

Correspondence

Items Gathered by
THE CITIZEN STAFF
—About the County.

BETHANY.

APRIL 12th.—Mrs. John Henderson gave a rag bee Monday evening to a few friends.

Mrs. A. B. Gammell brought Helen Starnes over from Carbondale, on Monday, and she is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Starnes.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Sutton are the proud parents of a fine boy, born Tuesday, April 6th. All doing nicely, and Mrs. A. B. Gammell is in attendance.

Grace Miller returned from Carbondale on Wednesday last, after a lengthy visit with relatives.

The windmill on top of the Faatz store building was badly damaged by the wind storm of Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Starnes and baby Claire, of Carbondale, are spending a few days here visiting relatives.

Isabelle and Harriet Lawrence, of Scranton, are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Manning.

Miss Cody returned from Honesdale on Friday last, and on Saturday left for Boyd Mills, to care for a pneumonia case.

Lillian and Violet Smith, the little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, are having a siege of the measles.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hazen, on Saturday, April 10th.

Mortimer Lavo is spending the week with his daughter, Mrs. Amos Rutledge, at Galilee.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hauser, of Honesdale, spent Easter with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hauser.

Easter was observed in both churches. Special anthems were sung by the choirs and the floral decorations were much admired. Appropriate sermons were delivered.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fitz and children, of Aldenville, passed Easter with Mrs. Fitz's mother, Mrs. Anna Hauser.

INDIAN ORCHARD.

APRIL 12th.—The wind storm of Wednesday last did much damage in this vicinity by uprooting trees and blowing over out-buildings and fences. It was the most destructive storm that we have experienced for years.

Earl Ham and Neal Marshall attended a stone frolic at Laurella on Thursday last.

Several of the Bethel ladies attended the Ladies' Aid at Mrs. William Oliver's at Genungtown, on Wednesday.

Mrs. A. M. Henshaw, who has been spending several days with friends in the Valley, returned home on the 3d inst.

Victor Smith is moving his barn, Mr. Mitchell, of Honesdale, doing the work. When completed it will be another up-to-date structure for the accommodation of his stock.

Joseph Swartz is still doing carpenter work for Levi Ostrander, of Ateo.

John Case has moved into Clarence Smith's house. His mother is staying with him.

Clarence Smith and family have moved to White Mills, where Mr. Smith holds a lucrative position in the employ of Christian Dordlinger.

Richard Ham is preparing to erect a large and modern cow stable.

Several from the Lake and this place, attended the sale at Pine Ridge, recently.

John Neal, Jr., of Beach Lake, was a business caller at E. C. Ham's on Friday last.

Matthias and Jacob Schmitt, of Swamp Brook, were recent visitors at the Altona farm. They are talking favorably of getting a R. F. D. mail route in their vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Hunkle, of White Mills, spent Sunday the 4th inst., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Austin.

Earl Ham sawed 27½ cords of stove wood for W. D. Buckingham, of Chestnut Grove farm in five hours; an average of 5½ cords per hour. Had he known that Mr. Buckingham was going to split and pile the wood, he would have sawed it much quicker. The power used was a gasoline engine.

Jacob Hiller, of East Beach Lake, owns the best pair of two-year-old colts in this vicinity.

John Wizard and Chas. Spry made a trip to Deposit recently. They returned with a fine horse to be used on the milk wagon between Beach Lake and Honesdale.

W. H. Dunn and sister, Eliza, spent Sunday with Hawley relatives.

Chas. Budd and wife, of Beach Lake, visited the latter's brother, Earl Ham, on Sunday last.

STEENE.

APRIL 12th.—Mrs. Oscar Clarke and son, William, of Deposit, N. Y., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Haley, at Steene.

The sap season now being over, the farmers are turning their attention to their fences and road making. Supervisor Haley commenced Monday morning with a gang of men, intending to rush through the most needed repairs before planting time.

Mrs. William Cole visited friends at Carbondale, Saturday and Sunday.

Josephine Perry spent Saturday night and Sunday with friends at Carbondale.

Miss Violet Spry, of Waymart, visited friends at Steene, Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Dennie had the misfortune while feeding the calves one morning last week, to sprain her right ankle. She does not know just how it happened, it having been done so quickly. We are sorry, as it is a very busy time for the farmers' wives at present, looking after the calves, pigs and poultry.

Warren Kegler has accepted a position in Carbondale.

Everyone is glad to welcome their pastor, Mr. Davis, back again. It is hoped that his labors in this section will be rewarded during the next year.

Early spring pigs are scarce in this section; bringing at the rate of four dollars apiece.

EQUINUNK.

APRIL 12th.—Mrs. H. Knapp is again confined to her home with a severe cold.

The schools here are closed and the children have the extreme pleasure of running the streets from morning till night. We think the seven months school year all too short, when a school year of 10 months could be had by abolishing the free book system, and putting the money into salaries to teachers for the extra three months.

