THE INAUGURATION.

Great Disappointment on Account of Unfavorable Change of Plans—Parade Greatly Curtailed.

The apprehensions felt in Honesdale yesterday morning, when the heavy snow storm set in, that the blizzard might extend to Washington and seriously interfere with the elaborate arrangements made for the inauguration of President Taft, were more than realized. At eleven o'clock, through the courtesy and kindness of A. J. Coleman & Co., stockbrokers, with office at the Allen House, THE CITIZEN received the following dispatch from the National Capital received by wireless at Philadelphia:

"The blizzard is raging here this morning. Washington and Baltimore wires are down. The inauguration parade will be largely curtailed, and the inauguration ceremonies will take place in the Senate Chamber, and not at the east front of the Capitol, as is customary, and for which elaborate preparation was made."

The weather conditions at Washington this year were unfavorable beyond precedent on any similar occasion. On Wednesday the streets were filled with a surging, jostling crowd, the visitors at that time being estimated at 800,000, with the hotels jammed to their capacity, and the streets thronged, while bands were playing and thousands marching in a drenching downpour of rain. It was almost impossible to make much headway along Pennsylvania Avenue in the evening, owing to the tremendous throngs, and automobiles were renting at $12 an hour. Notwithstanding the fact that everybody, so to speak, was soaking wet, everybody was happy in anticipation of more pleasant weather on the morrow, and an opportunity to witness a pageant surpassing anything ever heretofore seen in this country on a similar occasion.

The thousands who found themselves so grievously disappointed yesterday morning, and especially the Honesdale contingent in the military display, have the sincere sympathy and commiseration of THE CITIZEN. There is one great comfort after all, with which we may console ourselves: no matter what the weather, another Republican president was inaugurated, and his first message, which will be found elsewhere in this paper, affords the best of evidence that for four years to come, at least, there will be no diminution in the sunshine of prosperity.

STATE protection may be withdrawn from the Turkey buzzard. Under the new game laws, drafted by State Game Commissioner Kalbfus and approved by the legislative committee of the State Sportsmen's Association, the protection given for years to the eagle, the osprey or fish hawk and the great blue heron has been taken away, it being considered that such birds are not beneficial and entitled to the protection of the law. The removal of the bar to killing of the slow-sailing scavengers of the fields and woods is urged and the committee on game will be asked to put it on the proposed list. The reason for this movement is said to be the statement of the State veterinary authorities, who have been fighting foot and mouth disease among cattle, that the buzzard is a consumer of carrion and that by eating remains of a cow which may have been infected with the cattle plague may spread it. Some of the country members who consider the buzzard a benefactor will oppose this action and the buzzard may be the cause of a row among members of the lawmaking body.

A BILL has been presented in the House by Mr. Dunsmore, of Tioga, requiring State inspectors' approval of premises used for moving picture shows, and precautions against fire in third class cities, boroughs and townships, and vesting jurisdiction over fire escapes in the department. The bill covers buildings used for public purposes in all parts of the State except first and second class cities, and requires fire escapes, doors opening outward and landings four feet in length. Regulations are made prohibiting use of oil as an illuminant, requiring non-combustible curtains and standpipes. This bill is designed to prevent a repetition of the Boyertown horror.

MEMBERS of the State police who have been out on detailed duty during the winter have been recalled to barracks. This action is not being taken because of fear of strikes or anything of the kind, but because of the expiration of the appropriation year. Early in April the men will be sent out on summer details which will include assisting to enforce the fish laws.

From Farview.

Work on Hospital Progressing—Proposed New Road Over the Mountain.

The work on the proposed hospital for criminal insane at Farview is progressing most satisfactorily and, if the present mild weather continues for two weeks longer, everything will be in readiness to begin the laying of the concrete.

On Tuesday evening, the 2d inst., a meeting of the tax payers and citizens of Canaan township, was held in the Canaan Corners Hotel, for the purpose of discussing the subject of building a new macadamized or tilled road from a point near the line dividing the borough of Waymart from the township of Canaan west, on the Honesdale road, and extend straight across the mountain due west, to a point north of old No. 7 on the D. & H. Gravity and to join with a similar road on the line dividing Wayne and Lackawanna counties, and which shall extend to Fell township, Lackawanna county, to the D. & H. R. R., crossing at White's flag station. The advisability and desirability of constructing such a road is so apparent that nothing can be said against it. As is known, the State furnishes six-eighths of the money when such roads are constructed under the auspices of the state law governing public highways. A petition, numerously signed by the taxpayers of Fell township, through which the road will extend in Lackawanna county, has been prepared and is ready for presentation to the courts of that county, asking for a board of viewers to be appointed, whose duty it will be to lay out a definite and exact route for the construction of that road. This cannot be done, however, until similar proceedings are instituted in Wayne county, hence at an early date a petition will be presented to the court of Wayne county, asking for a board of viewers to define proper lines for the building of the road in this county.

