Evolution of the Peacemaker.

Recently Berlin apprised the world in no uncertain tones that Germany is interested in the Balkan question. Evidently the kaiser has learned through his little tilt with the public that it is better by long odds to say a strong thing occasionally than to keep feeding out sensations. In all his utterances on international affairs the German emperor has been consistent with the old doctrine of the realm that a nation can have peace only when it can command respect. That was when Germany saw possible enemies in its continental neighbors.

Now when the kaiser speaks for Germany as a world power there is in his tones the same old ring of assurance that the nation is strong enough to command respect. Once the power behind the imperial crown or threat was a big army. Now it is a big army plus a big navy. Once the cry of the would be peacemaker of Europe was for a big navy; then it was for a bigger navy. Now the same lips demand the biggest navy in order that all the world shall respect Germany's will and mandate. The first martial Hohenzollern ransacked the earth for big soldiers to inspire his neighbors with fear. The Prussian who now aims to do as Frederick the Great would do if he were here wants the biggest navy in order to command the respect of the world, and the world must either take his word for it that he seeks the general peace or it can keep Germany's navy down to second or third rank.

"Optometrist" is the new term applied to that skilled class of people who make a specialty of fitting glasses to defective eyes, familiarly known as opticians. An optometry bill is now pending in the legislature at Harrisburg. Several states, including New York state, already have optometry laws. The passage of this bill will force illegitimate so-called opticians and spectacle fakirs out of business, and will be a blessing to the public at large. In order to qualify as an optometrist after the passage of the bill, the applicant will have to pass a rigid examination upon the refractive, muscular and accommodative anomalies of the eye. These examinations will be given by a state board of optometrists appointed by the state.

New Yorkers have an eighty cent gas statute riveted down, but that doesn't prevent the meters showing a dollar rate consumption when the collector calls with his no-pay-no-gas ultimatum.

The way things are a big navy seems to stand for a bigger navy, and the way things look the biggest navy will soon be the only one to have any standing at all.

Some one must have let loose among the English suffragettes Bourke Cockran's campaign epigram, "Better riot than rottenness."

Returns on the inaugural day casualty list will be coming in daily way up to the glorious Fourth.

NEEDLEWORK NOTES.

Something that should be found in every needlewoman's workbasket is a little contrivance of glass to slip on the finger to protect it in embroidery. It is almost impossible to do embroidery over the finger and not occasionally prick the finger unless one provides herself with some sort of protector.

When sewing a collar to a waist do not allow any fullness to occur across the back of the waist unless the waist is designed for it. If the neck has stretched a little and is too large for the band, let the fullness come from the front of the waist to a little in front of the shoulder seam.

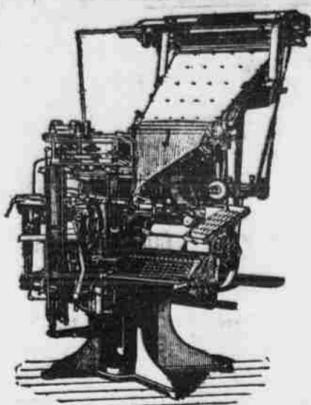

The woman who understands Mexican drawn work, the net stitch, can now make for herself one of the dainty drawn work handkerchiefs with a border six inches deep. They are fashionable at present and will be found among the luxuries displayed in the art stores, and quite expensive are the finest ones.

A girl who is handy with her needle should be ready with collar and cuff accessories in an entirely new effect that will be much worn during the spring season. The collar is a straight band turnover, and the cuffs turn back, slightly pointed on the outer edge. The material employed is a very fine cross-barred muslin, worked with a colored mercerized thread. A row of dots is set on, one dot in each square, alternating with a row left plain, the rows going up and down. Both collar and cuffs are finished with a narrow hem of lawn in the color used for the decoration.

OUR NEW TYPESETTING MACHINE

THE MERGANTHALER LINOTYPE AND ITS WONDROUS WORK.

Most Useful Invention of The Age.—Over 13,000 American Built Linotypes in Daily Use Throughout The World.

We give herewith an illustration of the New Typesetting Machine, which is about to be installed in THE CITIZEN office as a part of its up-to-date outfit.

