LOCAL NEWS.

—Saturday, May 15th, is the last date for candidates for country offices and delegates to State convention to file petitions with Board of County Commissioners.

—Judge Purdy is presiding at the court in Stroudsburg this week.

—The boys and girls who wrote essays for The Citizen, and wish to send copies to their friends, can obtain copies, free of charge, by calling at the Citizen office.

—The sun shone for a little while on Sunday. We were all glad of this, but we have a right to hope that the weatherman will be kind to us now for a few days, and give us some nice, warm days. Are we not deserving of it?

—The plays at the Lyric theatre this week are attended by large crowds. Those who like to laugh and who like to enjoy a pleasant evening should attend.

—Health Officer N. B. Spencer has been authorized by the State Board of Health to inspect the dairies in townships of Cherry Ridge, Berlin and Texas.

—Edward Charlesworth has been given charge of the mechanical department of the Honesdale Consolidated Light & Heat company's plant and the outside work will be in charge of Edward Ambuster.

—Not very many weeks remain before the Fourth of July will be here. Will the enterprising citizens of Honesdale let this glorious day pass by without properly observing it? There is none of us, whether old or young, who does not delight in seeing a great demonstration on the ever-glorious Fourth, and it is indeed the proper spirit to have. A hustling committee should be appointed to make the necessary arrangements for a big celebration, and if such a committee is appointed at once there is no good reason why it cannot be carried through to a successful end. Other places intend to celebrate the "day of all days" this year, and it is sincerely hoped that the people of this place will make some move in the proper direction. If we do not celebrate the Fourth here there will be hundreds of our people who will spend the day in other cities, who would otherwise stay at home and help observe Independence Day here. Our forefathers did much for us; let us, the people of Honesdale, do this much in remembering them.

—Let all our correspondents remember, when writing items for The Citizen, that they should write on one side of their paper only. In many offices when communications are received written on both sides of the paper, they are immediately put into the waste paper basket. We do not wish to do this here. Names should also be written plainly.

—On Saturday evening, May 8th, August P. Rehbein, D. D., has been engaged by the United Commercial Travellers of Poughkeepsie to appear at an entertainment given by the members of that association. This will be Mr. Rehbein's second appearance in Poughkeepsie.

—It is a question with those who have closely investigated the Knapp failure, whether the Bank was the cause of the Outing Company's failure or the Outing Company caused the Bank to fail. Both concerns, if managed separately and judiciously, would have been eminently successful. All agree that there was "no woman in the case," which is now a common cause of business failure.

—The annual meeting of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank was held yesterday at the bank. The present board was unanimously elected. The annual report showed a good, healthy increase of business, having gained over $36,000 in total assets since their last statement, and the outlook very promising. The directors after a thorough and careful examination in to all details of the institution, expressed very freely their pleasure and approbation for the economical and very conservative manner in which the active managers have performed their duties.

—The pupils of St. Mary Magdalene's School have, during the last week, been taking their examinations previous to their promotion. They are anticipating a good average which will be announced to them by their pastor, the Rev. Father Dassel.

—Thick, wet, blowy, and raw, a rush of weather of the all-star variety and all ways bad, struck Honesdale early last Thursday morning. The outrage on the month of May did not come without warning. For the last week spring house cleaning up above, has been causing all sorts of blowing spells about the city. The storm was a record breaker for this time of the year. Shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning the heavy wind and fall of snow set in. It was impossible to time the wind, while the beautiful was dusted down from the dados and cornices of the clouds, a leftover of last February. Up to noon the snowfall had beaten all the heaviest records by six-tenths of an inch, according to the weatherman. As the day became older, the weather cocktail became more varied.

A mixture of rain and hail that flew all ways and was productive of many comments, was alternated with a weird display of heavenly fireworks. Inquiries from about this place and suburban towns were to the effect that the bombardment of snow and hail had been non-effective in delaying traffic and passenger trains. Among those who took all around exceptions to the cutups of the weather magnates were the suburban gardeners. The fine beds of early onions, lettuce and other spring vegetables that had been growing so nicely, were soon partly covered with the snowy mantle, resembling evergreens peeping forth from a winter blanket. The wise ones are authority for the statement that the snow will do little injury to the early vegetables, as they are all of hardy nature. No accidents, due to the weather, were reported, though many inexperienced in the art of crossing the many Jordans, or rushing rivers along the street corners, got their feet good and wet.

—The members of the Wayne County Agricultural Society held their May business meeting at the Allen House on Monday afternoon. The following business was transacted: It was decided that the amount of purse money to be divided between the six races will be $1,200. A committee composed of T. B. Clark, Levi Patterson and Emerson Gammell was appointed to fix the classes for the races. W. E. Perham, J. V. Starnes and Emerson Gammell were appointed to act with the committee of the Wayne County Poultry and Pigeon Association to arrange a special prize list for the fall show. October 5th will be children's day. Teachers will be requested to send in the number of children in their schools to the secretary. Darling's Animal Circus consisting of forty animals, has been engaged to give free exhibitions. The dates for the business meetings have been changed to the second Tuesday in January and May.

—A very impressive ceremony took place in St. Mary Magdalene's church on Sunday evening, it being the opening of the May devotion. The procession was formed by the children and the young ladies, members of the Sodality, whose patron saint was the object of veneration. The young ladies were all robed in white and carried lighted candles. They sang the invocation of the Litany of the Blessed Virgin and also the "O, Salutaris" and "Tantum Ergo" very nicely. Four of the number, Misses Mary Dish, Anna Ort, Amelia Hoffman, and Antonette Hoffman being the bearers of the statue of their patron saint.

—Henry Noght, who lives a short distance from Shohola, came to town on Saturday and visited a number of saloons at this place. Later in the day he caused considerable disturbance among the business places on Main street. Officer John Canivan took him in charge, and placed him in the borough lockup and on Monday was released. He left for his home in the afternoon.

—On Monday, workmen removed the fence and opened the new concrete walk in front of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad station to the public.

—Attention of our readers is called to the statements of the four Honesdale Banks which appear on the eighth page of our present issue. The healthy condition of these institutions speak volumes of praise for their respective managements.

—Scranton's Board of Trade's first industrial exposition was opened on Saturday evening, May 1st, with a blaze of electric lights and a gab fest which was enjoyed immensely by the legions of loyal Scrantonians who were in attendance. Like all the expositions everything was not just ready—but a degree of preparedness was visible that reflected great credit on the management. The decoration together with the tasty manner of showing the many exhibits blended together so nicely, that the big hall presented a most beautiful scene and the encomium of those present if heard by the management must have been very gratifying. Every concern of any account in Scranton has an exhibit. Many have gone to considerable expense to show their goods and products and it all goes to prove that Scranton is fast going to the front as a manufacturing center. A visit to the exposition will be one of pleasure and profit to those who avail themselves of the opportunity.

—The Gardner-Vincent Stock company pleased a large audience at the Lyric theatre Monday evening when the company presented "A Woman's Struggle." The work of Miss Vincent deserves the highest praise. She is supported by one of the strongest casts the company has ever had. Leo Osborne, of this place, who joined the company this week, appeared in Monday's night's cast and his work was highly appreciated by those present. The company will present "David Garrick" on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings.

—The next holiday will be Memorial Day. Let the flags be unfurled and honor the brave soldiers on that day.

—We are very sorry that a number of communications failed to reach this office in time for publication in this issue. They will appear in our next issue.