He attempted to leave the hotel with the jewelry, but was caught in one of the corridors, whereupon he committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor.

It is believed that the name Pullman is an alias.

For the Teeth.
As a dentifrice and mouth wash borax is unexcelled. It cleanses the mouth, hardens the gums and relieves cankers. In using it for the teeth make a powder of one ounce each of powdered borax and pulverized soap and two ounces of precipitated chalk.

Taft's Inaugural Address.

The Labor Question.

There is one other matter to which I shall refer. It was made the subject of great controversy during the election and calls for at least a passing reference now. My distinguished predecessor has given much attention to the cause of labor, with whose struggle for better things he has shown the sincerest sympathy. At his instance congress has passed the bill fixing the liability of interstate carriers to their employees for injury sustained in the course of employment, abolishing the rule of fellow servant and the common law rule as to contributory negligence and substituting therefor the so called rule of comparative negligence. It has also passed a law fixing the compensation of government employees for injuries sustained in the employ of the government through the negligence of the superior. It also passed a model child labor law for the District of Columbia. In previous administrations an arbitration law for interstate commerce railroads and their employees and laws for the application of safety devices to save the lives and limbs of employees of interstate railroads had been passed. Additional legislation of this kind was passed by the outgoing congress.

I wish to say that, in so far as I can, I hope to promote the enactment of further legislation of this character. I am strongly convinced that the government should make itself as responsible to employees injured in its employ as an interstate railway corporation is made responsible by federal law to its employees, and I shall be glad, whenever any additional reasonable safety device can be invented to reduce the loss of life and limb among railway employees, to urge congress to require its adoption by interstate railways.

Use of Injunctions Necessary.

Another labor question has arisen which has awakened the most excited discussion. That is in respect to the power of the federal courts to issue injunctions in industrial disputes. As to that, my convictions are fixed. Take away from courts, if it could be taken away, the power to issue injunctions in labor disputes, and it would create a privileged class among the laborers and save the lawless among their number from a most needful remedy available to all men for the protection of their business against lawless invasion. The proposition that business is not a property or pecuniary right which can be protected by equitable injunction is utterly without foundation in precedent or reason. The proposition is usually linked with one to make the secondary boycott lawful. Such a proposition is at variance with the American instinct and will find no support, in my judgment, when submitted to the American people. The secondary boycott is an instrument of tyranny and ought not to be made legitimate.

The issuing of a temporary restraining order without notice has in several instances been abused by its inconsiderate exercise, and to remedy this the platform upon which I was elected recommends the formulation in a statute of the conditions under which such a temporary restraining order ought to issue. A statute can and ought to be framed to embody the best modern practice and can bring the subject so closely to the attention of the court as to make abuses of the process unlikely in the future. American people, if I understand them, insist that the authority of the courts shall be sustained and are opposed to any change in the procedure by which the powers of a court may be weakened and the fearless and effective administration of justice be interfered with.

Having thus reviewed the questions likely to recur during my administration and having expressed in a summary way the position which I expect to take in recommendations to congress and in my conduct as an executive, I invoke the considerate sympathy and support of my fellow citizens and the aid of Almighty God in the discharge of my responsible duties.

TURFMAN AGAINST BETTING.

Owner of Race Horses Introduces Bill in Legislature.

Springfield, Ill., March 3.—Representative Thomas Tippitt, who drives his own horses in races, introduced in the state legislature a bill making it a penitentiary offense for any person to register bets or keep a pool on horse races.

"I am convinced that the pool sellers are often in collusion with the officials in charge of the races and that the best horse does not always win," said Representative Tippitt. "The honest horsemen of the country want this bill."

SERVIA MOVING TROOPS.

Train Loads Leave Belgrade, Shouting For War.

Belgrade, March 3.—In spite of all denials the mobilization of troops by the Servian government still continues and is not confined to two divisions.

Fifteen thousand reserves have been sent forward in the direction of Nish, 130 miles southeast of Belgrade, which is a place of considerable importance, being at the junction of several railway lines.

Large bodies of students united in a demonstration of farewell to train loads of soldiers, repeatedly shouting for war. Each regiment in the Belgrade garrison will receive machine guns, now on the way here from the Krupp factory at Essen.

