halves."

All About Human Life