Years of continuous experiment and the expenditure of a great amount of money were required for the invention of the greatest typesetting machine, which is called the "Mergenthaler Linotype." The word "linotype" is a coined word, which means "line of type." The Linotype is conceded to be the most remarkable machine ever invented, and is scarcely second in importance to the wonders wrought by electricity. Its invention and introduction has effected a revolution in the printing business. The Mergenthaler Linotype was the first commercially successful composing-machine, and is to-day the standard composing-machine everywhere. It marks the first and only successful departure from the long-established forms of type-composition. The last great improvement was the production of a machine in which the "linotypes" were produced instantly and ready for use on the press by the mere fingering of keys like those of a typewriter. The keys serve to assemble temporarily a line of matrices made of brass, bearing individual characters or dies, a Roman character in the upper or regular position, and the Italic or black letter in the lower or auxiliary position, against which the slugs or "linotypes" were cast in type metal.

The Linotype is a single machine, operated by one man, producing at a single operation the finished product directly in response to the operation of the keyboard. It composes matter more readily and more economically than can be done in any other manner. It does away with worn and battered type, and always gives a new, clean dress. Matter may be kept standing indefinitely, at the mere cost of Linotype metal.

The Linotype is guaranteed to be capable of setting 5,000 ems of solid nonpareil per hour, and this output is widely obtained every day in commercial offices by first-class operators. The two most recent records on a Linotype were made by Mr. Nichols of the Salt Lake (Utah) Herald, and Frederick Koelle, Jr., of the Philadelphia Inquirer. Mr. Nichols set 106,300 ems of corrected nonpareil in seven hours and fifty-two minutes, making an average of 13,287 ems per hour for eight hours. Mr. Koelle, on May 11, 1907, set 155,800 ems of agate in twelve hours, working off the book.

The inventor of the Linotype was Ottmar Mergenthaler, a German clockmaker. It has been stated many times that Ottmar Mergenthaler died in poverty, while others reaped the reward of his genius; but this is not a fact, as Ottmar Mergenthaler died a millionaire, in 1899, and his family royalties have never been less than $50,000 a year since that time.

HYMENEAL.

[From the Middletown N. Y. Mercury.]
Miss Carolyn B. Weidmann, of this city, and Walter Richard Watts, of Honesdale, Pa., were married Thursday evening at seven o'clock at the home of the bride's brother, Doctor L. G. Distler, 11 South St., this city. Rev. E. Van Dyke Wight, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. The only witnesses were Dr. and Mrs. Distler. The bride was married in a tailor-made traveling gown of light green.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served and Mr. and Mrs. Watts left on Erie train 5, at 9.32 for a wedding trip of three weeks in the west. They will be at home at Honesdale, Pa., after April 15.

The bride is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Christian Weidmann. She was born here and has been a resident of this city all her life. She is a most highly esteemed and accomplished young woman and is a pianist and a vocalist of merit. She is a member of Grace Episcopal Church of this city, and of Queen Esther Chapter, No. 163, Order of the Eastern Star. She made her home with her brother Dr. Distler. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Watts, of Honesdale, Pa. He is well known socially and in a business way in Honesdale and vicinity, being connected with his father in the hard ware business in that place.

A Safety Holder.

The person who delights in a fountain pen, but is always in fear of the ink spilling out, now finds comfort in a safety holder. This is in nickel and in wood and costs very little.

It can be attached to any fountain pen and keeps it from spilling a drop of ink.

Lemon Juice Whitens Rice.

It is said that a dash of lemon juice added to the rice while boiling will not only whiten the kernels, but will add just a suggestion of the lemon flavor. This will be found to be a pleasant change.

OBITUARY.

Harry L., the four months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moulter, died of convulsions, at their home at Seelyville, on Wednesday evening. The funeral will be held on Saturday, with services at 1:30 p. m., and interment in the Darling cemetery.

Miss Katie Quinn, formerly of Mill Rift, Pa., died in J. Hood Wright Hospital, New York, March 31st, of nephritis, aged 33 years. She was ill only two days. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Padien, two brothers, John, of Mill Rift, and Thomas, of Lackawaxen. The remains were taken to Port Jervis for interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Leonora Startup Hoar, widow of James Hoar, and sister of William and James Startup and Mrs. Pierce, former Honesdale residents, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. VanVredenburg in Weehawken, on Thursday last, Mar. 18th, 1909. Mrs. Hoar was born in Bath, England, in 1829, the daughter of James and Sophia Startup. One brother, Wm. Startup, a son and three married daughters survive her. Also several grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Interment in the Ellenville, N. Y., cemetery.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Rev. A. L. Whittaker will hold service in the Presbyterian church, at Waymart, on Sunday, at 3 P. M.

