

VILLAGE, HAMLET, FARM.
A Week's Doings in Rural Wayne.
 Interesting Items Picked Up by Our Staff of Wide-Awake Correspondents

HAMLINTON.
 May 20th.—On Monday evening occurred the death of James Edwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Edwards, of this village. The deceased was 21 years of age, and is survived by his mother and father, one sister, Flora, a trained nurse at State Hospital at Scranton, and two brothers, Leon, station agent at Wimmers, and Day at home. Funeral services were held at the house on Thursday. Rev. Mr. Boyce officiated. Interment in the Salem cemetery. About one year ago Mr. Edwards was stricken with pneumonia, which resulted in tuberculosis, and left him a patient sufferer until death relieved him.
 G. W. Patterson and family, of Carbondale, took dinner at the Salem Hotel on Sunday.
 Harry Simons and wife, of Edwardsville, called on the former's brother Charles, on Sunday.

LAKEVILLE.
 May 18th.—Aaron Goble made a business trip to Scranton on Monday.
 Arthur Ammerman is visiting his sister, Mrs. Peter Daniels, of this place.
 S. Miller is roofing his house, preparing for boarders. George A. Goble and L. James are doing the work.
 Mrs. L. Cohen and two children are in New York City. Mrs. Cohen is looking after boarders for the season.
 The Lakeville Regulars and Primaries played a very successful and interesting game of baseball on Sunday. The score being 23 to 0. A Goble has a sick horse.
 Mrs. W. D. Sheeley is improving nicely. Dr. Voigt, of Hawley, is now in attendance.
 Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Locklin spent Sunday afternoon at the home of J. McFarland, at Ariel.
 Lucy Sheeley had the misfortune to scald both hands on Sunday, and is in a critical condition.
 Verna Lovelass left on Monday to work for John Ames, of Hawley.
 Mrs. A. Goble and Miss Minnie Locklin called on Mrs. S. R. Crane and family, of Uswick, on Sunday last.
 Mrs. George A. Goble and Mrs. C. Rauschmeyer returned to their homes here on Saturday, after spending a week with relatives at Honesdale.
 A. Alpha gave a dance on Saturday evening, for Miss Elizabeth. All report a fine time.
 Starbert Tresslar, of Ariel, was a welcome guest at D. A. Locklin's on Sunday.
 Mrs. Alfred Locklin entertained her sister, of Hub, recently. The former lately spent a short time at her home at Hub.

WHITE MILLS.
 MAY 19th.—From the 20th to the 25th, of May is the right time to plant lima beans. A great number of people in Wayne county do not raise this variety of bean, on account of not knowing their proper culture. A lima bean will thrive in any well-drained soil; but great care should be used in the way that they are planted. First spade over the place that is intended for this purpose, second, set the poles three feet apart in the rows, by three feet six inches between rows; third, take away about eight or nine inches of the soil around the pole, then put in a shovel full of well rotted manure, scattering it evenly around the bottom of the hole; then fill in the hole and raise it a little above the surface. This, of course, must be governed by your own judgment as to the nature of the soil. Fourth, which is the most particular part in raising lima beans, put in the seed with the eye down, and let the top of the bean be about one half inch under the soil. Do not press the soil on the lima bean; the reason for planting eye down is that a lima bean is flat and wide, and the stem very brittle and if the bean is not set that way it will break off in turning. All beans that are planted if the eye is not down must turn before coming out of the soil; and all flat or large beans should be planted this way. Wax, or butter beans, will come up if planted either eye down or up.
 Wm. H. Ham has purchased Dr. E. B. Gavitt's fast horse, harness and carriage, and is stabling the horse in Harry Williams's barn. Consideration private.
 Clotilda Billard and Mabel Stephens are planning to take an extended trip in the very near future.
 The White Mills base ball team is going to hold a dance on Saturday evening, May 22, at Florence Theatre. Let everybody come and give the boys a good time. All they want is a little stimulating to start them off. Joe Dorflinger will play first, at ticket office, and Wenders will be on second, catching them. John Dorflinger, the manager, will have the other boys in their respective positions, selling soft drinks, hot dogs, and cartons of ice cream, which will be at hand all over the field, and Weber will also be there with fresh roasted peanuts, five a bag.

