LOCAL NEWS.

—“The Royal Rogues,” an amateur performance recently given with much success in Carbondale, will be given at The Lyric, Honesdale, some night next week. The entire cast and chorus with several new features will appear.

—The Pennsylvania State Educational Association will meet in Bethlehem June 29th and 30th, and July 1st. Charles Foss, of Reading, is president of the association.

—Sunday afternoon Frank Sherwood invited Fred Glehrer to take a “joy ride” in his new Ford machine. Just after passing the up-town bridge the steering gear got out of order and the auto ran into a tree. Fred jumped; but Frank held on to the steering wheel. At the time of the mishap the machine was not going at a very high rate of speed, so the contact with the tree did very little damage.

—Dr. T. C. Fitzsimmons, of Carbondale, executive officer of the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Fairview, called on Governor Stuart, in Harrisburg, on Friday, in the interest of his approval of the appropriation granted that institution by the late Legislature.

—The special scenery for Barbara Frietchie, which play is to be at the Lyric on Thursday evening of this week, under the auspices of the Amity Social Club, arrived on Saturday, and was at once placed in the theatre, where rehearsals are being held, daily. The first act of the play shows a street in Frederick with the homes of the Frietchies, Col. Negly and the Royces, in 1863, during the war. The living room of Mrs. Hunter, the Minister's wife is shown for the second act. One of the prettiest stage settings yet seen on the stage of the Lyric will be used for the third act.—the hall in the Frietchie home, with an old yet beautiful staircase, leading to a balcony, which runs both right and left from the top of the stairs. The first scene in the fourth and last act of the play is the bed room of Barbara Frietchie. The street in Frederick is the second scene; a procession is taking place, which is led by Stonewall Jackson, followed by his staff. Soldiers, drum and fire corps, etc., making an exceptionally exciting climax to one of the prettiest plays ever written.

—The Erie's new time-table will probably take effect Sunday, May 2d. It is to be hoped that the new time tables may be so arranged as to afford passengers passing through Honesdale the advantage of close connection between the Erie and Delaware and Hudson roads. The present delays in traveling either way are exceedingly annoying.

—Henry Collum, of Hawley, was arrested Sunday for illegal fishing. He appeared before Justice of the Peace Ammerman, of Hawley, and was fined $25 and costs. Upon non-payment of the fine he was committed to jail for 33 days.

—Over 700 tickets have already been sold in Dunmore for the Dunmore-Carbondale-Honesdale literary contest to be held at the Lyceum, Scranton, April 30th. Special trains will be run from Honesdale and Carbondale, and there will be a large number of interested people in attendance from both places.

—The Governor has signed the bill which submits to the voters of the State at the November election the proposed constitutional amendments abolishing spring elections, making the terms of office of State Treasurer, Auditor General and other State officers uniform, and providing for changes among county offices.

—A young man, giving the name of Elmer Hummel, who, the police allege, has been posing as an Odd Fellow in distress, and by relating a series of hard-luck stories has been able to collect considerable sums of money from lodges in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, is under arrest in Merchantville, N. J., on the specific charge of having swindled Amity lodge of that town. His trial is being delayed in order to give Odd Fellows throughout the State, who may have been imposed upon, an opportunity to communicate with Chief of Police Linderman, of Merchantville, and with Grand Secretary of New Jersey Harry S. Price, of Trenton, who has taken a hand in the prosecution.

—The Binghamton Press of Tuesday of last week printed a group picture of four generations of the family of our esteemed friend, John H. Smith, of Sherman, this county, who has just celebrated his 88th birthday. The Press says: “For 80 years John H. Smith has lived in the immediate vicinity where he now resides, and is still very active for one of his years. He is poor-master of the town in which he lives, a position he has held for many years. He is also justly proud of the family record, coming from a long line of American patriots. His grandfather was a soldier of the Revolution. His father served his country in the war of 1812 and he, himself, served in the Civil War. Of the family reunion when the picture was taken the Press says that it was one long to be remembered. Many of the neighbors and friends were present, and after partaking of a bountiful feast prepared for the occasion remarks were made by the Rev. Mr. Moon and others, followed by music and singing, in which nearly all took part. Many were the congratulations and sincere wishes for many happy returns of the day.” The picture represents John H. Smith; his two sons, S. T. Smith, of Sherman, and Charles E. Smith, of Binghamton; their children and one great-grandson, Master Walter McClutchy, of New York.

—Prof. L. R. Barnum, principal of the Honesdale Graded School from 1872 to 1878, when he was succeeded by Prof. John M. Dolph, now Port Jervis, and who regarded the institution in 1873 practically on its present lines, is now engaged in the insurance business in Binghamton, with office in the Ackerman Building. We are pleased to note in the Binghamton Press of April 20th, that his daughter, Miss Helen Barnum, is the valedictorian of the class of 1909 of the High School of that city, having attained the first honor by a standing of 94.97 per cent.; the salutatorian coming next with 94.42 per cent. In the announcement of the Normal Entrance Course, the names of Mary Frances Barnum and Helen Cornelia Barnum appear. The commencement occurs in June.

