LOCAL NEWS.

—About fifty homing pigeons sent by George W. Heath, of 232 Second street, Newark, N. J., to Express Agent Frank Westfall, of this place, were liberated near the express office, corner of Main and 10th streets, at 8:30 o'clock on Friday morning. The crowd of people present to witness the beginning of the homeward flight, and expecting the birds to rise to a great height before taking their bearings, were considerably surprised to find that almost immediately after being freed they sailed off in a westerly direction over the Union depot and within three minutes were invisible to the naked eye.

—Judge Staples, of Monroe county, presiding in a Lackawanna court in Scranton last week, had before him eight Carbondale lads charged with robbery. In disposing of their cases the Judge adopted the probation system of Judge Lindsay of Colorado, and his talk to the boys may well be pondered by some of the wayward youths of Wayne. He took the oldest four first and asked them if they smoked cigarettes. They all replied that they did and the Judge asked one of the boys if he would not stop the habit. "Can't cut 'em out; there's no use trying," replied the lad. "Can't cut them out," said the court. "Suppose I send you to a place where you can't get them?" The boy let his head drop and Judge Staples said: "Sure you can stop if you want to. Don't dare to look me in the face and say you haven't enough manhood to stop if you want to. If you don't want to, that's different, but I wouldn't give a cent for a boy that would tell me he could not stop a bad habit. You've got to stop. If you don't, I'll send you to the reformatory. I guess I'll put your case over till this afternoon to see what's best to be done with you." Judge Staples then addressed each boy in turn and grilled them hard on their knowledge of the ten commandments and common school arithmetic. After he had the eight satisfied that they were started for the gallows and the sniffling and the sobbing had drowned the voices of the court, Judge Staples said he would give them all another chance provided they smoked no more cigarettes and were home at dark every night. He instructed a police officer to keep special watch on the boys and had copies of the order sent to their parents. Before dismissing the boys, the court shook hands with them all.

—The Valley of the Wallenpaupack, the picturesque stream which divides Wayne and Pike counties, is, according to the Milford Dispatch, to take a long stride forward in the very near future, as the result of an improvement which will be made by the Hon. John D. Houck, of LaAnna, former Associate Judge and Representative of Pike county. The old saw mill at LaAnna, which is one of the landmarks, and for many years furnished employment for a large number of men, is to be torn down and in its place will be installed a dynamo to generate electrical current of sufficient voltage to furnish light to the resort houses and private families scattered along the road from LaAnna to Newfoundland. Thus at exceedingly small cost the citizens of that bustling region will be furnished with one of the most desirable of all the conveniences of the larger towns. Mr. Houck is now building Beechnut Cottage, located just below the historic mill dam. The modern improvements which make ideal the summer life of the city visitors will be installed, including hot and cold water on all the floors. The cottage will have one hundred feet of veranda space. The water at this, as at many of the neighboring resorts, comes from a never failing spring, the source of which is at a greater altitude than the house, avoiding all of the difficulties of pumping.

—The case against W. F. Brown, of Carbondale, formerly of Cherry Ridge and Honesdale, indicted on the charge of assisting Dr. C. W. Treverton perform a criminal operation on his cousin, Miss Helen Brown, of Tioga, which was to have been tried last week, has been continued to the fall term of the Lackawanna county courts.

—B. A. Kelly, of Carbondale, formerly a resident of Honesdale, has been selected as one of the official representatives or visitors of the State Board of Public Charities for Lackawanna county. The State Board of Public Charities has full power at all times to look into and examine the conditions of all charitable, reformatory and correctional institutions within the State, financially and otherwise; to inquire and examine into their methods of instruction, the government and management of their inmates, the official conduct of trustees, directors and other officers and employees of the same; the condition of the buildings, grounds and other property connected therewith and into all other matters pertaining to their usefulness and good management.

—A distressing accident which resulted in the death of Calvin Tyce, a track hand, occurred on the Erie railroad near the West Hawley station about noon on Friday last. The unfortunate man was walking through the railroad yard in the pursuit of his duties and observing an engine approaching, stepped over on another track just as another shifting engine was passing in the opposite direction. He was struck by the pilot of the engine and dragged along the track for a considerable distance, and when railroad men reached him they found that both legs were cut off below the knees, and he was badly crushed about the head and body. He was placed aboard the 1:20 afternoon train to be taken to the State hospital in Scranton, but before the train reached Dunmore he died. The body was sent to the home in Hawley Friday evening. Mr. Tyce was sixty years of age and is survived by his wife and six children.

—Richard Tegeler, of Milanville, who has been employed in the creamery at Callicoon, boarded a freight train about 3:00 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon of last week, to go to Cochecon. While alighting from the train at that place he slipped and fell between the cars, the train passing over his leg just below the knee. The unfortunate young man was taken to the office of Dr. Apply, where it was found necessary to amputate the limb.