 The closing exercises of the White Mills school will be held at Florence Theatre, Tuesday evening, June 1st.
 The White Mills school board met last week. We have not had any rain since they met last spring and we did not have any rain all summer. It is usually a dry time when, and after, they meet.
 Miss Gill has gone to Harrisburg to attend the State convention of the order of Rebekah.
 The Republican Club expects to hold an open-air picnic on the Fourth of July, if the weather permits.
 John Hensley, Sr., was left to take care of four brooders of chickens last Sunday and when roosting time came he could not get them to go in the brooders; so he set a bag with the mouth open at the corner of each brooder, and when they ran around the corner they went into the bag. Then he would take the bag and dump the chickens into the brooder. A little head-work boys, is all that you want to make you successful poultry raisers.
 The first victims of automobile accidents in town were Wm. Weber and Wm. Neimeyer and two dogs.

USWICK AND LAKEVILLE.
 May 17.—William Parker, of Honesdale, arrived at the home of his friend, F. R. Olmstead, of Uswick to-day and is visiting there over night.
 A large touring car passed through this vicinity on Saturday going toward Hawley. It returned on Sunday loaded with people.
 Thomas McKeighney, who has been living at A. Goble's, at Lakeville, went to Hawley, on Friday. We learn that he is seeking employment and he may not return for the summer.
 Harold Crane went to Scranton on Friday. He is visiting relatives there and at Wilkes-Barre for a few days.
 Ray Olmstead received his common school diploma on Friday evening of last week.
 Arthur Crane has been doing some carpenter work for John Ruescher the past week.
 There was a party at Mr. Alpha's on Saturday evening.
 Mrs. David Engle and Mrs. Frank Hauey visited Honesdale on business Thursday.
 Mr. and Mrs. O. Locklin visited relatives at Ariel on Sunday.
 Mr. Herwig, of Audell, was a pleasant caller at Olmstead's on Thursday. Robert Loveless, of Lakeville, also called.
 Miss Minnie Locklin and Mrs. A. Goble visited at S. R. Crane's on Sunday afternoon.
 Mrs. William Sheeley, who is critically ill, is thought to be improving a little to-day.
 Oscar Dunning and Mrs. Elmer Dunning, of Hawley, were callers at S. R. Crane's and also called at the home of Mrs. Charles Crane on Sunday.
 Gottlieb Epple and Henry Sacks were pleasant callers at Olmstead's, also at the home of Arthur Crane on Sunday last.
 Mrs. L. Cohen, of Long Pond, went to New York on Sunday, May 9th, to secure cooks for her boarding house this summer. She expects to return home this week.
 Anthony Kostoch, of Uswick, is now working in Wall & Murphy's glass factory.

CLINTON.
 May 18.—At the recent election of officers for the Clinton Cemetery Association the following officers were chosen: E. B. Haddon, president; Myron Norton, secretary; James Dann, treasurer; H. E. Snediker, John Varcoe.
 Mrs. Emeline Parkam is a guest of her grand-daughter, Mrs. Earl Stanton, of Dundaff.
 Ethel Nede has planned to go to Orson this week to spend several weeks with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Uter.
 Misses Elizabeth and Bessie Varcoe have returned from Lakewood and Lakehurst, N. J., where they had employment in the winter resorts.
 Mrs. Lydia Norton was a recent guest of Canaan friends.
 A few nights ago dogs attacked Grant White's flock of sheep and killed sixteen.
 A few early potatoes have been planted and a small number of gardens made. Few farmers have commenced ploughing, the soil in this section still being in too moist a condition to handle at this date. On most farms all sorts of fruit trees are full of buds and blossoms.

Watersprouts One-Fourth Mile High.
 San Diego, Cal.—Following a severe hail and rain storm here two gigantic watersprouts were sighted off Point Loma, traveling northward at a rapid rate. Wireless operators state that the spouts were three miles off shore and one-fourth of a mile high.

THE TAXI PARLEYVOO.
 What Parisian Cabbies Say to Each Other in a Jam.
 There is no more entertaining way to spend an idle hour in Paris than to get into a taxicab and instruct the driver to go along some street where you will be reasonably sure to get into a jam or to bump against another cab. The charm of the experience is of course enhanced by your ignorance of what the cabbies say.
 Should your driver merely graze the wheels of another cab he will turn on his seat and yell mellifluously at the other driver, who in turn will shout back an assortment of vowels. But the best is a quarrel between two cabbies obstructing each other's way. The conversation, translated as nearly literally as is safe, goes in this wise:
 "Sacred name! Why do you?"
 "Holy nine! I do not!"
 "Stomach on the ground! You have the face of an ox!"
 "Blue stomach! Are you in chains?"
 "A bas! Name of a dog!"
 "Mor Dieu! Name of a pig!"
 "Wow (or words to that effect)! Name of a name of a name!"
 Now you begin to expect some doings. While you have not fully understood, you are satisfied that nothing but pistols and knives will wipe out the insults.
 Unfortunately, about this time the jam is untangled and you are allowed to drive away, but the other driver yells after you:
 "Aha! You are a little piece of brown soap!"
 It seems that this expression is the "fighting name" in Paris. Were it not that your cabby owes a duty to you and must convey you to your destination, you know by his facial expression that he would climb down and get that other cabby and muss up the city with him.
 He contents himself with turning about and making a face in the direction of his enemy and of going through the motion of spitting at him. Then he says "Yoop!" to the horse and the war is over.

