LOCAL MENTION.

The Aerie of Eagles was organized at this place, Friday evening last, with a membership of fifty-six.

Diek Monaghan, son of Thomas J. Monaghan, of Carbondale, has been selected by the faculty at Villanova to lead the base ball squad of that institution against the best college teams.

The official count of the vote for Scranton and Carbondale at the recent election, began in Scranton on Thursday last, with our former town name, Attorney F. M. Monaghan, as comparing clerk.

Gilbert Coleman, the negro who was arrested at Callicoon on December 21st, for the murder of his wife in New York city, and confessed his guilt while being detained in Port Jervis, was sentenced last week by Justice Dowling, of the Supreme Court of New York to die in the electric chair. A motion for a new trial was refused.

The list of stockholders of the Delaware & Hudson company, recently published, shows George I. Wilber, president of the Wilber National Bank of Oneonta, to be the owner of 5,100 shares of its stock. At current prices Mr. Wilber's holdings are worth $500,000, and his yearly income from the stock would be over $45,000.

A Scott Center reporter writes that an addition 25 by 54 feet in dimensions is being erected to enlarge the creamery on the E. E. Hackett farm in that place, new features being a milk heater and a pasteurizing apparatus. It is said that the milk from 575 cows has been pledged. Both butter and cheese will be made. The creamery will be operated by G. Smith & Son, of Seelyville.

M. Buckingham, of Tiroh, Susquehanna county, will have charge of the new creamery, which, it is expected, will be ready for operations about April 1st.

Although Honesdale, normally Republican, went Democratic and voted for continued Democratic control in the town council and school board, the cities and boroughs of the State, as a rule, chose Republican executive officers. Every borough in Lackawanna, Pike and Monroe counties elected Republican burgesses, even when all of the other officers, or a majority of them, went to the dominant Democratic party. Scranton, Carbondale, Peckville, Archbald, Dunmore, Milford, Matamoras, Stroudsburg, Water Gap, and nearly every municipality in this region, elected Republicans as the heads of their tickets. Even here, where the vote for Judge of Election is regarded as a test of real party strength, the Republican candidate had 81 majority. That the successful ticket as a whole was Democratic, only serves to show that in local matters, Honesdale Republicans are exceedingly generous and do not allow their party predilections to affect their personal preferences. Are the opposition equally liberal?

While crossing the Lackawanna railroad yard at Gouldsboro about 8 o'clock last Thursday night two employees of the Mountain Ice company were run down by a switch engine. Edward Stanton was instantly killed and John Slatery fatally injured. Stanton and Slatery were employed by the Mountain Ice Co. at the big ice houses near that town and at the time of the accident were on their way to the town to spend the evening. They had just left their boarding house which fronts on the tracks and were taking the latter as the most direct route. They had not taken a dozen steps when they were struck by the switch engine which was running backward at the time. Stanton, who was in the advance of Slatery as they walked the track, was instantly killed, his body being quite badly mangled. Slatery was terribly mangled also, but was alive when picked up. He was placed on a train and taken to Scranton, for treatment at the State hospital, where he died a few hours later. Stanton's home was in Moscow and he was nineteen years of age. Slatery is a resident of Scranton.

The revival services in the M. E. church will commence this Wednesday evening, and continue until March 17th.

Adolph P. Schneider, of Honesdale, and for several years a member of the local base ball team, will captain the Lafayette College team this season. The college expects to have a strong team this year and will meet most of the larger university teams of the East.

Bregstein Bros. have opened store in Callicoon N. Y. for the sale of the stock which they purchased at the Bankrupt sale of Peter Hittinger, of Hawley.

A. H. Davenport, who was born and lived in Clinton township this county, and afterwards went to Duluth Minnesota, called at THE CITIZEN'S office on Friday. His many friends will be glad to know that he has been very successful in his new home, being employed by Uncle Sam in the mail service and from what we know of his straightforward and energetic method of doing things, he is destined to go up higher in any line of work he undertakes. Wayne county boys as a rule succeed and they do this big country all over and we are proud of their records.