We understand that Wm. Elmer and family will remove shortly to Masonville, N. Y., where he has secured a position with his wife's brother.

Joshua Pine has already a crop of five or six hundred little chicks. The Brookside Poultry farm, of which he is proprietor is an interesting place to visit, if one is interested in the poultry business.

It is announced that the Junior League will meet hereafter on Friday at 2 P. M., instead of Saturday at 3 P. M.

Senator Nelson, our venerable neighbor, who is getting along in the eighties is in the best of health, considering his years. His physical condition this winter has been good, while those of stouter frame have suffered considerably. He has our best wishes for continued good health.

Some rafting has been done hereabouts this spring. The Williams Bros. have taken down two rafts. Deacon Mitchell will not raft his logs until better prices are to be had, so we understand.

Some of Equinunk's young men went to Lordville one day last week and created quite a sensation by their disgraceful conduct, superinduced by some of Lordville's select brands of—well you know. It is truly an unfortunate condition, when the young men of a community almost without exception are addicted to that sort of thing.

The results of grading our schools here for the past term have been very satisfactory. Dr. Frisbie and the other directors associated with him in bringing it to pass, deserve great credit. This is something, however, that should have been attended to many years ago.

MAPLEWOOD.

APRIL 12th.—Egbert Keene has returned from his six years stay in Los Angeles, Cal., to join his wife and grandson, who came back last fall. We are glad that they expect to make their future home at this place.

Easter-tide was very appropriately celebrated in the churches by song and recitation; and though the weather was very cold, a few Easter bonnets were seen.

Rev. Rosenberger conducted a very helpful series of meetings during Passion week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Oegog are the happy parents of a new baby boy.

Samuel Colwell and family are spending a few weeks with relatives in Pittston.

STERLING.

April 7.—The grangers meet tonight and are now enjoying themselves at another good supper.

Orville Cross returned from Dr. Burns's Scranton Hospital to-day.

On the 5th a young son came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Redeford Miller. Congratulations!

A little boy of B. F. Lee has been very ill, but we now think he is improving.

Mrs. Walter Musgrave improves but very slowly. Thomas Musgrave is also on the sick list.

David and Royal Cross are home from Cornell on a vacation.

Floyd, Stella and Myrtle Cross are up from Wyoming Seminary on a week's vacation.

On the 3rd J. W. Rohrbacker, D. D., installed officers in No. 959, I. O. O. F. Lodge.

This year the supervisors have levied a cash road tax of 1½ mills and appointed S. N. Cross treasurer. The working road tax is five mills, and the sooner it is worked the better.

Mrs. Ed. McMillen and her father and mother left for Plymouth, Conn., to-day. Rev. W. E. Webster is also moving into the parsonage, and is expected to preach Sunday.

In our items that appeared in the Citizen of the 2nd we said: "During the last year Rev. McMillen was able to preach but six months, but the salary was paid for about two-thirds of the year." Now we are informed that this statement is very misleading for at other places on the charge a full year's salary has been paid for six months' services. We were speaking only of Sterling and supposed it would be so understood. However, even Sterling has now paid about five-sixths of the amount proportioned for the year.

USWICK AND LAKEVILLE.

April 12.—Miss Miller finished her term of school at Bone Ridge on Thursday of last week, and has returned to her home.

Miss Beahan left Lakeville on Wednesday afternoon for her Easter vacation. She returned Sunday evening and expects to reopen her school to-day.

Chas. W. Pennell, William Seeger, Aaron Gobb and Chas. Utt have been hauling lime from Hoadley's to their farms at Uswick and Lakeville the past week. They emptied the car on Friday afternoon.

Chas. Pennell met with an accident on Thursday while hauling. A lumber wagon ran over his toes, crushing them.

A telephone message was received last week at Lakeville announcing that Rev. W. E. Blandy was not coming to Lakeville as our pastor. Our charge is not yet supplied with a minister.

J. W. Rohrbacker, D. D. G. M., of Sterling, visited the Lakeville Lodge, No. 1161, I. O. O. F., on Tuesday evening, April 6th, for the purpose of installing their officers.

Mrs. Eliza Carr is very ill of stomach trouble at the home of her son, R. W. Murphy, of Hawley. Mr. Murphy came to Lakeville on Tuesday last week and his mother accompanied him home.

A party from Scranton moved in to the Richards house, formerly known as the Marshall Purdy place, on Saturday, and on Sunday afternoon they moved back to Scranton.

