Michels, William Smith, Joseph in another column gives full information as to the requirements to be observed in submitting manuscripts.

-In his report to the M. E. conference at Plymouth, Rev. Austin Griffin, Superintendent of the Oneonta district, mentioned the return to the Moravian ministry of Rev. Robert E. Clewell, who a year ago at Carbondale was received into the Wyoming conference and assigned to the church at Westford, N. Y. Mr. Clewell for a couple years previously had been a reporter for the Scranton Tribune, Honesdale Citizen, and other papers, coming to newspaper work from ministerial duties in the Moravian church. He did not go to the charge to which he was assigned, the Moravian church again calling him, and he returned to a pastorate therein. In passing the Westford charge, the defection of Mr. Clewell was again noted by Dr. Griffin, and Bishop Moore, in commenting thereon, said: 'I thank the Lord these boys are glad to return to their mother." Which was a very pretty and generous remark.