The Same Family.
 An official of the Department of Commerce and Labor, who had been directed by his chief to draw up a summary of the conclusions of certain distinguished authorities on engineering, met with disaster not long ago, when he had occasion to refer to certain statements of Mr. A. R. Colquhoun, the British engineer.
 The official had been told that after Mr. Colquhoun's name there should be placed the letters "M. I. C. E." (Member of the Institute of Civil Engineers). "That's easy to remember, the official had said, adopting an easy system of mnemonics. "M. I. C. E." spells "mice."
 This memory system was of little avail, however, for when the official handed in his summary, the letters after Mr. Colquhoun's name were "R. A. T. S."

Miss or Mr.?
 "Fighting Bob" Evans, during his last stay in Washington, was one evening a guest at a house where he met a number of the younger set of the Capital.
 As the admiral was leaving, he chanced to pick up from the floor a very dainty handkerchief, edged with lace. He was gravely inspecting this "trifle light as air," when a rather effeminate-looking young man hastened forward to claim it.
 "Your sister's, no doubt," said the admiral as he handed it over.
 "Oh, no," said the young man; "it's mine."
 Evans scrutinized the young man closely. "Would you mind telling me what size hairpins you use?" he asked after a pause.

The Very First One.
 The visitors in the historical museum gazed curiously at a small feather pillow which nestled in a glass case.
 "I don't see anything unusual about that pillow," remarked one of the visitors, turning to the guide.
 "It's a very valuable pillow," replied the guide. "That is Washington's original headquarters."

THE SILVER LINING.
 "I'm going away and I don't think I'll ever come back."
 "Wot, never?"
 "No, never."
 "Lend me thirty cents, then."
 She Was Wise.
 "Miss Fish," remarked the young man, as he placed his hat on his head and prepared to depart for home. "I proposed for your hand two hours ago, and I await your answer with bated breath."
 "Mr. Smallchange" smiled the young lady, "I'm afraid you will have to bait your breath with something besides onions and cloves to catch this kind of a fish."
 The Consultation.
 First Doctor—This is a most mysterious case. I can't make anything out of it.
 Second Doctor—Wasn't the patient any money?

Grateful Rejected One.
 "I am truly sorry to give you pain, Mr. Hankinson," said the young lady, "but please do not allude to this subject again. I can never be your wife."
 "That is your final answer, Miss Irene?"
 "It is."
 "Nothing can induce you to change your decision?"
 "My mind is finally and unalterably made up."
 "Miss Irene," said the young man, rising and looking about for his hat, "before coming here this evening I made a bet of five pounds with Van Perkins that you would say 'No' to my proposal. I have won. It was taking a risk but I was dead broke, Miss Irene," he continued, his voice quivering with emotion, "you have saved a despairing man from the fate of a suicide, and won the life-long respect and esteem of a grateful heart. Good evening."
 The Higher Life.
 "Why don't you go to work instead of begging and boozing?"
 "I will, boss, as soon as there is an opening in my trade. An' I ain't got long to wait now, nuther."
 "What is your trade?"
 "I'm a track walker for aeroplane lines."

THE TAXI PARLEYVOO.
 What Parisian Cabbies Say to Each Other in a Jam.
 There is no more entertaining way to spend an idle hour in Paris than to get into a taxicab and instruct the driver to go along some street where you will be reasonably sure to get into a jam or to bump against another cab. The charm of the experience is of course enhanced by your ignorance of what the cabbies say.
 Should your driver merely graze the wheels of another cab he will turn on his seat and yell mellifluously at the other driver, who in turn will shout back an assortment of vowels. But the best is a quarrel between two cabbies obstructing each other's way. The conversation, translated as nearly literally as is safe, goes in this wise:
 "Sacred name! Why do you?"
 "Holy nine! I do not!"
 "Stomach on the ground! You have the face of an ox!"
 "Blue stomach! Are you in chains?"
 "A bas! Name of a dog!"
 "Mor Dieu! Name of a pig!"
 "Wow (or words to that effect)! Name of a name of a name!"
 Now you begin to expect some doings. While you have not fully understood, you are satisfied that nothing but pistols and knives will wipe out the insults.
 Unfortunately, about this time the jam is untangled and you are allowed to drive away, but the other driver yells after you:
 "Aha! You are a little piece of brown soap!"
 It seems that this expression is the "fighting name" in Paris. Were it not that your cabby owes a duty to you and must convey you to your destination, you know by his facial expression that he would climb down and get that other cabby and muss up the city with him.
 He contents himself with turning about and making a face in the direction of his enemy and of going through the motion of spitting at him. Then he says "Yoop!" to the horse and the war is over.

