Watson E. Beach Killed.

Victim of Railroad Accident at Callicoon-Well Known and Popular in Honesdale.

The shocking news reached Honesdale on Wednesday morning that Watson E. Beach, of Milanville, one of the best known of Wayne county's' citizens, had been killed on the previous day at Callicoon. The only particulars that have thus far reached us are contained in despatches to the Port Jervis papers, from which it appears that Mr. Beach was found dying on the Erie Railroad tracks near Callicoon, at an early hour on Tuesday morning, by Conductor Becker and Engineer Snyder of Erie train No. 48, the east-bound Southern Tier express. As the engine drew up at the water tank Engineer Snyder alighted on the right side of the locomotive. He was holding a torch and as he looked down, he was horrified to see Mr. Beach lying on his where he was about to step. Both of his legs were severely crushed and bent toward the body. He was unconscious and only at times could be seen to tion on a stretcher, and later put on the -The passenger train, leaving Hones- train and taken to Cochecton, whence he into the Lackawaxen river. Company "E" Stands Second.

Company E, which stands second in order of merit in the 13th regiment, and as an organization reflects credit on Honesdale, held a banquet in the armory in Odd Fellows' hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 16th. Fifty members, of the company were present. A. T. Searle, Esq., acted as toastmaster and called upon M. J. Hanlan, Representative Fuerth, Assistant Postmaster John Sharpsteen, and Captain Kelly, who responded with very appropriate and pleasing remarks, which rounded out the evening's enjoyment in a manner that will be long remembered. It is hoped that Captain Kelly's labors in bringing Company E up to the high standard of excellence of being next to the best company in the 13th regiment, will be rewarded by an increased interest among the citizens of Honesdale in the project of erecting a suitable armory for their boys in blue.

"RIPPER" BUSY IN BERLIN.

Twenty Girls Slashed by Miscream Within Forty-eight Hours.

ters of the city are in a panic on account of the numerous murderous knife attacks made by some unidentified miscreant upon girls. Many women are refusing to leave their homes in any circumstances. The whole force of detectives and plain clothes police is patrolling the streets day and night and keeping unattended women under observation.

Twenty girls, all under eighteen years of age, have been attacked and seriously wounded within the last forty-eight hours, and three have died.

In July, 1907, attacks upon little girls in the heart of the city of Berlin followed one another with such celerity that crowds stormed the police stations in an attempt to lynch all suspects. The police at one time believed they had the guilty person under arrest, but subsequent occurrences proved the innocence of the man, and he was released.

In all thirty children were slain and many severely wounded. Many theories are advanced for the crimes, and noted doctors expressed the view that the acts were committed by an escaped maniac.

FEB. 17th .--- A big fire occurred at Lakeville last night, between 8 and 9 o'clock, in which the house of, Joseph Herzog was totally destroyed by fire, and his son, Edward Herzog, 16 years ot age, and an adopted daughter, Annie Kotich, aged 18 years, were burned to death. Mrs. Herzog was alone with the three children, and was asleep on the second floor. She was awakened by the smell of smoke, and discovered that the floor below was in flames. She grasped the baby in her arms, and escaped down the burning stairway in her night robes. Her hair was nearly all burned from her head. It is not known why the two children could not be saved, as Mrs. Herzog is so nearly crazed by grief and shock that she cannot give a coherent account of the terrible affair. The house and contents are a complete loss, and the origin of the fire is unknown. Mr.

LOITOR OF THE CITIZEN.-1 bave been very much interested and amused by the discussion in your paper between the old-fashioned M. D., and the scientific Editor, on the value of wool and linen, as a protection from external and internal ills, with the question of cleanliness thrown in as a side issue. The M. D. signs himself "Octogenarian," and is a living example that wearing wool does not shorten a man's life, while the Editor, by his anatomical structure, proves that linen does not make a man lean; but rather encourages the accumulation of fat, which some people characterize as a species of disease. When these learned gentlemen get through with their discussion about caring for the outer Berlin, Feb. 36 .- The poorer quar- man, the body, we would like them to give us their views on building up and taking care of the inner man, with moral cleanliness as the main object in view. This would be interesting, especially if the linen man would base his arguments > upon the Scriptures, which he so aptly quotes, while the woolen man might fall back on Darwin to prove his argument. Stocker, of the Herald, would no doubt act as umpire. READER.

The Protestant Methodists have under consideration a lease of the Dimock picnic grounds for campmeeting purposes. It is an annual affair, of ten days' duration

Some three weeks ago the saints of the M. E. church gave a supper for the benefit of the church. On Thursday evening, Feb. 18th, the sinners are to have a competitive supper, and if their receipts are greater than those of the saints, the leading sinners are to be given a banquet with the leading saints as waiters or vice versa. It is needless to say that the geats are making strenuous efforts to outdo the lambs. After an exciting election contest between the fossils and the anti-fossils, the former won out to the tune of 2 to 1. The fossils quite naturally are elated, and the anti-fossils correspondingly glum. The former achieved their victory by a coalition with the Democrats, thus bolting the regular nominees of the Republican caucus. This fact, together with a division of the church party and the votes of doting parents who are the proud possessors of children who are too stupid to graduate anywhere else, will account for the result.

This is the second occasion on which the disgruntled leaders of the Republican party have flirted with the Democrata for personal ends, even to the extent of last. taking part in the Democratic primaries and they would better look out for their credentials, in the event of an important county election.

Our register shows 110 voters in the ratio of 10 Republicans to 1 Democrat. The results of yesterday's election, out Lake Lodore. Mrs. Hurd has a fine of 88 votes cast, developed an average of baby. Mother and child are doing well. 61 Democratic votes to 27 Republican. This speaks for itself.

In the next election, with the personalities of this campaign eliminated and a fair and square issue of competency or incompetency, we predict an end of fossilism.

We congratulate our Republican Mayor elect, Luther Bryant, our sole victory,