—The National Bank of Callicoon has been organized in that place, with a capital stock of $25,000, which was issued only to local people. It was opened for business yesterday, June 1st, in the building occupied by Knapp Brothers' bank, which failed a few weeks ago. The following are the officers and directors: President, Anthony Many; Vice President, Charles Thorwelle; Cashier, Walter L. Dodge; Directors, Edward Kennedy, Anthony Many, Fred S. Hessler, Wm. J. Gebhardt, James Hall, Valentine Schudell, Horace Inderleed, Clinne Mitchell, Charles C. Kutz, Chas. A. Thorwelle and Frank S. Anderson.

—John Barbuoto, an Italian, who was indicted for the murder of a fellow countryman near the city of Middletown, N. Y., on the night of January 19th, a full account of which crime was given in our last issue, was found guilty of murder in the first degree at the Court House, Newburgh, Wednesday afternoon last, before Justice Morschauer, and was sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison during the week beginning July 5th. The jury were out about an hour, returning to the court room with the verdict at 12:40 P. M. It is said only one ballot was taken. The judge at once pronounced sentence. Barbuoto was taken the same afternoon to Sing Sing prison and immediately placed in the death house with the other condemned prisoners.

—The Scranton papers, in noticing the fact that Samuel Katz has closed down his underwear factory, established a few months ago in the Liberty Hall building, in consequence of inability to secure requisite help, fell into the error of confounding his enterprise with the older and very important industry founded by Katz Brothers—of which he was an original member—many years ago. The original concern was never more prosperous or busy than at present, as may be inferred from the fact that the firm is making arrangements for the erection of new buildings, and the installation of machinery calculated to double its output.

REPUBLICANS:—Attend primaries on Saturday, June 5th, and vote for Wm. C. Ames and Charles T. Smith, delegates to State Convention. ADV.

—The first estimates of the damage to the new school building by the recent fire were, as is generally the case, too high; some placing it at $15,000 and others as high as $20,000. Fortunately, whatever the loss might prove to be, it was sure to be amply covered by insurance, so that outside of the delay occasioned by the sudden interruption to the work, which was rapidly approaching completion, our taxpayers had little or no occasion to worry over the financial aspect of the disaster. The adjusters of the various companies interested met in Honesdale on Thursday last, and came to a satisfactory arrangement with the school board as to their liability. The aggregate amount awarded was $8,300, which, divided among a number of agencies, made their individual losses inconsiderable.

—During the last January term of court District Attorney Herman Harnes was placed under arrest at the instance of Horace E. Williams, on a charge of having written a letter to the latter warning him that his conduct toward his wife and family had attracted public attention and would result in legal proceedings if persisted in. Mr. Harnes gave the necessary recognizance for his appearance at court, and promptly published in the local papers the full text of the letter complained of. He engaged as his attorneys United States District Attorney A. T. Searle and Hon. F. P. Kimble, and was waiting patiently for whatever the law might have in store, as a punishment for his well-meant effort to restore peace in one of our town families, when, much to his surprise, and without any notification to himself, he learned a few days ago that the prosecutor had withdrawn his complaint and discontinued any further proceedings in the case. Now, it is understood, that Mr. Harnes, who was placed under arrest by officers from another county, and in a summary and disagreeable way, is leaving it to his lawyers to say whether or not it is his duty to bring suit for malicious prosecution.

—Arno, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell VanKeuren, of 1118 Court street, had the misfortune to fall from a wagon in which he was playing with other children, at Smith's carriage painting shop, on Church street, on Friday afternoon last, and sustain a fracture of his left arm.

—William Schloss will represent Oslek Tribe, of the Improved Order of Red Men, of this borough, at the sixtieth anniversary of the Great Council of Pennsylvania, to be held at Harrisburg, June 8th, 9th and 10th, 1909. The public exercises will be held in the Board of Trade Building, Harrisburg, at half past nine on Tuesday the 8th, after which the council fire will be kindled. On Wednesday the grand demonstration and parade will take place, in which the members of the Great Council are expected to participate, under the control of the Great Mishneva. On Thursday, the 10th, the Great Chiefs elect, and the appointed Great Chiefs will be installed in public. A number of horses have been stolen in that vicinity of late. Mr. Kearney has been in pursuit of the thief for over a week. The last seen of the outfit was on May 20th, near Cochecon, and it was then on its way to Milanville. The horse weighs 1,150 pounds, is six years old, bay color, with white spot on back, and black mane. Forty dollars reward is offered for the return of the rig, and no questions asked.

—Frank Egan, of Carbondale, Thos. Kelly, of Wyoming, and Patrick Thomash, of Pittston, who were arrested several weeks ago, on the charge of vagrancy, and sentenced to work a month on the streets of Honesdale, were released on Friday. The men worked faithfully under Street Commissioner Weidner, but on Thursday begged to be released, claiming that they could secure employment in the vicinity of Scranton.

—Honesdale people should see that the limbs of their shade trees do not touch the electric light wires. Many trees are showing the effect of coming in contact with insulated wires, insulation, being destroyed to such an extent that the current is communicated to the tree, invariably killing it. An ounce of prevention is needed in this case, because a cure is unknown after the electric fluid has once done its work. Electricity works very quickly, and will have to be quick to beat it.

—The large government cannons in front of the court house have been repaired by Edward Cook.