—It is with great pleasure that Manager Benj. H. Dittrich announces a coming engagement at the Lyric of Gardner-Vincent Stock Company. This well known company will open their engagement here on Monday, May 3, with New York's latest success “A Woman's Struggle.” The same play will be presented for three days, May 3, 4, and 5. Following this the company will offer Olga Nethersole's greatest success “Sapho,” for three days (with a matinee on Saturday) May 6, 7, and 8. Gardner-Vincent played two engagements at the Lyric Theatre last season to some of the largest audiences ever assembled in that house. Their first engagement was for a whole week and the return engagement was for four days. All the season, people have been inquiring as to when the Gardner-Vincent Co. would again appear in Honesdale, so now that they are coming, the management of the Lyric looks for record-breaking attendance at their performance.

—The successful contestants at the recent examination for rural free delivery carriers, are D. L. Lake and Willis Deming, of Pleasant Mount. The examinations were conducted in Honesdale about three weeks ago, and there were six applicants for the positions.

—Davis B. Fox, who for the past eighteen years has lived at Preston Park, this county, has sold his farm, and will return to Schenectus, N. Y., his native place, where he will spend the remainder of his days.

—On Thursday evening the Pinocchio Club of Seelyville came to Honesdale and defeated the Knights of Columbus pinocchio players. This was the second contest between the two clubs. Several weeks ago the Knights were victorious but Seelyville won this time by two hundred and sixty points. Another series of games will be arranged between the two clubs.

—The civic committee of the State Federation of Women's clubs, of which Miss Caroline Petersen, of this place, is a member, suggests Saturday, May 1, as “Municipal House Cleaning Day.” The Honesdale Improvement association, through the courtesy of the press, desires to impress upon those less interested in the town's welfare the prosperity and advantages of contributing a half-day on the above mentioned date, for the purpose of cleaning up their yards, and clearing up the stray bits of paper that are eyesores to the residents.

Honesdale, which is classed as the famous model town for civic pride, ought not to be urged in this matter, but as the day has been set apart by the State Federation, the local association requests that the call may be complied with. The local association is desirous of having all who can to help personally in picking up papers in streets, alleys and parks near their homes. It wants the help of the school children, who are never-tiring workers; it asks that the physicians of the town co-operate to the extent of impressing the public with the practical advantages of health in the observance of the day; it wants the co-operation of the press in advertising the date of the Municipal House Cleaning Day, Saturday, May 1st, as a day not to be forgotten.

—The literary contest between the high schools of Honesdale, Carbondale, and Dunmore will take place at the Lyceum Theatre, Scranton, on Friday evening. The following are the contestants from Honesdale: Declaration, Joseph Jacobs; recitation, Beatrice Rehbein; essay, Abigail Baird. It is expected that a large number of people from Honesdale will attend the contest.

—Rev. H. P. Blunt, of Crozer Theological Seminary, has declined the call to the pastorate of the Honesdale Baptist church. He has accepted a call to Minot, North Dakota.

—Senator Miles C. Rowland of the Wayne-Monroe-Carbon-Pike district of Pennsylvania has been honored by an appointment on a committee to investigate the poor houses in Philadelphia county with a view to placing them all under one head. There are five senators on the committee and all are Republicans except Mr. Rowland. The committee expect to begin their work on Monday next.

—The following from out-of-town attended the funeral of Mrs. Bridget Moran, on Friday: Mrs. Phoebe Cummings, Mrs. Mary Ennis, Michael Coar, Mrs. John Heffron, Peter Ennis, James Moran, Andrew Lynott, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Donnelly, Mame, Elizabeth, Helen, Thomas and Charles Donnelly, of Scranton; Mrs. Maurice Kane, Mr. and Mrs. James Ganley, of Port Jervis; Mrs. Anna Clune, Mrs. Andrew Moran, Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, of New York City, and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Moran, of Rock Lake.

—After a winter's diet of meat and cereal food, succulent vegetable matter is a necessity, and “greens,” coming after the winter vegetables are gone, and before the new summer crop has appeared, make healthful change. Any wild or cultivated plant whose leaves are edible at all, is good for greens. Many of the best greens are wild plants. Dandelions, wild mustard, lettuce, sorrel, lamb's quarter, “narrow” dock, plantain, milk-weed, cress (pepper grass) and purslane are all good. Spinach is the commonest of all domestic greens. Many plants have curative value, and many old-fashioned people often credit their health to an annual course of dandelion greens in the spring.

—The hundreds who were anxious to see the departure of the Russell-Dow special wedding train on Thursday night last, and assembled at the depot for that purpose, were nicely fooled. There seemed to be considerable delay in the arrival of the wedding party at the station, and the special engine kept up a continuous racket with its exhaust coughing and sneezing, and by making occasional runs up the track and back with the empty passenger coach. The crowd was patient and good natured, however, and were content to wait as long as necessary for the opportunity to shower their rice, confetti and old slips of the bride party and immediate friends quietly proceeded to the D. & H. crossing at Chapel street, and when the cars made a little longer trip than before, quickly got aboard, and were off for Carbondale, exploding a lot of track torpedoes as a parting salute, leaving their disappointed well-wishers to disperse at their leisure.

—Hon. W. C. Norton has sold the “Ridge” farm in Clinton township which he occupied for so many years and his father before him, which became well-known throughout the country as the breeding farm of choice cattle and swine. The place comprises 281 acres, and the purchaser, W. E. Rude, was given immediate possession.

—Millard F. Dorin, a valued Citizen employee for several months, having taken a full course of instruction in the real estate business, has decided to make practical use of his knowledge in that line, and will open an office in Honesdale, for the purchase and sale of land and buildings, farms and town-lots, and the transaction of all business pertaining to such an agency. Mr. Dorin is a competent and courteous gentleman, and we bespeak for him a liberal share of the business he solicits.
