LOCAL MENTION.

—The ground-hog is now surely down and out as a weather prognosticator, and about the only thing he can lay claim to now is being an old prevaricator. He came out on February 22nd and saw his shadow, and just as a pretense to making good Old Prob. gave us a little snow-storm a day or two later, but all the winter weather we have had since could be condensed into twenty-four hours and then not make a very cold day of it. But the hog's reign came to an end on Tuesday of last week and that very night it snowed at least an inch and the next day was raw and cold. Can it be possible that after hop-skipping around during the past six weeks the ground-hog has now gone back for a snooze and will give us bad weather just when fitting and gardenmaking time is coming on apace? Let us hope not.

—Following are the newly elected officers of Oslek Tribe of Red Men, No. 318: Sachment, August Bartlemas; Senior Sagamore; William Bader; Junior Sagamore, Harry Deck; Prophet, William Road-knight; Chief of Records, Eugene C. Habbitt; Keeper of Wampum, A. M. Leine; Trustees, three years, C. L. Dunning; Representative to Great Council, to be held in Harrisburg in June, Wm. Schloss; alternate, A. M. Leine.

—Ferdinand Muckley, of Scranton, who will be remembered as the energetic though unsuccessful promoter of the proposed cocoa factory at East Honesdale, has filed a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are placed at $4,174. He owns real estate in Scranton which was seized to satisfy claims of the New York Mutual Savings and Loan Association and Paul Heinrich.

—On Saturday last, Myron E. Rude, of Whites Valley, Clinton township, aged 81 years, went out to the woods to do some chopping. While busy at work he was struck by a falling limb, and felled to the ground, where he lay in an unconscious condition, probably for hours. Finally recovering his senses, he started for his home, his track to the house being marked by blood-stains partly from his wound and partly from sickness at the stomach, indicating concussion of the brain. Dr. Miller, of Pleasant Mt., was sent for, and under his care it is hoped that the aged victim of the accident will recover, although a very extensive scalp wound was found to need surgical treatment, and possible untoward results from the shock must be taken into account.

—Marriage licenses have been granted to Forest C. Dailey, of High Lake, and Bertha L. Cole, of Equinunk, and Norman Burleigh, of Scranton, and Blanche Brooks, of South Canaan.

—"The Stroller's Note Book" of the Scranton Tribune of March 18th contained the following:

"I was pleased to meet our friend J. E. Richmond, of Honesdale, who came over to town the other day to look over the stock of the automobile dealers. I never thought that Mr. Richmond would be persuaded to turn his back upon the fine span of trotters that have carried him so many miles over the beautiful drives of Wayne and substitute the gasoline buggy. But since he rode up Mount Washington a year ago in the first auto that ever climbed the grade, Mr. Richmond has shown a preference for the "devil wagon." Mr. Richmond, who looks hale and hearty, has travelled nearly all over the country, but thinks that Honesdale is the most desirable residence town, save during the hay fever season, when Mr. and Mrs. Richmond take to the White Mountains and remain until Jack Frost arrives."

—William H. Kain, our former townsmen, but for several years a New York city watchman, on duty at the Recreation Pier, North Second street, Williamsburg, has been spending a few days in Honesdale. Last fall one of the Brooklyn papers published an account of his arrest at the instigation of a woman also employed on the pier, on a charge of having annoyed her by his unwelcome attentions. This story was reprinted with some elaboration in one of our town contemporaries, much, as Mr. Kain thinks, to the damage of his reputation in the community in which he had always been held in the esteem due an honorable and well behaved person. He admits that he was cited to appear in court to answer a charge of striking the woman with his cane, but the hearing resulted in his honorable discharge, the testimony clearly establishing the fact that he himself had been the victim of the alleged assault, and had acted wholly in self defense. No evidence whatever was adduced to warrant the romantic trend given the story, and Mr. Kain with a view to his vindication has instituted an action for damages against the city paper for what he charges was a libellous and defamatory publication, and is understood to be about to bring a similar suit against the publisher of the Honesdale paper which made use of the article. The case will be tried, it is said, in the United States Court, in Scranton.

—During a recent visit to Lakewood, N. J., the popular winter resort for city multimillionaires of the Gould, Straus, Rockefeller and kindred circles, the writer was not only impressed by the magnificence of the hotels, the broad and breezy streets, the picturesque lake, the towering pines and the gorgeous Georgian Court, but by the unaffected hospitality of the permanent business residents of the place. The glad hand is cordially extended to the newcomer, and nothing is left undone to make his visit an agreeable one. At least this was the experience of THE CITIZEN representative, who will long cherish the courtesies extended him by Frank F. Shute, the genial manager of the "Laurel-in-the-Pines" and "The Laurel," two of the finest hotels in the country, and the acquaintanceships formed with the members of the fine Laurel orchestra, every member of which, including Eugene P. Ham, of this place, is a solo artist of exceptional merit. This fine musical organization, under the leadership of Prof. Hosmer, a well-known composer and publisher as well as impresario, gives three concerts every day for the delectation of the guests of the Laurel and Laurel-in-the-Pines; printed programmes being provided for each entertainment, and the numbers interpreting the most finished work of the greatest musical authors. Some idea of the magnitude and grandeur of these hotels, which, with the "New Monmouth" at Spring Lake—ten miles distant—are solely under Mr. Shute's management, may be gleaned from the fact that the main hall of the Laurel-in-the-Pines is nearly six hundred feet in length. One of the delightful surprises awaiting a Honesdale visitor at Lakewood is the pleasure of meeting a number of his former town-folk, among whom are C. H. Eanis, a prosperous harness dealer, who learned the business here with Betz & Spragle; Mrs. George H. Hurlbut, formerly Miss Hattie Lee, sister of attorney Wm. H. Lee, of the Wayne county bar; L. O. Grenelle, of Grenelle & Schank, druggists, whose father was formerly the pastor of the Honesdale Baptist church, and Carl Blum and his amiable wife, the former an experienced watchmaker and jeweler, who was for some time in the employ of the Petersen establishment here.