Rev. Dr. Moses D. Fuller, Supt. of the Honesdale District of the M. E. church, officiated in the Bethany church, last Sunday morning, and in the Honesdale church in the evening. He served in the army of Uncle Sam, during the civil war, enlisting at the age of 16 years, in Co. H, 52d Penn'a Volunteers, being mustered in Nov. 4, 1861, and discharged July 12, 1865. A few years after his return he enlisted under the banner of the Lord, and ever since has been one of his most faithful and energetic followers.

Lackawanna county will ask for an additional law judge. Members of the bar are signing a petition to the Legislature setting forth that the civil courts are eighteen months behind in their work, and at almost every term it becomes necessary to summon a judge from a neighboring county. It is pointed out that there are five judges in the adjoining county of Luzerne, while the business of the Lackawanna courts is much heavier and there are only four.

At Montrose last week, F. J. Skeels, of Harford, who was convicted of selling liquor without a license, was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and costs of prosecution and be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of three months.

Eugene Nollan, proprietor of the Hotel Belvidere, Hawley, has sold his good will to C. P. Woods, formerly proprietor of the Shohola House, Pike County. Mr. Nollan goes West soon to engage in the knitting business.

A former resident of a neighboring Wayne county village, was convicted in the Susquehanna county court, last week, of selling liquor without a license, and sentenced to pay a fine of $500, costs of prosecution and imprisonment in the county jail for three months.

George P. Ross, who has been the Honesdale correspondent for the North American for a number of years, has resigned because he will not stand as foster father for a lot of political articles he does not write. If somebody now wants the job of being the known representative of that journal behind whom anonymous writers may hide, the job is open.

The Scranton Republican very sensibly says:

"A great many of our contemporaries are raving about the laxity of public officials in permitting full swing to cheap public dances. But how are they to be legally prevented. Our young people have constitutional rights as well as their elders and one of these is the right to assemble in a social way and to dance and chat and laugh and make merry. If there were less rot printed about the harm done by such assemblages and greater effort made to elevate the tone of such public affairs it would be better for the morals of all communities. It does not help the public dances to scare away from them the element that would minimize the influences that all right thinking people would like to combat."

Thomas Charlesworth will open a photograph studio in the Schuerholz building on Main street, about March 1st.

Mortimer B. Fuller, son of E. L. Fuller, of Scranton, who died recently, was elected at a meeting of Stockholders in Scranton to the presidency of the International Salt Co., succeeding his father. The company is a $12,000,000 concern and one of the largest of its kind in the world. The new president is a young man and through constant and intimate association with his father for many years, is able now to bring to his task a thorough knowledge of its requirements. Mr. Fuller was formerly a resident of Hawley.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church held their annual Martha Washington Dinner on Monday evening, February 22d, in the chapel, which was handsomely decorated with wreaths of evergreens and roses which were hung at intervals on the walls and face of balcony. These were connected together with festoons of greens nicely arranged, which gave a very pleasing effect. Displayed on the walls in bronze letters were the historical facts, that it was the 150 anniversary of the wedding of Geo. and Martha Washington; the 80th anniversary of the pastorage of Dr. W. H. Swift. Sweet and enlivening music helped to add to the enjoyment of the evening. The dinner was a feast that the ladies alone can furnish. The attendance was as usual phenomenal; it seemed as if everybody was present and everybody's friend, accompanied them. The number of out of town old acquaintances were so numerous that it would not be possible to name them without committing the unpardonable sin of omitting to mention some one. The fancy work, bakery and candy booths were manned by crews of ladies, who were armed to the teeth with such persuasive arguments as to the untold value of their wares that quite a number went home lighter in pocket, but richer in treasures. The number of diners was 578. The amount received from all sources bids fair to equal that of previous years.

An account of the local Teachers' Institute will appear in the Friday edition of THE CITIZEN.