Over forty teams are hauling ice from Laurel Lake to fill the ice house in the Fairboam creamery.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Skinner, aged ninety-two, died Tuesday morning, after a few days illness. Aunt Sallie, as she was familiarly called, was one of the useful people. As long as health permitted, she was the first at the bed-side of the sick, and where the death angel had come, it was her privilege to minister and comfort. The deceased is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Samantha Gordon, of Middletown, N. Y.; Mrs. Newton Cornish, of Orlando, Florida, and Miss Florence, at home; three sons, Fayette, Amzi and Charles, all of Milanville, Pa. Mrs. Skinner, who was Miss Sarah Corwin before her marriage, was born at St. Tammany, opposite Callicoon, in the same house and on the same day that her future husband, Clinton Skinner, was born. They had lived all their long married life in Milanville. Mr. Skinner died twenty years ago last February. Mrs. Skinner had been tenderly cared for by her daughter, Miss Florence, who has devoted her life to her mother, who, though crippled in body was as bright and interesting to visit with as many a younger person. The funeral will be held at the house this week.

R. R. Beegle, manager of the creamery, had his foot badly cut by Earl Decker while packing ice, Monday. Dr. Apple was called, and took six stitches in the wound.

Mrs. E. A. Carpenter will leave for her home at Burlington, Vt., this week.

Mrs. D. M. Stalker and Emma Stalker left here Tuesday for a two weeks' trip. They go direct to Washington to visit the former's son, Gale, and to be there at the inauguration of President Taft. On their way home they will visit relatives in New York, Middletown, and Port Jervis.

Several teams are busy filling the ice house at the creamery.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Phillips, of Brooklyn, an eight pound boy. Congratulations, as the mother was Inez Tyler, and lived in this place until about a year ago, when she married and has since lived in Brooklyn.

White Mills.

MARCH 3d.—The manager of the Beach Lake base ball club is busy organizing a team for the coming season, and it has been intimated that he has secured catcher Wenders, and pitcher Smith. This will strengthen the Beach Lake team and put them in line to receive all comers.

Wm. Smith has secured an engagement as Manager of the Catchall base ball team and no doubt under his management the club will make a mark in base ball circles.

Wm. Weber, of this place, has disposed of his fine team of black horses.

The White Mills base ball team held a meeting at the bakery on Monday, Mar. 1st. Nothing definite has been decided as yet, but Joe Dorflinger insisted that the boys should keep in good shape so as to be ready at short notice. He has extended the distance of running to the Spinner milk farm and return. We should have some good base running this season.

John Tuttle is holding special services at the M. E. church this week.

Freud. Weber is visiting friends in Scranton.

Andrew Joy, who was sick for two weeks, is again at his work.

Mrs. C. Neiman has just returned from New York after a visit of six weeks with her children, Annie, Alex, Sarah, Selah and Abe, all of New York. Mr. Neiman is the busiest man in town, delivering stove wood.

John Schneider has purchased a two-hundred-chick brooder.

M. Decker has just received a three-hundred-and-fifty chick incubator.

C. H. Dorflinger has just returned from the Cobalt District. He visited the Empire and found everything in a prosperous condition, and says it is one of the greatest silver camps in the world.

He reports three feet of snow and good sleighing, and says the country looks very bare on account of the forest fires last summer. All that remains is a little burnt wood.

Everybody has the chicken fever and I will attempt to increase the temperature a few degrees. "What is the best feed?" Well, let me say right here, that the standards of rations set up in many poultry journals and poultry books known as the narrow ration, are very expensive when you add to the cost of the great number of eggs one never gets by using these balanced rations. The most degrading winter feed I know of is one compounded largely of the protein element. I have often wondered whether the men who condemn corn as a food for laying hens ever owned a chicken. These people forget in their theorizing, that energy is worth more in a laying hen than anything else, and energy comes from the carbonaceous foods.

Did you ever stop to think why hens lay better just as winter breaks up than at any other time of the year? It is the excess of carbon in the system that enables them to grow eggs at that time. This heat also stimulates the sexual system. This idea that the hen needs a big lot of protein to form eggs is all nonsense. Analyze the droppings, and you will see where the protein goes when you feed it strongly. There is no other all-around food as good as corn. When you reduce the amount of corn fed, and substitute something more albuminous, the hens reduce the number of eggs. I have known people who fed nothing but corn to go far ahead of narrow ration fellows in egg production. The reason for this is that corn produces heat, and all heat producers arouse the sexual nature, and this is what we should aim to do. Do not be afraid of corn, but do not use it exclusively; no grain is a proper exclusive food.