—Business men who write their signatures illegibly should have their names printed across the end of their checks—not in German text or Old English, but in the plainest-faced type. Then, if their autograph is illegible, it may be determined by aid of the printed letters.

—Thursday last was contract day for the Borden Condensed Milk Co., with the dairymen of Orange Co., N. Y., and the prices fixed for the ensuing six months show an average decrease of five cents per hundred pounds from those of last year. Farmers are not at all pleased with this condition, as the price of feed is high, and the cost of farm help is constantly increasing. Milk is produced under much more expensive conditions than in the past, owing to new-fangled sanitary requirements.

—Ex-Congressman and Ex-Wayne Co. Commissioner, George E. Kipp, G. R. Hill, E. F. Kizer, O. L. Haverly and Edward Whalen, five of the wealthiest citizens of Bradford county, have formed the Bradford County Traction Company, and made application for a charter. Towanda has granted them a franchise for ninety-nine years, conditioned that work be commenced within a year from his date of the franchise.

—A marriage license has been granted to Delbert Hugaboom, of Mount Pleasant, and Bessie Meeker, of Mansfield, Penn'a.

—Miss Josephine Cutler, of West Pittston, is the guest of Mrs. Lester Knapp, of West Eleventh street.

—Mrs. Levi L. Deming, of Wilkes-Barre, formerly of Honesdale, is at Dr. Burns's hospital, Scranton, where a very difficult operation was performed, last week, to relieve her of a malignant internal growth. Her condition at this writing is very serious.

—Myron Dodge, for some time past a popular office clerk at the Allen House, will conduct a hotel at Lake Ariel this summer.

—Miss Sadie Fuert returned from the Scranton hospital on Saturday last. She was accompanied on her journey home by Mrs. Lena Davison, formerly Miss Lena Teubner, who comes to Honesdale for an annual visit with relatives here.

—J. I. Alexander, Wilkes-Barre's well-known bandmaster and composer, has announced his intention to resign the leadership of the Ninth regiment band at the expiration of his term of enlistment, in May next.

—Mr. and Mrs. Weber, of Tuscarora Cottage, Bench Lake, paid a flying visit to Honesdale on Monday, taking dinner at the Wayne.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Warfield and son, Kenneth, and Junius Warfield and son, Joseph, of Equinunk, spent Sunday of last week with William Warfield, in Peckville.

—P. F. Madigan, proprietor of the Winwood Hotel, was in town on Monday.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hall, of Equinunk, spent Sunday evening and Monday at the Hotel Wayne.

—David Hacker, of White Valley, was a CITIZEN caller on Monday.

—Major George H. Whitney, being incapacitated by ill health from giving his personal attention to the omnibus, baggage and mail business, which he has conducted so successfully for forty years past, offers it for sale. Honesdale has become so accustomed to the accommodations in this line so long furnished by the Whitney establishment, the town could hardly get along without them, and it is to be hoped that the right kind of a man may become the Major's successor in their management.

—Miss Mary Siebecker, of Scranton, niece of manager B. H. Dittrich, of the Lyric, has been spending a month with school friends in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

—W. J. Silverstone, of Scranton, was a Honesdale visitor on Friday last.

—Welles College for girls, at Aurora, N. Y., in which Miss Marguerite Dolmetsch, of this place, is a student, closed on Wednesday last for the Easter vacation, the date being somewhat earlier than usual on account of a number of cases of tonsillitis in the school. Rather than run the risk of an epidemic, the faculty decided to dismiss the students.

—In the "Personal and Pertinent" column of the Scranton Times, we find the following appreciative notice of Judge O'Neill, who studied for the bar in Honesdale:

"I am delighted to hear from lawyers of all shades of political opinion that Hon. James J. O'Neill has already made good on the bench. From the very first day he took hold as if he were an old hand on the bench. There was nothing either academical or pragmatical about him. He was at home, just dropped into the place as if he was made for it. I am not at all surprised at this. In common with hundreds of people who knew Judge O'Neill and appreciated his abilities, I knew the outcome would be highly satisfactory. But I am penning this paragraph with the pleasure one feels in having his judgment on an important matter verified by the result. And I take pleasure in congratulating Judge O'Neill upon having met every expectation of the people who elected him."

—The following friends and relatives from this place attended the funeral of Mrs. Katherine Coar, which was held in Scranton on Saturday: Patrick Murtha, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Moran, Mrs. Nicholas Dean and daughter, Irene.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Lees, of Church street, spent Sunday in Prompton.

—Misses Florence and Mabel Secor, of West street, were the guests of J. B. Keen and family, of Keene, on Sunday.

—Mrs. George E. Spencer, wife of the foreman of the Herald office, was severely scalded in the face on Monday morning last. While engaged at the kitchen range, at her residence on Main street, she inadvertently removed the cover from a tightly closed pail in which she was boiling onions, when a volume of scalding steam flashed up into her face, burning her painfully, and it was at first feared, seriously affecting her eyesight. We are happy to state that, in the opinion of her attending physician, no serious results need be anticipated.

—Mrs. E. H. Baumann is undergoing treatment at Dr. Reed-Burns's hospital, Scranton.

—Dr. T. C. Fitzsimmons, of Carbondale, was an attendant at Court on Monday, as a witness in the hearing for a license for a hotel at old Canaan Corners.