The usual services will be held at the Baptist church, on Sunday. In the evening there will be a stereopticon service, with pictured hymns and scripture truths. Mrs. Archer will sing. Everybody welcome.

Rev. R. D. Minch will begin meetings at Lackawaxen, on Monday night, March 29th, with the stereopticon to illustrate the old story.

Sterling.

MARCH 23d.—Miss Grace Gillner and two students from the State Normal School, at Bloomsburg, are spending a week's vacation at Mrs. P. W. Gillner's.

Floyd J. Cross came up from Wyoming Seminary on Friday and returned on Monday.

John A. Dreher and son, of Tobyhanna, are spending a few days at the home of the former's brother-in-law, H. H. Robacker.

An infant about three months old, of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Acker, was buried at the Hazelton burying ground to-day, Rev. Mr. Billas, of Hollisterville, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stevens have a young son, and now report says that they have scarlet fever.

Orville Cross is still at Dr. Burns's hospital in Scranton, but is doing well and is expected home soon.

Mrs. A. J. Cross attended the funeral of Mrs. Harriet Wolfe, at Gouldsboro, last week.

Mrs. Phoebe Yates is in a precarious condition, and liable to die at any time.

The G. A. R.'s held their regular monthly meeting last Saturday.

Rev. S. B. Murray, of Ariel, preached here last Sunday, and in a week or two we will have a new minister.

Mrs. Edward McMillan's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Blackman, came from Connecticut last week. Two of Mr. McMillan's sisters are also here.

To-day, at about 12:30, Rev. Edward McMillan quietly passed away, and will be interred at Newton, N. J., on Friday.

District President Rev. M. D. Fuller, is expected to preach Thursday afternoon, at two o'clock. Mr. McMillan came here three years ago, and about six months ago was obliged to give up preaching, and after spending two months in a Brooklyn hospital his health constantly grew worse, and to-day, surrounded by friends, he calmly sank to rest.

White Mills.

MARCH 25th.—Charles Mallett, of this place, spent last Saturday sawing wood in Cherry Ridge.

Anna Harder, of Cherry Ridge, spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. C. Mallett.

Joseph Tuman is making great preparations to have his ice cream parlors ready by Easter.

John Schneider hatched forty chickens out of one hundred and twenty-five eggs. This is his first hatch.

Jacob Bruteher, of Narrowsburg, and Herman Utegg, of Swamp Brook, called on John Schneider, on Sunday.

A surprise party visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stephens, on Saturday evening, it being the birthday of their second daughter, Mildred. The following young people were present:

Florence and Lulu Weber, Sophia and Katie Guthel, Martha and Esther Falk, Hazel Wood, Lucy Cosgrove, Frank Falk, Glanville and Ray Parsons, Albert Mallett, Elwin and Mortie Wood. After enjoying themselves at different kinds of games, Frank Falk and Mabel Stephens entertained them with violin and mandolin selections, which were enjoyed by all.

After partaking of something to eat and drink, they all departed for their homes, feeling much better for a good old time.

Frederick Mallett called in town on Tuesday, to see some of his old friends.

Wm. Daniels and Merton Beale went to Hamburg, N. J., on Tuesday, to work in a paper factory.

The White Mills basket ball team don't want to play in Milford again. They say that the basket was too small or the ball too big. "Good eye, boys; good eye!"

Mrs. James Dann is ill, with a bad attack of pleurisy.

W. J. Varcoe is on the sick list.

Mrs. Arthur Curtis is still unable to use her foot, owing to a bad case of blood poisoning from which she has suffered for the past ten weeks.

There were no services in the Clinton Centre church, during the daytime on Sunday, but all who could attended the Aldenville church, where sixteen were baptized, all but two being from the Centre Church, and at the above church the closing session of Evangelist Killerman's work in this section was held in the evening. Mr. Maddon, of Scranton, came up for the Saturday night and Sunday meeting, to sing for us, and he certainly gave great pleasure and happiness to all who heard him, one old lady in her seventies exclaiming, "Oh, if I could only sing like that!"

Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Cramer, from near Bethany, were guests at George Cramer's, on Monday.

Braman and Kellam.

MARCH 22d.—The Ladies' Aid Society met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Heman Cole. There was a good attendance, and $4.25 was added to the church treasury.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. George Blum, Jr., an eight pound girl.

