MINISTERS AT THE LYRIC.

On Thursday eve., Feb. 18th, the Lyric Theatre will be the scene of a memorable event, as Mr. Wm. B. Gray the author of the beautiful play, "The Volunteer Organist," has extended to the clergymen of this city an invitation to attend the performance as his guests. During the church scene, the singing of the Masters Willie Gould and Milton White in conjunction with the beautiful Liest Organ especially built for this production and played in a masterly manner by a Volunteer Organist, transplants the audience into the realms of the blest.