THE TAXI PARLEYVOO.
 What Parisian Cabbies Say to Each Other in a Jam.
 There is no more entertaining way to spend an idle hour in Paris than to get into a taxicab and instruct the driver to go along some street where you will be reasonably sure to get into a jam or to bump against another cab. The charm of the experience is of course enhanced by your ignorance of what the cabbies say.
 Should your driver merely graze the wheels of another cab he will turn on his seat and yell mellifluously at the other driver, who in turn will shout back an assortment of vowels. But the best is a quarrel between two cabbies obstructing each other's way. The conversation, translated as nearly literally as is safe, goes in this wise:
 "Sacred name! Why do you?"
 "Holy nine! I do not!"
 "Stomach on the ground! You have the face of an ox!"
 "Blue stomach! Are you in chains?"
 "A bas! Name of a dog!"
 "Mor Dieu! Name of a pig!"
 "Wow (or words to that effect)! Name of a name of a name!"
 Now you begin to expect some doings. While you have not fully understood, you are satisfied that nothing but pistols and knives will wipe out the insults.
 Unfortunately, about this time the jam is untangled and you are allowed to drive away, but the other driver yells after you:
 "Aha! You are a little piece of brown soap!"
 It seems that this expression is the "fighting name" in Paris. Were it not that your cabby owes a duty to you and must convey you to your destination, you know by his facial expression that he would climb down and get that other cabby and muss up the city with him.
 He contents himself with turning about and making a face in the direction of his enemy and of going through the motion of spitting at him. Then he says "Yoop!" to the horse and the war is over.

THE TAXI PARLEYVOO.
 What Parisian Cabbies Say to Each Other in a Jam.
 There is no more entertaining way to spend an idle hour in Paris than to get into a taxicab and instruct the driver to go along some street where you will be reasonably sure to get into a jam or to bump against another cab. The charm of the experience is of course enhanced by your ignorance of what the cabbies say.
 Should your driver merely graze the wheels of another cab he will turn on his seat and yell mellifluously at the other driver, who in turn will shout back an assortment of vowels. But the best is a quarrel between two cabbies obstructing each other's way. The conversation, translated as nearly literally as is safe, goes in this wise:
 "Sacred name! Why do you?"
 "Holy nine! I do not!"
 "Stomach on the ground! You have the face of an ox!"
 "Blue stomach! Are you in chains?"
 "A bas! Name of a dog!"
 "Mor Dieu! Name of a pig!"
 "Wow (or words to that effect)! Name of a name of a name!"
 Now you begin to expect some doings. While you have not fully understood, you are satisfied that nothing but pistols and knives will wipe out the insults.
 Unfortunately, about this time the jam is untangled and you are allowed to drive away, but the other driver yells after you:
 "Aha! You are a little piece of brown soap!"
 It seems that this expression is the "fighting name" in Paris. Were it not that your cabby owes a duty to you and must convey you to your destination, you know by his facial expression that he would climb down and get that other cabby and muss up the city with him.
 He contents himself with turning about and making a face in the direction of his enemy and of going through the motion of spitting at him. Then he says "Yoop!" to the horse and the war is over.