Some of the men who went to Honesdale, last week, as witnesses for H. Weitzer, were relieved of their watches and small sums of money. It was taken from their pockets while they were asleep in the hotel.

Mrs. George Young, who has pneumonia, is somewhat better at this writing. Dr. Corson, of Rileyville, has the case.

Hamilton Braman, of Carthage, N. Y., is again with relatives and friends at this place.

Henry Hineman, of Port Jervis, was a caller here last week.

Emma Stalker went to Long Eddy, on Wednesday, to take care of Miss Olive Gould, for two weeks.

Uswick and Lakeville.

MARCH 19th.—The St. Patrick entertainment held at the P. O. S. of A. hall at Lakeville on the evening of March 17th, was a great success in every way. Much credit is due Miss Beahen, the Lakeville teacher, for her untiring efforts in drilling the children and in the arrangement of the entertainment. We wish to thank all those who participated in the entertainment and helped to make it a success; especially the ladies of Wilsonville, who brought their instruments with them and entertained us with some excellent music. Thanks are also due the young men. We were delightfully surprised to see so much home talent displayed at this place. Net proceeds, $25.

Charles Locklin and family moved back on their farm at Lakeville on Thursday of this week.

There was a gathering of young people at the home of Gladys Pennell on Thursday evening. There were four from Hawley, namely Mary DeGroat, Pansy Hale, Erastus Seely and Harold Orr. Besides those four there were nine others from this vicinity present.

Dr. H. B. Ely, of Honesdale, was called to attend Jacob Everly, of Audell, on Friday of this week.

Mrs. Minnie Mills and son, Lesley, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Carbondale.

Galen Perry, of Carbondale, visited friends in this section Sunday.

William Cole had five sheep so badly bitten by dogs in his own barnyard one day last week that four of the five had to be killed; leaving four small lambs, a few days old, to be raised on a bottle.

Mrs. Rivenburg, of Jermy, is visiting for a few days with her sister, Mrs. Charles Dennie, here.

Joseph Bayliff, of Vandling, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Buckland.

Up to the present writing Charles Dennie has made 24 gallons of maple syrup and J. E. Haley has made 22 gallons; which is about one third of last season's run up to the same date.

Orville Swingle shot a large red fox last week.

Emmet Swingle is getting ready to turn his residence inside out and build anew.

David Wonnacott called on friends at Honesdale on Sunday.

One of our neighbors sent off some time ago for a pair of imported chickens which arrived all O. K. last week. They are all black, excepting the head, which looks like a large, white Easter bonnet.

It is rumored that Arthur Robinson is about to purchase the late Mrs. Short's farm, located here.

Mrs. William Wood, who has been quite ill for several weeks, is slowly improving.

Maplewood.

MARCH 22d.—About forty friends met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Rosenberger last Tuesday evening, to welcome them back at the beginning of this conference year. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed, after which a bountiful supper was served.

We regret that so many of our friends are sick. Among them are Mrs. H. O. Silkman, F. S. Keene, Mrs. G. M. Black, Mrs. Philander Black, and little Alice Black.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Turner are talking of moving from our town. If they go we shall miss them.

A. M. Sherwood has returned to his farm after working for the Artesian Well Drilling Co., for several months.

Mrs. W. W. Kellam has returned from her stay with Mrs. Elston Bartalow, at Cortez.

The funeral of John Gromlich was largely attended by relatives and friends, Sunday morning at the M. E. church of this place.

The W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. G. M. Black for the March meeting.

Gold Spring.

MARCH 22d.—Nelson Sherman spent a few days of last week visiting friends at Niagara.

Hugh and Edward Warwick are both laid up with rheumatism.

Olin Yale is helping Warner Bass redecorate his new apartments at Rileyville. We are sorry to part with Mr. and Mrs. Bass, but what is Cold Spring's loss is Rileyville's gain.

Reed Gager, of West Chester State Normal, and Elmer Taylor, of Lafayette College are home on their vacations.

Farmers in this vicinity are anxiously waiting for warmer weather. Everyone that has a sugar bush has "tapped" it but the weather is so cold sap does not run very freely.

Mrs. Ella Douglass has returned from Port Jervis.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yale and Mrs. Mattie Gager spent Sunday at Tanner Falls with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Douglass.

Milanville.

MARCH 24th.—George Heller, one of the enterprising contractors of this place, went to Liberty on Friday last to attend the State Convention of Odd Fellows. He represents the Narrowsburg Lodge.