There was great excitement at the home of William Seeger, at Lakeville, on Sunday morning. Mr. Seeger kindled the fire in the kitchen stove and as it was a cold morning he returned to bed until the fire had warmed the room a bit. In a short time their little pup was heard making a racket which was kept up so persistently that Mr. Seeger went out to see what the dog was doing. He was both surprised and alarmed to find the pup with a stick, one end of which was blazing. He then commenced searching for the cause and found that the brand had dropped from the roof of the kitchen which was burning near the chimney. The fire was soon extinguished, but it made quite a hole in the roof. The little pup, by his performance, probably saved their house from destruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Guet, daughter and little son, of Tafton, Pa., called on Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Olmstead at Uswick on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Guet has made application for the appointment of fourth-class Postmaster at Tafton, Pa., Mrs. Down having resigned.

Geo. A. Goble is now confined to his home with the grippe.

Charles Daniels is recovering from the grippe.

WHEAT GOING HIGHER.

Chicago Speculator Looks For a Still Further Advance.

Chicago, April 13.—James E. Patten at the board of trade said that in the present big bull campaign in wheat he "is but a drop in the bucket." He declared that wheat will go higher.

While he was making his statement May wheat went from $1.25½, closing price on Saturday, to $1.26½. July ran up from $1.15 to $1.16½, September jumped from $1.07½ to $1.09 and December from $1.06½ to $1.08½.

"I look for an advance in the deferred months of December and September," added Mr. Patten. "I have not bought a pound of either, but still they go up. It only shows that the people believe in wheat. We will have no low prices in wheat this year."

HASKELL CASE DROPPED.

Proceedings Against Oklahoma Governor and Others Abandoned.

Muskogee, Okla., April 13.—It was announced at the United States district attorney's office that Sylvester Rush, special attorney, and District Attorney Grigg at Tulsa had decided to abandon the prosecution of Governor Charles H. Haskell and the six other Oklahomans recently involved in the Muskogee town lot cases.

This course, it was stated, had been dictated from Washington. Following the quashing of the indictments against Haskell et al. at Tulsa Mr. Rush referred the matter of further action to the attorney general.

Train Blown From Track.

Higginville, Mo., April 13.—Wind blew a Chicago and Alton passenger train from the track near Mayview. The coaches rolled down an embankment. The passengers were shaken up,

NEW SHORT STORIES

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

Speaker Shifted His Quaid.

Dr. Hildreth in his "Memoirs of the Early Settlers of Ohio" devotes a chapter to Abraham Whipple of Rhode Island. He was born in 1733 and was one of the first to take a hand in the Revolutionary war. In 1786 he was elected a representative to the legislature from the town of Cranston.

The advocates of the paper money system were then in power and had chosen Othnel Gorton, a clumsy old man, for speaker.

Gorton was in the habit of keeping a large quid of tobacco in one side of his mouth, which pressed out one of his cheeks. Most of the debates were on the opposite side of the hall from

IN HONOR OF JEFFERSON

Democratic Leaders' Anniversary Banquet at New York.

New York, April 12.—Most of the Democratic leaders of New York city and state, with distinguished guests of the same political faith from other sections of the country, will assemble tonight to do honor to the memory of Thomas Jefferson. Today is the one hundred and sixty-sixth anniversary of the birth of the author of the Declaration of Independence. The anniversary is celebrated each year by the Democratic club of this city with a banquet at which addresses expounding Democratic doctrine are delivered.

Tonight's speakers in the Hotel Savoy will be Governor Harmon, who will talk on "The Rights of States"; Governor Marshall of Indiana, whose topic will be "Remove Not the Ancient Landmarks," and State Senator Thomas F. Grady on "Thomas Jefferson." It was announced some time ago that Champ Clark, leader of the Democrats in the house of representatives, would speak on "The Issues of the Day," but Mr. Clark later declared that he would be unable to attend the banquet.

Richard Croker, former leader of Tammany Hall, who is to sail soon for Ireland, will act as chairman of the reception committee. More than 450 diners will sit down at the banquet.

TAFT'S SUMMER HOME CHOSEN.

He Will Occupy a House at Beverly Cove, on Salem Bay.

Boston, April 13.—During the summer President Taft will occupy a house on Woodbury Point, Beverly, a popular yachting resort.

The Evans house is situated on Beverly cove and is one of the most attractive places on Salem bay. It is on a point jutting out toward Salem Willows and is within a short distance of the business part of the city of Beverly. It is surrounded on three sides by water and is approached only by a long avenue, so that seclusion is practically assured. Several prominent Bostonians have summer estates in the neighborhood.

Salem harbor will afford a good anchorage for government vessels bringing visitors to the Taft summer home, while the golf links of the Essex County club at Manchester and those of the Myopia Hunt club at Hamilton are within easy motoring distance.

The work of placing the Evans cottage in readiness for the new tenants began today, and some of the members of the Taft family will be in Beverly early in June.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Closing Stock Quotations.

Money on call was 2 per cent; time money and mercantile paper unchanged in rates. Closing prices of stocks were:

Amal. Copper	78½	Norfolk & West.
--------------	-----	-----------------	--