ODD INDIAN NAMES.
 Some Samples Revealed by a List of Crow Heirs.
 One of the most remarkable realty sales in the history of the country was advertised in Billingsgate, Mont.—that of lands inherited by Indians within the Crow reservation. Existing laws provide for the sale, and an advertisement in a Billings paper, placed under instructions from the Interior Department, contains a remarkable collection of Indian nomenclature. Light Colored Man leads the list, and he has eighty acres to his credit, his heirs being Martha Lightman and Bad Baby. Other allotments range from 26 to 640 acres, and the Indians concerned are as follows, the deceased Indian's name being given first and those of the heirs following:
 Back of the Ear—Grandmother's Knife. Evidently Back of the Ear was a rich buck, for his estate has 320 acres to his credit, with only one heir.
 Bird Neck—Robert Spotted Arm, Bull Insight, Old Dog, Strikes Back of the Head, Dirty Foot and Finds All.
 Bird Head—Shows Going. Bird Head was one of the richest Indians on the reservation, as 640 acres are advertised as his holdings.
 Rock—Luke Rock and Mary U. Rock, Stands on Top, Charles Yarlot and Peter Stands on Top.
 The Twins—Medicine Porcupine and Bull That Shows.
 Ties Knot on Top of Head—Josh Buffalo.
 Knot Between Eyes—Bird Above. Black Woman—Big Ox.
 Gets Down First—Walks With Wolf, Comes to See Buffalo and Cut. Plenty Red Plume—Cut, Walks With Wolf and Comes to See Buffalo. Brings Pretty Horses—People That Shows.
 Strikes the Top—Comes to See the Buffalo.
 Stays With Her Medicine Rock—Charles Record and Olive Record. Bear Goes to Take Hold—The Eagle.
 Big Woman—Gets One Horn and Plain Face.
 Point of Shoulder Blade—Charles Record and Olive Record.
 Sits With Alligator—Bank.
 Mollie Two Belly—Two Belly.
 Spotted Arrow—Takes a Gun.
 Plenty Butterfly—Two Horses.
 Slow Rabbit—Big Medicine and Strikes One That Kills.
 White Tail—Takes a Gun.
 Medicine Horse—Hears Fire, Kills Close to Camp and Martha Long Neck.
 Deaf Hears Fire—Kills Close to Camp, Martha Long Neck and Old Lodge Pole.
 Surrounds the Enemy—The Apache.

Spain to Restore Forests.
 Spain needs trees and proposes, if suggestions are executed, to grow forests of pulpwood and other quick-growing specimens of forest timber. Spain is as large as Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Virginia, and North Carolina, but its forests have but one-fourth the extent of West Virginia alone, and much of these are only scrub thickets of poor kind.
 The country's population is thought not to exceed one-third of what it once was and could be again. Much of the denuded land is absolutely barren, with a red rock land bare where agriculture once flourished. Hills whose rounded forms indicate they once supported forests are bald and dry now and without inhabitants.
 In some localities peasants with hammers pulverize rocks and make little patches of soil for gardens. At present, the most valuable forests product is cork, the annual output being 30,000 tons. The cork forests are going the way of all other Spanish forests, and for the same reason, want of care.
 Foresters declare there is no reason for Spain not being able to do what her next door neighbor, France, has done, cover her barren places with groves and thus restore the soil, abate floods, mitigate droughts, provide employment for many and furnish raw materials for factories.

Spain to Restore Forests.
 Spain needs trees and proposes, if suggestions are executed, to grow forests of pulpwood and other quick-growing specimens of forest timber. Spain is as large as Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Virginia, and North Carolina, but its forests have but one-fourth the extent of West Virginia alone, and much of these are only scrub thickets of poor kind.
 The country's population is thought not to exceed one-third of what it once was and could be again. Much of the denuded land is absolutely barren, with a red rock land bare where agriculture once flourished. Hills whose rounded forms indicate they once supported forests are bald and dry now and without inhabitants.
 In some localities peasants with hammers pulverize rocks and make little patches of soil for gardens. At present, the most valuable forests product is cork, the annual output being 30,000 tons. The cork forests are going the way of all other Spanish forests, and for the same reason, want of care.
 Foresters declare there is no reason for Spain not being able to do what her next door neighbor, France, has done, cover her barren places with groves and thus restore the soil, abate floods, mitigate droughts, provide employment for many and furnish raw materials for factories.

Spain to Restore Forests.
 Spain needs trees and proposes, if suggestions are executed, to grow forests of pulpwood and other quick-growing specimens of forest timber. Spain is as large as Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Virginia, and North Carolina, but its forests have but one-fourth the extent of West Virginia alone, and much of these are only scrub thickets of poor kind.
 The country's population is thought not to exceed one-third of what it once was and could be again. Much of the denuded land is absolutely barren, with a red rock land bare where agriculture once flourished. Hills whose rounded forms indicate they once supported forests are bald and dry now and without inhabitants.
 In some localities peasants with hammers pulverize rocks and make little patches of soil for gardens. At present, the most valuable forests product is cork, the annual output being 30,000 tons. The cork forests are going the way of all other Spanish forests, and for the same reason, want of care.
 Foresters declare there is no reason for Spain not being able to do what her next door neighbor, France, has done, cover her barren places with groves and thus restore the soil, abate floods, mitigate droughts, provide employment for many and furnish raw materials for factories.

Spain to Restore Forests.
 Spain needs trees and proposes, if suggestions are executed, to grow forests of pulpwood and other quick-growing specimens of forest timber. Spain is as large as Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Virginia, and North Carolina, but its forests have but one-fourth the extent of West Virginia alone, and much of these are only scrub thickets of poor kind.
 The country's population is thought not to exceed one-third of what it once was and could be again. Much of the denuded land is absolutely barren, with a red rock land bare where agriculture once flourished. Hills whose rounded forms indicate they once supported forests are bald and dry now and without inhabitants.
 In some localities peasants with hammers pulverize rocks and make little patches of soil for gardens. At present, the most valuable forests product is cork, the annual output being 30,000 tons. The cork forests are going the way of all other Spanish forests, and for the same reason, want of care.
 Foresters declare there is no reason for Spain not being able to do what her next door neighbor, France, has done, cover her barren places with groves and thus restore the soil, abate floods, mitigate droughts, provide employment for many and furnish raw materials for factories.

Spain to Restore Forests.
 Spain needs trees and proposes, if suggestions are executed, to grow forests of pulpwood and other quick-growing specimens of forest timber. Spain is as large as Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Virginia, and North Carolina, but its forests have but one-fourth the extent of West Virginia alone, and much of these are only scrub thickets of poor kind.
 The country's population is thought not to exceed one-third of what it once was and could be again. Much of the denuded land is absolutely barren, with a red rock land bare where agriculture once flourished. Hills whose rounded forms indicate they once supported forests are bald and dry now and without inhabitants.
 In some localities peasants with hammers pulverize rocks and make little patches of soil for gardens. At present, the most valuable forests product is cork, the annual output being 30,000 tons. The cork forests are going the way of all other Spanish forests, and for the same reason, want of care.
 Foresters declare there is no reason for Spain not being able to do what her next door neighbor, France, has done, cover her barren places with groves and thus restore the soil, abate floods, mitigate droughts, provide employment for many and furnish raw materials for factories.

Spain to Restore Forests.
 Spain needs trees and proposes, if suggestions are executed, to grow forests of pulpwood and other quick-growing specimens of forest timber. Spain is as large as Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Virginia, and North Carolina, but its forests have but one-fourth the extent of West Virginia alone, and much of these are only scrub thickets of poor kind.
 The country's population is thought not to exceed one-third of what it once was and could be again. Much of the denuded land is absolutely barren, with a red rock land bare where agriculture once flourished. Hills whose rounded forms indicate they once supported forests are bald and dry now and without inhabitants.
 In some localities peasants with hammers pulverize rocks and make little patches of soil for gardens. At present, the most valuable forests product is cork, the annual output being 30,000 tons. The cork forests are going the way of all other Spanish forests, and for the same reason, want of care.
 Foresters declare there is no reason for Spain not being able to do what her next door neighbor, France, has done, cover her barren places with groves and thus restore the soil, abate floods, mitigate droughts, provide employment for many and furnish raw materials for factories.

Spain to Restore Forests.
 Spain needs trees and proposes, if suggestions are executed, to grow forests of pulpwood and other quick-growing specimens of forest timber. Spain is as large as Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Virginia, and North Carolina, but its forests have but one-fourth the extent of West Virginia alone, and much of these are only scrub thickets of poor kind.
 The country's population is thought not to exceed one-third of what it once was and could be again. Much of the denuded land is absolutely barren, with a red rock land bare where agriculture once flourished. Hills whose rounded forms indicate they once supported forests are bald and dry now and without inhabitants.
 In some localities peasants with hammers pulverize rocks and make little patches of soil for gardens. At present, the most valuable forests product is cork, the annual output being 30,000 tons. The cork forests are going the way of all other Spanish forests, and for the same reason, want of care.
 Foresters declare there is no reason for Spain not being able to do what her next door neighbor, France, has done, cover her barren places with groves and thus restore the soil, abate floods, mitigate droughts, provide employment for many and furnish raw materials for factories.

Spain to Restore Forests.
 Spain needs trees and proposes, if suggestions are executed, to grow forests of pulpwood and other quick-growing specimens of forest timber. Spain is as large as Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia, Virginia, and North Carolina, but its forests have but one-fourth the extent of West Virginia alone, and much of these are only scrub thickets of poor kind.
 The country's population is thought not to exceed one-third of what it once was and could be again. Much of the denuded land is absolutely barren, with a red rock land bare where agriculture once flourished. Hills whose rounded forms indicate they once supported forests are bald and dry now and without inhabitants.
 In some localities peasants with hammers pulverize rocks and make little patches of soil for gardens. At present, the most valuable forests product is cork, the annual output being 30,000 tons. The cork forests are going the way of all other Spanish forests, and for the same reason, want of care.
 Foresters declare there is no reason for Spain not being able to do what her next door neighbor, France, has done, cover her barren places with groves and thus restore the soil, abate floods, mitigate droughts, provide employment for many and furnish raw materials for factories.

A Dire Threat.
 It is well known that certain vagabonds desire nothing better, especially when the cold weather comes on, than to be arrested and locked up, in order that they may be taken care of for a while. One of this fraternity succeeded in getting himself arrested for vagrancy, and on the way to the lockup he was so much overjoyed by the prospect of not having to sleep in the open air that he behaved somewhat boisterously.
 "Keep quiet!" threatened the policeman; "if you don't, I'll let you go!"

COURT PROCLAMATION.—Whereas, by the Judge of the several Courts of the County of Wayne has issued his process for holding a Court of Quarter Sessions, Over and Terminer, and General Jail Delivery in and for said county, at the Court House, to begin on MONDAY, JUNE 11, 1900,
 and to continue one week;
 And directing that a Grand Jury for the County of Quarter Sessions and Over and Terminer be summoned to meet on Monday, June 11, 1900, at 2 p. m.;
 Notice is therefore hereby given to the Coroner and Justices of the Peace, and Constables of the County of Wayne, that they be then and there in their proper persons, at said Court House, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said 11th day of June, 1900, with their records, inquisitions, examinations and other remembrances, to do those things which to their offices appertain to be done, and those who are bound by recognizance or otherwise to prosecute the prisoners who are or shall be in the Jail of Wayne County, be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just.
 Given under my hand, at Honesdale, this 10th day of May, 1900, and in the 134th year of the Independence of the United States,
 M. LEE BRAMAN, Sheriff.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.—Notice is hereby given that the partnership existing between C. M. Metz, of Honesdale, and T. L. Medland, of Carbondale, under the firm name of Metz & Medland, said firm being manufacturers of custom harness and dealers in horse furnishings, trunks, traveling bags, etc., is dissolved this 12th day of May, 1900. All bills due the firm are to be paid at the Carbondale store, and all bills against the firm are to be presented at the same place.
 C. M. METZ,
 T. L. MEDLAND,
 Carbondale, Pa., May 12, 1900.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF CLINTON, COUNTY OF WAYNE, PA.
 In the Court of Quarter Sessions of said county.
 No. 13 March Sessions 1900.
 In the matter of the petition for the erection of a new election district in said township—viz:
 BEGINNING at a stone post corner where the counties of Susquehanna, Lackawanna and Wayne join; thence north along the Susquehanna line to the Mt. Pleasant township line; thence east along the south line of Mt. Pleasant township to the northeast line of the Milo Gaylord estate farm; thence south to the southeast corner of Milton Little farm; thence westerly to the stone post corner where the counties of Susquehanna, Lackawanna and Wayne join.
 NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the undersigned, Commissioners appointed by said Court to inquire into the propriety of granting the prayer of said petition, will commence their duties on TUESDAY, JUNE 8, 1900, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the hotel of H. T. O'Neil, in the village of Broadside, in said township.
 ISAAC B. SANDERCOCK,
 J. H. LEDYARD,
 W. E. PERHAM,
 Commissioners.
 May 23, 1900.

ROLL of HONOR
 Attention is called to the STRENGTH of the

Wayne County SAVINGS BANK
 The FINANCIER of New York City has published a ROLL OF HONOR of the 11,470 State Banks and Trust Companies of United States. In this list the WAYNE COUNTY SAVINGS BANK

Stands 38th in the United States.
 Stands 10th in Pennsylvania.
 Stands FIRST in Wayne County.
 Capital, Surplus, $455,000.00
 Total ASSETS, $2,733,000.00
 Honesdale, Pa., May 29, 1900.

SALE
 —OF—
BAMBOO SHIRT WAIST BOXES
 —AT—

BROWN'S
 Was $10, now $7.
 Was $9, now $6.
 Was $8, now $5.
 Was $4, now $2.50

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.
Attorneys-at-Law.
 H. WILSON,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Office, Masonic building, second floor Honesdale, Pa.
 W. M. H. LEE,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Office over post office. All legal business promptly attended to. Honesdale, Pa.
 E. C. MUMFORD,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Office—Liberty Hall building, opposite the Post Office, Honesdale, Pa.
 HOMER GREENE,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Office over Reiff's store, Honesdale Pa.
 A. T. SEARLE,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Office near Court House Honesdale, Pa.
 O. L. ROWLAND,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Office over Post Office, Honesdale, Pa.
 CHARLES A. McCARTY,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Special and prompt attention given to the collection of claims. Office over Reiff's store, Honesdale, Pa.
 F. P. KIMBLE,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Office over the post office Honesdale, Pa.
 M. E. SIMONS,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Office in the Court House, Honesdale, Pa.
 HERMAN HARMES,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Patents and pensions secured. Office in the Scherzholz building Honesdale, Pa.
 PETER H. ILOFF,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Office—Second floor old Savings Bank building, Honesdale, Pa.
 R. M. SALMON,
 ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR-AT-LAW.
 Office—Next door to post office. Formerly occupied by W. H. Diminick, Honesdale, Pa.

Dentists.
 DR. E. T. BROWN,
 DENTIST.
 Office—First floor, old Savings Bank building, Honesdale, Pa.
Physicians.
 DR. H. B. SEARLES,
 HONESDALE, PA.
 Office and residence 116 Church street. Telephones. Office Hours—2:30 to 4:30 and 7:00 to 8:00 p. m.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.—By virtue of process issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Wayne county, and State of Pennsylvania, and to me directed and returned, I have levied on and will expose to public sale, at the Court House in Honesdale, on THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1900, at 2 p. m., the following described property—viz:
 All of defendant's right, title and interest in the following described property—viz:
 All those two certain lots of land situate in the township of Drenon, county of Wayne, State of Pennsylvania, as follows:
 First lot.—BEGINNING at a stone corner on the line between the township of Drenon and Lehigh, and line of land of Wallace estate and center of public road leading from Angels to Goldsboro; thence by said Wallace land south five degrees east eighty-four rods to a stone corner; thence by same north five degrees west one hundred rods to middle of said road; thence about middle of said road and land of Gertrude M. Dobson to place of beginning. CONTAINING twenty-three acres, more or less. Being same land which John P. Gearhart, et al., by deed dated Aug. 7, 1901, recorded in Wayne county, granted to Gertrude M. Dobson, by deed dated May 25, 1902, and intended to be recorded, granted to George Siffers.
 Second lot.—BEGINNING at the center post of the one hundred acre tract of land at Wolf's land; thence along said Wolf line eighteen degrees east twenty-nine rods to center of the North and South turnpike; thence along center of said turnpike seventy-three degrees to line of Wolf's land; thence along said Wolf's land south eight degrees west one hundred rods to center of Burke road; thence along center of Burke road one hundred and ten rods to center of the said east one hundred rods to the place of beginning. CONTAINING forty-nine acres and eight perches. Being same land which John P. Gearhart, et al., by deed dated Aug. 7, 1901, recorded in Wayne county, in Deed Book 35, page 496, granted to George Siffers, and taken in execution of same judgment of George Siffers at the suit of Benjamin Brink, use, No. 31 March term, 1900. Judgment, $100.
 Kintle, Attorney.

All of defendant's right, title and interest in the following described property—viz:
 All those two lots, pieces or parcels of land situate in Putaupack township, county of Wayne and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to-wit: One piece thereof BEGINNING at a stone corner on the corner of the lot, corner of land formerly owned by Harry Parly; thence by lands of Henry Hadden north one hundred and three rods to a corner; thence by same north three rods to a corner; thence by same north sixty-nine and one-half degrees west fifty-four and one-half rods; north thirty degrees west thirty-one rods to the center of the said Parly lands; and thence along said line north fifty and one-half degrees east eighty-eight rods to the place of beginning. CONTAINING twenty-three acres and thirty-eight perches of land, be the same more or less.
 The other piece or parcel of land thereof BEGINNING at a stone corner, also corner of the foregoing lot; thence by said lot north one hundred and three rods to a stone corner; thence by lands of Charles Ut north fifty-two degrees east fifty rods to a stone corner; thence by Selser lot south twenty-eight degrees west one hundred and one rod and one-fourth degree east forty-eight rods, south forty-five degrees west one hundred and fifteen rods to the lands of one Richstein; thence along said line north about fifty-eight degrees west twenty-two rods to stake and stones corner between the dug run of the old mill and the natural channel of the Purty mill brook